Vol. 58—No. 55 STROUDSBURG—EAST STROUDSBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JUNE 5, 1951 FIVE CENTS

MOMENTARY HAPPINESS—Cancer-doomed Betty Thompson, 18, is carried by her sailor fiance, Tom Amburn, 19, from a hospital in Atlanta, Ga. The bluejacket was granted special leave by the Navy to visit Betty, whose disease was not halted after amputation of her right leg. Wedding plans were postponed when Amburn's leave was cancelled because he went on to South Dakota to visit his mother who became ill when advised of his plans to wed Betty.

Amburn, Suffering Case Of Nerves, Enters Hospital; Wedding Plans Postponed

Norfolk, Va., (AP)—A heartsick sailor, confused by the misfiring of his plans to wed an incurably ill cancer victim, was admitted to a naval hospital for treatment yesterday.

He was put to bed at the air station dispensary on his return from emergency leave. The Navy declined to comment on his condition other than to call it "a case of nerves."

The sailor, Thomas E. Amburn, 19, of Sioux Falls, S. D., had been given a 30-day leave last week to go to the bedside of the girl physicians give only four months to live —18-year-old Betty Thompson of Atlanta, Ga.

Tom saw Betty at Atlanta. Then he flew to Sioux Falls, to clear things with his parents. And the Navy cancelled his leave. This was done, the Navy said, because Amburn went to Sioux Falls after giving East Point, Ga., as his emergency address.

On his way back to the naval station Sunday night the sailor said during a stopover at Omaha, Neb., that plans for the wedding had been postponed indefinitely.

In Atlanta, Miss Thompson's family said she was calm about developments and still has her chin up.

She has lost a leg due to cancer. Now it has attacked a lung.

Two Slayings Close Mines

Logan, W. Va. (AP)—An estimated 3,600 men stayed out of work yesterday as the aftermath of a dispute among United Mine Workers in which two were killed and another wounded.

The men had voted Sunday to work, but changed their minds without explanation after showing up early yesterday. They all are employed by the Island Creek Coal Co.

The dispute was over coal hauling by an employe, Elmer Farley, 38, on his days off.

Farley, who is charged with murder, told Prosecutor Chauncey Browning he shot three men Saturday in self-defense when they approached him while he was loading coal.

Charles Wells, 45-year-old local union president, and Robert Whorley, 40, were killed. Major Thompson, 28, is in a hospital with an abdominal wound.

Farley is being held in the nearby Cabell county jail "for several days because it seems like a good idea," the police authorities said.

Sicily Gives Bare Majority To DeGasperi

Palermo, Sicily (AP) — Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrat party appeared early today to have squeezed out a hairline victory over a Communist-Socialist bloc in Sicily's stormy regional assembly election.

An unofficial tabulation reported by the Ministry of Interior's board of election from all the island's 3,827 precincts showed:

Christian Democrats, 668,12.

Communist-Socialist bloc, 644,-652.

The results were in sharp contrast with town and provincial elections in a third of Italy a week ago, when the Christian Democrats polled 41.1 per cent of the vote to 21.9 per cent for the Communist-Socialist grouping.

The outcome in Sicily was in doubt until almost the very end of tabulations. Most of the way through the 2,189,866 count the Red bloc held the lead. They dominated in small towns and rural areas and were squeezed out only by the showing of the Christian Democrats in the major cities of Palermo, Messina and Catania.

Even so, the Communist alliance had a clear gain over their 1948 general election showing in Sicily, when they polled only 465,-088 to 961,824 for the Christian Democrats.

Civil Defense Fund Requested

Harrisburg (AP) — A bill appropriating $20,000,000 for operation of Pennsylvania's new civil defense organization was introduced in the House yesterday.

The bill, submitted by Rep. Norman Wood (R-Lancaster) would earmark $1,200,000 for administrative purposes and the remainder for reserve contingencies in event of an emergency.

Acheson Denies U. S. Undercut China

Collapse Of Chiang Traced To Ineptness

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson denied yesterday the United States was guilty of "undermining and undercutting" Nationalist China in the Yalta agreement which brought Russia into the war against Japan.

The reason the Chiang Kai-shek government collapsed, he argued, was not the 1945 Yalta agreement but its own "inept political and military leadership."

Acheson told senators in the MacArthur ouster inquiry there never has been any taint of Communist influence in deciding U.S. policy toward China. He said this was true today as well as in the past.

"I do not believe there was or is any Communist influence any way affecting the determination of Chinese policy, either then nor now," he said.

Acheson wound up his third day of testimony at 5:10 p.m. He will return at 10 a.m. today.

In the Yalta agreement in January, 1945, Russia agreed to enter the war against Japan in return for certain concessions in Asia.

Acheson said the agreement was made mainly as a guarantee that Russian troops would engage almost 2,000,000 Japanese troops in Asia andi prevent them from returning to Japan which Gen. Douglas MacArthur was then planning to invade. He said it was supported by Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill, as well as President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Premier Stalin.

Questioned by Senator Morse (R-Ore), Acheson agreed the Japanese on the Asia mainland surrendered to the Russians as a matter of military necessity "even though in hindsight we wish that we had other forces to whom the surrender might have been made."

Morse asked Acheson if he agreed with the implications that because Chiang was not present for that surrender "the United States was therefore guilty of undermining and undercutting an ally?"

Acheson replied: "I do not agree with that version."

Senator Smith (R-NJ) asked if the Yalta agreement didn't play into Russia's hands.

"Wasn't that what Russia was driving it," he said, "to get into it at the eleventh hour, so that she could take part in the peace settlement and get a bite of China?"

Acheson: "I do not think that was the principal point. Our efforts were to get the Russians into the war so that she could occupy the (Japanese) troops on the mainland and not have those troops free to engage in the battle for Japan which was impending."

Smith: "You think that is a justification for our having made a secret agreement that in effect legalized the theft of parts of China and interests in China from the Chinese without their knowing anything about it or without their being represented and keeping it from them until the Russians had moved into Manchuria so that nothing could be done about it very much, even if they had wanted to?"

Acheson: "That was the reason why it was done. Looking at it in the light of what was known at that time, I doubt very much whether anyone in this room would have disagreed with it."

Smith: "I can't help but feel that it would have been very difficult for me to have undercut an ally in that way, and then keep the matter secret from the ally."

Acheson: "If you heard the full military story and the losses that this government was going to take, I think you would have thought differently, Senator Smith."

Acheson said he knows of no Chinese forces—either on Formosa or on the mainland — strong enough to overthrow the Red regime in China.

He declared U. S. policy is based firmly on the principle of "deep interest and friendship for the Chinese people."

Introduce Measure

Harrisburg (AP) — A new bill to extend occupational disease benefits to police and firemen who contract heart disease or tuberculosis while on duty—was introduced in the Senate last night.

Daily Record's Cooking School Ends Wednesday

The last of four free Daily Record cooking school sessions will be held Wednesday in the Sherman Theater, Stroudsburg. Doors will open at 9 a. m. and sessions will start promptly at 9:30.

Scores of fine gifts for the homemaker will be given to those in attendance. In addition, those woh have been faithful in attendance throughout the cooking school series, and who have visited the participating merchants, will be eligible for the grand prizes.

Misses Grace Shankweiler and Katherine Guldin, home economists of the Pennsylvania Power & Light Co., will lecture, demonstrate and cook various foods at the cooking school session.

Admission is free. All expenses are borne by The Daily Record and the participating business places.

OPS To Put Price Lids On 15 Foods

Washington, (AP)— Price Director Michael V. DiSalle announced yesterday that within 30 days he plans to clamp price lids on 15 or 20 food items in a community-by-community program modelled after the wartime OPA.

DiSalle gave no hint as to the items to be controlled.

He outlined his program to the United Labor Policy committee which has been sharply critical of price controls on the ground that they have failed to check inflation.

The government official said prices would have to vary by communities across the country because products could be obtained cheaper in some areas than in others.

That was the way OPA controlled prices during World War Two, instead of having a nation-wide ceiling.

DiSalle told newsmen that ceiling prices on beef will be listed in butcher shops beginning June 18 as the first move in his fight to hold down food costs. He noted that food makes up at least 34 per cent of the family budget in the Federal cost-of-living index.

DiSalle indicated that veal would be another of the meat items to be placed under ceiling lists, but said pork is now selling below parity prices.

Under the 1950 defense production act, farm products are exempt from ceilings if they are selling below parity or below pre-Korean war levels.

Parity is the government's guarantee to farmers that they will receive a fair return on their crops in relation to the prices of goods they buy. The formula changes from month to month as prices rise or fall.

DiSalle told reporters that the cost of living is "pretty close to being stabilized right now."

Costly Blaze Hits Passaic

Passaic, N.J. (AP) — Fire raged out of control for five hours in the heart of downtown Passaic yesterday, gutting a big electrical appliance store and damaging dozens of others.

Fire Lt. Louis Greenberg estimated damage at a "very conservative half a million dollars," but said that heavy smoke damage to the city's best downtown stores would send the cost much higher.

Only a ruined shell was left of the two-story Arrow Electric Co., where the fire started. One of the largest of its kind in the state, the store sold television sets, refrigerators, records and phonographs and hundreds of other appliances.

A thick pall of acrid black smoke hung over this city of 60,000 and drifted over much of a neighboring county.

Bridge Bill Passes

Harrisburg (AP) — The Senate last night passed a bill authorizing the Commonwealth to enter a compact with the state of New Jersey to construct a bridge across the Delaware river for the Pennsylvania turnpike. The measure went to the House.

Allies Beat Off Enemy Counterblows

Tokyo, Tuesday (AP)—Allied forces battled slowly northward along a rain-drenched valley corridor in North Korea yesterday after beating off a furious Chinese counter-attack 10 miles south of the big Communist base of Chorwon.

Three other Communist counterblows were repulsed on the west-central front alone. Lesser blows were countered elsewhere on the 125-mile long battle line.

Allied gains ranged up to two and one-fifth miles — the U. S. Eighth Army communique announced.

United Nations infantrymen, armor and artillery were drilling close to the sensitive nerve center of the main Chinese defense network along the western and central fronts, field dispatches said.

Massed artillery, the most effective U. N. ground weapon, roared in ever-increasing volume but at some points proved ineffective. Chinese entrenched in five-year-old bunkers and concealed by fresh spring foliage had to be dug out by flame-thrower, hand grenade and rifle.

The Communists struck back so fiercely on the central front, northwest of Hwachon, that frontline officers said they believed segments of the main Red Chinese line had been hit.

The Reds counterattacked northwest of Hwachon, at Chail, Yonchon and Yongong—all key points on the west-central and central fronts. They control the approaches to the so-called Communist "iron triangle" formed by the bases of Chorwon, Ibumhwa and Pyongyang. Chorwon is 17 miles north of 38 and Kumhwa 20 miles north of the old boundary.

Allied tanks and foot troops ran into a hornets nest at Chail, 10 miles southeast of Chorwon and two miles north of newly-captured Yonchon.

Chail is the gateway to two valleys leading directly to both Chorwon and Kumhwa.

The Reds massed in undetermined numbers on ridges near there and attacked the Allied spearhead but were beaten off. Then they surged back at midday to keep the force under heavy pressure, the Eighth Army said.

DiSalle Claims Beef Supply Up; Workers Laid Off

Washington (AP) — Price Director Michael V. DiSalle said last night a survey of 160 cities in all sections of the country shows that the supply of beef available now is as great or greater than a month ago.

DiSalle thus replied to predictions by western cattle raisers that his recent controversial order for a rollback on beef prices would lead to shortages and a revival of World War Two black market conditions.

But even as DiSalle told newsmen of the survey's findings, the big meat-packing firm of John Morrell and Co. disclosed in Ottumwa, Ia., that it has directed all its salesmen to quit selling beef until further notice.

The company reported substantial layoffs in beef killing gangs at its plants in Ottumwa, Sioux Falls, S. D., and Topeka, Kans.

A spokesman said the firm had been unable to buy cattle in compliance with DiSalle's rollback order on prices.

Ask The Senator!

(An Editorial)

The Associated Press last night carried a disturbing "report" that Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe (R-Monroe) and Sen. George M. Wage (R-Cumberland) were ready to withdraw their opposition to Gov. John S. Fine's vicious one-half of one per cent personal income tax proposal.

We say disturbing—although we are not given to swallowing rumors—simply because both Senator Crowe and Senator Wade refused to confirm or deny the "report."

While loss of these two votes by those opposed to the tax is not sufficient to give the Fine administration the voting edge it needs to pass the income tax or even a sales tax, we would remind every citizen of Monroe county that on two occasions Senator Crowe has had statewide publicity for his opposition against an income tax, a sales tax and for his exact proposals for economies in the State budget.

We don't think he's forgotten those two major public statements. We do think, however, a wave of wires—labor particularly has an important opportunity—should remind the senator that he made them and that he must make a prompt denial of the Associated Press report.

Fine Presses For Support Of Income Tax As Reports Hint Crowe May Shift Vote

Harrisburg, (AP)—The Fine administration fought an uphill battle last night for Senate approval of the House-passed one-half of one per cent income tax.

Its work was confined principally to behind-the-scenes pressure to bring into line Republican senators who turned in last month against Gov. John S. Fine's controversial $119,000,000 levy.

Two of the GOP senators—George N. Wade (Cumberland) and Montgomery F. Crowe (Monroe)—were reportedly ready to withdraw their opposition. Both, however, refused to confirm or deny the report.

But the administration would still have to woo another half dozen GOP senators into its camp to assure passage of the income levy. The 20-vote Democratic bloc is solidly against it. Votes of 26 of the 30 Republican senators are needed for passage.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, declared his colleagues will vote against all new tax bills "until facts and figures on the Commonwealth's budget are given to the Legislature."

The income tax bill has been bottled up in the Senate Finance committee since eleven Republicans refused to support it.

Spot developments in the assembly were scanty as the lawmakers returned to work for the 23rd week of the 1951 session after a week's recess due to the Memorial day holiday.

The Senate gave initial approval to a proposed amendment to the State Constitution permitting county treasurers to succeed themselves. It went to the House.

The Senate also passed finally a House bill increasing the State allocations to local highway units from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 a year. It went to the Governor.

The bill increases the motor fund allocations from local road work from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 and provides an extra $3,000,000 for distribution on a matching basis to cities, towns, boroughs and townships.

In another action, a Senate-passed bill requiring public employes in Pennsylvania to take a loyalty oath went back to committee for further study.

The bill, in addition to requiring loyalty oaths by public employes, would also require such vows by elected officials.

West Regards Soviet Note As Rejection

Paris (AP) — Russia agreed yesterday to hold a foreign ministers meeting in Washington — but added an "if" so big that western diplomats said it amounted to a rejection.

A Soviet note, handed to deputy foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France in Paris, said Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky would go to Washington "without delay" for a Big Four meeting on the condition that the ministers discuss the North Atlantic pact and U. S. bases in Europe.

The four deputies have been meeting here for 13 weeks trying to write an agenda for the foreign ministers. They have agreed on several items but have been deadlocked on whether the agenda should include western defense preparations.

The note presented to the West yesterday by Soviet Deputy Andrei Gromyko made it clear that Russia is not backing down on her insistence that these questions be included.

Western delegates promptly told Gromyko they would forward his note to their governments, but that it "amounts to a refusal of the Soviet government" to attend the foreign ministers conference.

Butler's Campaign Manager Fined $5,000

Baltimore, (AP) — Violating Maryland election laws cost Jon M. Jonkel, 35-year-old former Chicago public relations man, $5,000 in fines yesterday.

Jonkel got $1,250 a month for acting as campaign manager for Senator Butler (R-MD) during the 1950 primary and general elections.

Jonkel entered guilty pleas to six counts charging him with violating the Maryland election laws by:

One — Acting as Butler's political agent without having been formally designated as such and without being a citizen or resident of the state.

Two—Failing to file a detailed report of campaign receipts and expenditures, as required.

Three—Failing to keep proper books and records of financial matters. Each charge was doubled one for the primary and one for the general election.

Jonkel admitted the violations, but said they were merely "technical violations done without malice or deliberation" and were "inadvertent."

Not so, said Criminal Court Judge Joseph Sherbow.

"These violations are more — much more—than mere technical violations," the judge said.

They involved "serious violations" of the law, he added, and "the fact that they occurred under the pressures of a political campaign, by one not a resident of this state and unfamiliar with our laws and practices, is no excuse."

But the judge said he would take into consideration the background and record of Jonkel, and would not impose any prison sentence. Jonkel could have drawn a maximum of eight years in jail and $6,000 in fines.

The indictments against Jonkel grew out of a Senate subcommittee hearing on complaints by former Democratic Sen. Millard E. Tydings that Butler's campaign funds were handled irregularly and that the Republicans used "unfair tactics," including a composite photograph.

Butler beat Tydings by some 43,000 votes in the general election last fall.

High Court Rules Reds Periled U. S.

Washington (AP) — The Supreme court yesterday upheld the conspiracy convictions of the U.S. Communist party's 11 top leaders, holding that they "intended to overthrow the government of the United States as speedily as the circumstances would permit."

With Justices Douglas and Black dissenting from the history-making decision, and calling it a blow against freedom of speech, the court by the same 6 to 2 vote held the 1940 Smith act constitutional—thus opening the way for prosecution of thousands of rank-and-file Communists.

Attorney General J. Howard McGrath indicated that plans for such a Red roundup may already be in the works. Declaring this "a bad day for the conspirators," McGrath said the Justice department now can "proceed to give additional protection against those who seek to overthrow the government by violence."

McGrath was not specific about his plans, however, and there were indications that the department might confine any roundup to 75 or so state and district leaders prominent in the Communist party. One official pointed out that conspiracy would be easier to prove against a party leader than against a mere member.

For the 11 top leaders, yesterday's decision almost certainly meant prison terms beginning in about 30 days.

The high court, in a decision written by Chief Justice Vinson, ruled that they were "properly and constitutionally convicted" in New York of conspiring to teach and advocate the over throw of the government by force and violence, in violation of the Smith act.

Justices Reed, Burton and Minton joined in Vinson's opinion, which held that the Communist conspiracy "created a 'clear and present danger' of an attempt to overthrow the government by force and violence."

Justices Jackson and Frankfurter filed separate concurring opinions, in which they nevertheless expressed misgivings at the possible effect of the decision on freedom of expression. Justice Clark took no part in the case. The Communist officials were indicted while he was head of the Justice department.

The Red leaders involved are Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the U. S. Communist party, and these other members of the so-called "American Politburo": Benjamin J. Davis Jr., Gilbert Green, Robert G. Thompson, John Gates, John B. Williamson, Carl Winter, Gus Hall, Jacob Stachel, Henry Winston and Irving Potash.

All but Thompson were sentenced in October, 1949, at the end of their turbulent New York trial, to five years in prison. Thompson got a lighter sentence, three years, in view of his Pacific war service in the U. S. Army. Each of the 11 was fined $10,000.

Ten of the defendants have remained free in a total of $260,000 bail. The 11th, Dennis, was sent to jail for a year on a contempt of Congress charge not directly related to the conspiracy proceeding. He completed his sentence and was released on March 12.

While yesterday's decision lops off the leadership of the Communist party in America, in effect, it does not outlaw the party. The government is proceeding in another action to force registration of the party as a foreign-dominated agency, under the subversives control law passed last year.

Harold R. Medina was the judge at the Reds' trial. He accused the Communists of waging a calculated campaign to drive him from the bench.

Communist Party Attacks Decision

New York (AP) — The Communist party said last night the Supreme court, in upholding the Red conspiracy convictions, substituted the "Smith thought-control act for the Constitution's First amendment."

The Smith act, under which the 11 Communist leaders were convicted, makes it a crime to teach or advocate the forcible overthrow of the government.

The statement, issued by party general secretary Eugene Dennis, said "the sole 'guilt' of the Communist leaders is their advocacy of peace and social progress — their opposition to war and fascism."

Dennis, one of the convicted Communists, still is free in bail.

Mrs. Bisbing, 56, Succumbs To Illness

Mrs. Mabel R. Bisbing, wife of Ralph Bisbing, 1062 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, died at Monroe County General hospital early yesterday morning after a week's illness with a heart condition.

Mrs. Bisbing, 56, was active in women's club work in the Stroudsburgs, and had previously been employed for 28 years by the A. B. Wyckoff Department store. Before she retired from work at the store, she headed the stationery and book department.

Our Award - A Deluxe Electric Pop-up Toaster

Chances Good For Amicable Negotiations In Iran Dispute

Tehran, Iran, (AP)—The chances for amicable negotiations in Iran's explosive oil dispute with Britain were better yesterday despite a strange mixup in President Truman's letters to the premiers of the two nations.

There were strong indications that Premier Mohammed Mossadegh was pleased to get the promise Sunday from the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. (AICO) to send a delegation from London to undertake "full and frank discussions."

One reason, it was reported, is that the premier is worried over Iran's finances since his oil royalties from the billion dollar company have been cut off. He has declined to discuss the question of receiving advance payments on prospective profits because that would imply the continued existence of AIOC, a company which the nationalization law declares is abolished.

Important observers said there was an air of satisfaction and relief among some Iranian leaders that conversations are about to begin.

Informants close to U. S. ambassador Henry F. Grady said there are indications that Mossadegh is depending on the ambassador as a sort of informal mediator.

Iranian chiefs took the view that the company had surrendered to nationalization. It was noted, however that AIOC reserved "its legal rights" and in fact fixed its own terms of reference by proposing "full and frank discussions."

British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison told the House of Commons that Britain is sticking to the view that the oil dispute involves the British government and is not just a private affair between Iran and the oil company. More than half its stock is owned by the British government, but Mossadegh has refused to dicker with the British government.

Mossadegh and Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi were reported amused at the mistake by which Grady delivered to the premier on Friday a letter from President Truman that was intended for Prime Minister Attlee of Britain.

Grady told reporters he saw "no serious consequences" from the "error in telegraphic transmission," but he did not look lightly on the unique bobble.

He had been informed that a letter to Massadegh was coming. When the message arrived Friday, he assumed it was the one, only to learn a day late, on Saturday, that it was the letter for Attlee. Attlee, he said, "got the right one." A copy of the letter to Mossadegh also went to London for the information of officials there.

The two missives were similar in content. In both, the president urged the parties to negotiate.

Rules For Good Plastering Job

The first coat of plaster should be applied with considerable force in order to squeeze the material into the spaces between the laths and up against the lath so the plaster will hold firmly. Good troweling uses up more material than poor work, and this should be allowed for.

All coats of plaster should be well trowled and the last coat should be evenly applied over the entire surface. If plaster is uneven the carpenters cannot apply window casings, baseboards, etc., tightly because of the uneven surface.

House Determines Type Of Spouts

Down spouts may be made of copper, zinc, sheet lead or galvanized iron. Copper and galvanized iron are used most frequently in the United States. Both these materials should be corrugated (having a wrinkled surface) to permit ice which may form inside to expand with consequent expansion of the metal without injury. Square down spouts are also preferable to round ones, although many of the latter shape are found on dwellings. The style of the house determines the shape of the down spout.

Spreading Price War Gains Momentum; Crowd Pushes Shoppers Through Window

New York (AP) — Bargain hunters renewed their assault on New York City's department stores yesterday as a spreading price war gathered momentum.

Other cities got into the act.

Cash registers jingled a merry tune. New York department stores noted that the first four days of the price war had boosted last week's sales close to recent scare-buying levels.

Sales for the week ended June 2 were up 25 per cent over the same week a year ago, a Federal Reserve bank survey showed.

By contrast, Philadelphia department stores showed a marked drop. Some merchants theorized Philadelphia shoppers were holding back, waiting for a price war to break out in that city.

Brand new price wars flared in Baltimore, Md.; Newark, N.J., and Omaha, Neb.

New items appeared on bargain counters in New York, some as replacements for cut-rate merchandise which had been sold out in last week's scramble. New price cuts went into effect. Prices of some items fell progressively during the day as merchants strove to meet competition.

Two New York shoppers were severely cut when a crowd fighting to get into a Bronx store pushed them through a plate glass window.

Macy's, which last week sold out its $46.50 Sunbeam Mixmasters at $29.64, switched to another nationally advertised brand. A favorite among bargain-seekers in the big Herald Square store yesterday was the Dormeyer Mixer, price fixed at $46.50 and reduced to $28.67.

Shoppers with headaches bought Bayer Aspirin at the cut rate price of 17 cents a hundred tablets in some New York stores. The fair traded price is 59 cents.

The price war had its freakish aspects—some men's suits, including coat and pants, selling for less than the jacket alone. Macy's cut the price of its $27.50 Sir Preme lightweight suits to $15.24. The price of the jacket sold separately was cut from $21 to $19.74—so the jacket alone costs $4.50 more than the coat-and-trousers combination. The cut rate suits went fast and as the day wore on only odd sizes could be had. There were plenty of suits at regular prices.

For the ladies. Macy's offered nylon slips at $4.09, reduced from $4.64. Folding baby carriages and 9-by-12-foot rugs were added to the bargain list. When the store ran out of Toastmasters, it offered Westinghouse automatic toasters in their stead—at $13.11, reduced from $22.95. Gimbel's sold RCA's $12.95 35-rpm record playing attachment for $8.24. Bloomingdales tied a $21.65 price tag to its $29.95 Coffeematic percolator. Abraham & Straus knocked $20 off the price of Regina floor polishers, fair traded at $59.95.

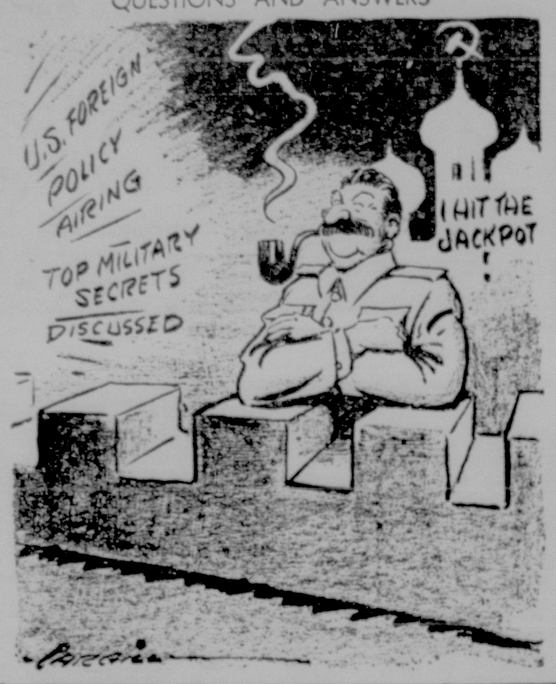
"QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS"



Blessed Anaesthesia

Two Pittsburgh physicians have made extensive clinical tests by which they believe the United States can be independent of foreign supplies of poppies from which morphine is derived.

If their tests are as conclusive as the doctors believe, then their synthetic new drug made from coal tar will not only be a more effective pain-killer than morphine but will insure a constant supply should this country be isolated from its normal supply of an essential anaesthetic.

What they have discovered in their tests of dromoran, used by them in more than 300 after-surgery cases, is that the new drug gives complete relief from pain in a considerably larger percentage of cases than did morphine, and that nausea is materially decreased.

The United States and the world at large will welcome the discovery of these doctors, and honor them for their successful research should the initial tests prove out in general practice. From the earliest use of drugs to deaden pain, replacing the terrible suffering of earlier days when surgery was undergone without anaesthesia of any kind, the world of medicine has been studying and searching for better drugs to relieve the horror of pain.

May experience prove that the new discovery is one that will bring relief from pain and nausea to unnumbered thousands.

Smock Strike

There may have been more obscure reasons for throwing 10,000 men out of work than refusal of a few of them to wear the kind of work clothes issued by a factory, but offhand we can think of none.

Yet that is what happened at a Detroit automobile plant, where a recalcitrant 66 workers threw the whole works out on strike because they felt it was undignified for them to wear the smocks given them by the company in place of the more conventional overalls.

Somehow or other, the whole thing sounds silly. What the difference may be between a smock and a sort of linen duster worn by some motor mechanics is difficult to understand, but maybe there is a difference.

Of course, the inalienable right of every citizen to refuse to wear something like a smock might be explained by the Bill of Rights, but it still appears a minor point on which to close a big plant and lose a lot of pay for the workers who were not in on the smock distribution.

Fond Relatives

Large estates have a decided tendency to create strong posthumous regard for relatives that contrasts decidely with that shown during lifetime. A Philadelphia judge must have had this in mind the other day.

Mrs. Mary Fuller Frazier, who died August 6, 1948, left $1,865,953 to the western Pennsylvania mining town of Perryopolis. Relatives promptly began a contest of the will.

At a Philadelphia Orphans Court hearing, Judge Mark Lefever interrupted to point out that the six contesting cousins hadn't been mentioned in eight or ten earlier wills of Mrs. Frazier. His comment was that, assuming the relationship to be valid, he felt the law required that they show they would have an interest in the estate if they won the action they had instituted.

So if you want to share that rich uncle's estate, it might be well to establish yourself in his good graces while he lives, Judge Lefever seems to advise.

Looking Back These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

10 Years Ago

Retires — Adam Knlerim, of East Stroudsburg, has retired after working for the DL&W Railroad for fifty-eight years.

Anniversary — Officers and teachers of St. John's Lutheran Church school are planning a celebration of the 74th Anniversary of its organization. Mrs. Harold Dreher is chairman.

Entertained — Miss Elizabeth Hubbard, of Bushkill, entertained the St. Mary's Guild of Christ Episcopal church and made plans for a card party.

Graduation — Three hundred persons attended Commencement exercises at Coolbaugh Township High school, Tobyhanna. Miss Jean Saxe, Tobyhanna, and Miss Anne Mazurik, Gouudsboro, were valedictorian and salutatorian.

20 Years Ago

Firemen Save block — A fire yesterday which threatened to envelope a whole block of buildings on Main Street, Stroudsburg, was knocked down by efficient firemen. Buildings owned by the Mary J. Pipher estate and Theodore Dreher estate were ablaze, threatening to destroy the Overfield grocery and meat store, Salathe Delicatessen and bakery, with apartments overhead occupied by James Shadel, Mrs. Mary Danforth, Mrs. Dorothy Haney, Mrs. Mary Drake and Jennie Enniver. The blaze spread fanwise to the two wooden buildings. Fire Chief Horace Heller and Assistant Chief Henry Ruster and their efficient firemen succeeded in stopping the blaze after about $10,000 damage had occurred. The fire started early in the morning while the apartment dwellers were asleep.

Playgrounds — The Stroudsburg Playground directors decided to open the centers for the kiddies on June 22. Two new supervisors were elected, Miss Gertrude E. Muller and Samuel S. Everett.

Sokolsky

David Lawrence has altogether correctly called attention to a falsification of the impression, if not actually of the news, in the instance of a Pentagon press release to the effect that the Joint Chiefs of Staff had initiated the General MacArthur dismissal. This was aimed to counter MacArthur's speech before Congress.

We now know from the testimony of Generals Bradley, Collins and Vandenberg that the joint chiefs not only had not initiated the dismissal but that they were not consulted until after the decision was taken. The conference on the decision consisted of President Truman, General Marshall, Dean Acheson, Averell Harriman and General Bradley. Absent from the conference were the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Collins, Admiral Sherman and General Vandenberg. General Bradley is an impartial chairman of this body without vote and without actual chief of staff functions.

No member of the chiefs of staff will say that he gave out the false statement or that he knows who did. It was done by a Pentagon spokesman.

This is a device of American journalism that should be abandoned because it increases the possibility of falsehood in the news. What is a Pentagon spokesman, or a White House spokesman or any other kind of spokesman? He is a person with a name, address, birth certificate and probably a driver's license. He can be identified. He is known to the reporters who accept from his hand a mimeographed statement. He should be identified to the readers by name.

Men who have to stand by what they say tend to be more careful of the facts, although this generalization includes numerous exceptions, politicians, in particular, being assured by experience that the public memory is short. On the other hand, the record is long and available and men are often confronted by their errors of judgment and commission at the wrong time in their careers. The record should be kept straight, particularly as regards public issues.

The President and the Secretary of State have established the rule that they may not be quoted directly without their consent. This is an unfortunate rule because the paraphrased reports of what they do say at press conferences are often confusing and contradictory.

I have never attended a press conference because I have no desire to hear from officials in office anything which I cannot use, giving full responsibility to the provider of the information. Sometimes I am told that the quotations in this column are too long and too numerous. Yet, I feel that a quotation is better journalism that a paraphrase because it is more accurate. Also there are other men who are as wise as this columnist and their ideas might be even better phrased and often are.

Similarly when a press agent sends a yarn, I like to give his name. He is the source. If I choose to use such a source, I feel that the reader should know it. The reader alone ought to count in the journalism of free people. Protecting politicians by the device of the "spokesman" is not providing the reader with an essential and accurate fact, the source of the news.

As David Lawrence wrote:

"Sometimes it takes a month or more to catch up with official propaganda and demonstrate some of its untruth. By that time impressions and prejudices have been formed and the propaganda has taken effect. Yet, in the interest of truthful reporting, the inaccuracies and misleading statements have to be exposed, no matter when the facts become available."

Sometimes it takes years to catch up. For instance, the State Department propaganda that the Chinese Communists were not Communists but were Agrarian Reformers was a lie perpetrated from sometime around the end of 1943 to about 1949 (the terminals cannot be pinpointed). Yet General Marshall testified that he knew they were Communists in 1946 because they told him so. I knew they were Communists in 1922. I wrote the chapters in the "China Year Book" in the 1920's concerning their progress. I helped to write and I read reports American officials in China wrote from 1923 to 1931 on this subject, which should be in the files of the State Department.

Yet, I know well-disposed men who have accepted the State Department view because it came from such a source. This inevitable acceptance of authority places upon public officials the responsibility for what they say. But a "spokesman" is not responsible. He is often a press agent who does not even understand the purport of what he hands out.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Humor from abroad: In Israel, a citizen made a fortune selling prefabricated houses, but discovered he had to pay most of it in taxes. He signed his check with a deep sigh and remarked, "Over two thousand years we wait for a Jewish home state—and it has to happen to me."

In the Breton village of Cancale, Roger Vercel watched the traditional ceremony of the regional bishop blessing the fishermen before they set out for their annual two-month expedition on the high seas in their tiny vessels. Vercel said to the bishop, "They all revere you deeply, yet they all vote Communist. Can't you do anything about that?" "It's difficult," sighed the bishop. "They know that God controls the storms and tides, but the Communists, alas, control the price of fish."

And from Prague, word leaked out that the Propaganda Department had been the victim of a daring theft. Somebody walked off with the complete results of next year's elections.

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—"Mr. Imperium" is the tedious pursuit of 31-year-old Lana Turner by 59-year-old Ezio Pinza.

The color photography is nice—a few genuine long-shots of Italy, with the rugged Monterey, California, coast doubling in closer views. Pinza, the former Metropolitan Opera and "South Pacific" basso, sings beautifully—though mostly soft love ballads rather than full-throated stuff on which you'd like to hear him open up.

But the whole May-November romantic situation is, to adapt one of cute little Debbie Reynolds' words in the dialogue, "squidgy." Uncomfortable. Unpleasant. The graying, still regally handsome Pinza may have been able to charm the ladies from across the "South Pacific" footlights. But in more revealing movie close-ups—well, 28 years is too much difference in a screen romance.

Pinza plays the playboy prince of one of those presumably Balkan countries whose name we never hear. Lana is a showgirl touring Europe with her cowboy vocalists and singing, M-G-M insists, in her own voice. Pinza's preliminary passes get him nowhere — she'd rather have a cheese sandwich and a glass of milk on her balcony than spoon under the Mediterranean moon.

The mean old prime minister (Sir Cedric Hardwicke) separates them. Twelve years later they meet again in a Palm Springs, California, motel with interconnecting door and drawn drapes. Miss Turner, now a big Hollywood movie star, still palpitates for the prince. And he for her. But the mean old prime minister breaks things up again.

The doings perk up whenever Marjorie Main and Debbie Reynolds are around. Miss Main plays the motel proprietor, Debbie her niece.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington — Russian aristocrats, who run the Communist party in the Soviet Union, are aped by their American comrades in their style of living. The 14 members of the Politburo in Moscow live in mansions, and are chauffeur-driven from home to the Kremlin—when they're not vacationing at Black Sea winter resorts.

The Communist leaders in Russia and those in the U. S. A. do not spend much time worrying about the poor proletariat. There are no down-trodden workers or starving farmers among Politburo members.

In the U. S., Communist leader William Z. Foster tours from party headquarters to various courtrooms in the back seat of a limousine. With other party aristocrats he vacations in Florida or rests in country homes.

Until the American Legion magazine investigated, however, I never knew just how lush the comrades in America live. In fact, if they keep on at the present rate, some of the Moscow bosses are likely to grow envious, and that isn't good for an ambitious Communist.

Take, for instance, the home of George Marshall at Sands Point, Long Island. Marshall is a long-time Communist party liner who was charged with putting up $240,000 bail for Kremlin agent Gerhart Eisler. Even at depression prices, Marshall's colonial style home would be worth a quick $75,000.

Albert Maltz, recently a guest of the U. S. Government for contempt of Congress, has a spacious Spanish-style "hut" in Los Angeles suitable for aristocratic bleeders-for-the-proletariat. This little number, on a shaded street, with big picture windows, couldn't be put up for less than $40,000 today.

John Howard Lawson, who was also a guest of the government, and who acts and talks like a commissar, has settled down in California's San Fernando valley. For a vine-covered retreat, with comfortable chairs under spreading palms, Lawson's abode can't be beaten. When he got caught with a Communist party card in his back pocket, he made a lot of noise about the virtues of the Communist way of life. Any real estate salesman would be glad to put his proletarian dwelling on the market for $50,000.

Harry Sacher, of New Rochelle, New York, relaxes in a real mansion between court bouts defending Communists. In the pre-White House balcony days, Sacher's residence would have passed for a smaller edition of the home for presidents. You wouldn't even start talking to Sacher about a sales price under $75,000.

For a real spread, however, you have to go back to California, near Lebec. Here Dalton Trumbo, another one-time Hollywood jailbird who sassed Congress, has a sprawling ranch home for a hideout. Without taking time for accurate measurements, it appears to run about 600 feet across the front. It sits at the foot of a mountain ridge, where comrades can remain cool while pitying the proletariat. It would take $200,000 to duplicate the dwelling without the mountain as a backdrop.

Alex Bittleman, a fast man with a Communist dollar, is an alien who lives in the exclusive Mt. Airy section of Croton, New York. He is the boss thinker for the U. S. aristocrats who run the Communists here. His mansion is shrouded with white birch trees and conifers. It couldn't have cost less than $40,000.

Ring Lardner, Jr., a Hollywood writer who wound up in jail for making nasty sounds before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has never let his pity for the proletariat interfere with good living. He has a modernistic dwelling in Hollywood, with a white picket fence for atmosphere.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

When Robert Vogeler was released from prison by the Hungarian Reds he was just a shadow of his former self.

His wife, his friends, his doctors feared that he might never fully recuperate in mind and body.

In spite of the best of care given to him he seemed to have lost interest in life.

The memories of the tortures inflicted on him, and of the agonies he suffered, were too much.

Then he was sent to the Naval Hospital in Bethesda, Md., for complete rest and whatever treatments might help him.

And now, at last, Bob Vogeler is on the way to complete recovery.

A few days ago he was visited by a reporter.

His loyal wife, who had stood by him during his long confinement and moved heaven and earth to get him released, was happy for the first time in many months.

Now she knew that he would be well again. Now she was completely confident that he would again be her Bob Vogeler of old.

How did she know?

"He WILL be all right," she told the reporter. "Bob's learning to laugh again."

Yes, that's the secret: He is learning to laugh again!

And that applies not only to Bob Vogeler. It applies to all human beings.

Of all the medicines in the world few are as powerful as LAUGHTER.

Only happy people laugh, and what greater blessing is there than happiness?

Look at the pictures in your newspapers and magazines.

Do you ever see Stalin laugh? Or Mao? Or Malik?

Do you ever see the Communists with grins on their faces? Grimaces, sneers, yes—but never any real laughs of happiness, of humor, of joy.

Then look at the pictures taken here in America and in other free countries.

Laughs galore—even when we laugh at ourselves!

I wish that old folks would laugh more than they do.

I asked a man of seventy why he laughed so little.

"What is there to laugh about?" he answered. "Every day the time is getting shorter. Every day the pains become more insufferable."

Another man, almost seventy-eight, who was just going out to a banquet of his lodge, laughed at that remark.

"How silly," he said. "The older I get the more I find to laugh about. I laugh at the worrying I did that I didn't have to do at all. I laugh because at my age I am still able to enjoy the sunshine, the flowers, the friends I have left.

"I laugh at Father Time who tries every day to lick me with his aches and pains, but who hasn't been able to do it yet."

Mrs. Vogeler may never have heard of C. W. Hufeland, the great German physician of the 18th century, author of "The Art of Prolonging Life."

But he certainly would have agreed with her. For he wrote, more than 150 years ago:

"Laughter is a most helpful exertion; it is one of the greatest helps to digestion with which I am acquainted. And the custom prevalent among our forefathers, of exciting it at table by jesters and buffoons, was founded on true medical principles."

Let us laugh and stay young, healthy—and free!

Conclusions On Color Video

The Supreme Court has okayed CBS color video, handing down its decision in black and white, with the usual variation of color in viewpoints. It is now legal for Arthur Godfrey and the Allens (Mel and Fred) to come through in natural red and you will ultimately see all video artists in full plumage, with or without a pallor, flush or morning-after greenish hue. Five o'clock shadow is on the way out.

What thrills this department is the commercial angle. Imagine all those beer cans in natural colors! And the tooth pastes in genuine coloration! The Supreme Court decision was split, some of the jurists dissenting on the ground wrestlers looked bad enough in black and white and that there was no telling what liberties Groucho Marx would take with his guests if allowed to do his stuff in all the colors of the spectrum. (Republicans will fight the decision. They can't stand the idea of Mrs. Roosevelt in colors.)

Questions and answers:

Q.: Are the 12,250,000 sets now in use made obsolete?

A.: No; they are merely in about the same position the Pickfords were in when they first heard about talkies.

Q.: How soon will there be color programs?

A.: As soon as the public develops a craving for low necklines in more than two shades.

Q.: What will I have to do to get a telecast in color?

A.: You will need additional equipment, supplementing the screwdriver, chisel, hammer, wrench, pliers and hacksaw you sometimes need now to get a telecast in black and white.

Q.: Will I be able to get Lewis and Martin in summer feathers and switch to Ed Wynn with his body in black and white and only his hats in color, using the same set?

A.: You had better settle for Berle in optional colors, with a special rainbow finale for the kiddies.

Q.: How can I convert my set to color?

A.: We were afraid you would ask that. A notary risk—beg pardon—a rotary disc is supplied containing filters. These filters, (unless they should falter) will filter the image, straining the primary colors which are, red, blue and one other, the name of which can be obtained by sending us $100 in stamps. The disk is spun, sending the performer through, as in hamburger. As Howdy Doody passes through the filter he emerges in full colors, except ochre and yak-butter yellow.

Q.: Will it be possible to get Kate Smith through a filter?

A.: It may be necessary to take half of Kate in color and the other half in black and white for a while. (RCA is for holding out for a set which will permit Kate and Paul Whiteman to get through the filter at the same time, maybe in polka dots.)

Q.: Why did Justice Frankfurter dissent in the recent decision?

A.: He had just bought a new black and white set. He is also highly disturbed by the thought of what would happen to the Fair Deal if we get color video and the GOP nominates a ticket composed of Jinx Falkenburg and Nellie McMaggis. (Our converter isn't working. It should have come out Maggi McNellis.)

Medical Society Presents Rush Award To Federation Of Clubs

Contributions To Health Win Recognition

Monroe County Federation of Social & Fraternal Organizations last night received the Benjamin Rush award from the Medical Society of Monroe county for its outstanding contributions as a lay organization to public health.

Dr. Evan C. Reese, chairman of public relations for the Medical society, presented the award at a federation meeting held in Monroe Lodge of Elks, Third St., Stroudsburg, a member club of the federation.

Established by the Medical Society of Pennsylvania, the Benjamin Rush award is named for a Philadelphia physician of the Revolutionary days who set the first pattern for public health in the state and nation. Dr. Rush was also one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Award is made at the county level to the outstanding lay organization and lay individual. These awards make recipients automatically nominees for the award on a State level. Last year, Stroudsburg Lions and Leroy Mikels were county award winners and Mr. Mikels' outstanding record won the State award.

Fred Hoffman, president of the federation, received the bronze medallion award from Dr. Reese last night. In presenting the medal, Dr. Reese said:

"Your contributions to public health have been many. Some have been publicly announced. Others have been what you call "pet" projects which your individual member clubs have fostered for many years. Collectively, however, they represent a great contribution to public health."

Noting that these "pet" project contributions were over and above health and welfare work extended by clubs to their members Dr. Reese said special projects of the clubs included funds for tonsil and adenoid operations, dental work, eye-glasses, numerous emergency special treatment funds for underprivileged individuals; an emergency fund for State Health nurse to transfer TB patients to centers of treatment; special Salvation Army fund to send underprivileged children to healthy, summer, recreational and youth guidance camps.

"We like to recall the pledge your federation made to General Hospital building fund, Dr. Reese said. "It was not only generous but a pace-setting first from an organization. That gift plus your contributions to the Community Chest . . . also generous and again pace-setter . . . and those you have made to Red Cross, Cancer Fund, and your cooperation with and participation in the Red Cross blood donor program, all were considered in selection of your Federation for this award.

"Dollar-wise your gifts to public health and welfare have been great. Results they achieved, however, cannot be measured in dollars, but because they approach the high standards set by the Medical Society for the Benjamin Rush award for outstanding services to public health."

Clubs were asked to close out their drive for funds among membership to send underprivileged children to Salvation Army camp late this month. Eagles reported contributions of $80 from their members, double the quota set per club.

George Price, chairman of the legislative committee, filed a report on current legislative activities in Harrisburg.

Bangor To Try Cooperative Plan In Place Of Present Parking Meter Fine System

Bangor—The borough council of Bangor last night voted to suspend its present parking meter fine system for three months and to replace it with a cooperative reimbursement system fostered by the Bangor Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce had proposed to provide nickels which meter policemen may insert in parking meters for overparked cars.

Under the cooperative plan, the policeman placing the Chamber's five cents in the meter would also place a ticket on the car, but along with the ticket will be an envelope with legend explaining that the Bangor Chamber of Commerce has supplied the nickel for additional parking time.

The legend will point out that the ticket may be forwarded to the office of the chief burgess with no fine, and that the envelope may be used to submit coins for replenishing the chamber's parking meter fund.

The plan was adopted on a temporary basis last night after recommendation of Councilman Clair H. Peifly. The move was generally hailed as one which has the support of merchants in the community.

Borough council also voted to authorize repairs to the borough's 119 parking meters last night. In moving in this action, the council followed a plan of the Koontz Equipment Co., of Pittsburgh, which installed the meters here originally.

The Pittsburgh firm agreed to repair each meter at a per meter cost of $30, payable in amounts of $238 per month.

The third and final reading of the ordinance authorizing the $40,000 N. Main St. reconstruction project was read and approved last night, although actual ground work on the repair program was initiated last Friday.

Bids for construction of sidewalks from Eighth St. to Bangor Park on Market St. were rejected last night after council decreed that all bids had been improperly presented.

Donald Young, Easton area representative of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, appeared before council and requested that the borough provide office space for the Bangor PSES office.

PSES now has an office in a Bangor office building but on August 1, the organization will have to operate from other quarters, Young said. He pointed out that dwindling PSES allocations make it impossible for the state organization to pay office rent after July.

For that reason, he continued, the Bangor headquarters would appreciate a rent-free office possibly in the municipal building. No action on the matter was taken last night.

John Farleigh, council president, was in charge of the meeting, and all members but Councilman Pat Cinelli attended.

ESHS Alumni Group Plans For Banquet

East Stroudsburg High School Alumni association will sponsor a banquet at the Mountain Lake house, Marshalls Creek, on Thursday, June 14, according to an announcement last night by Atty. Charles R. Bensinger, president of the association.

Speaking for association officers and the banquet committee, Bensinger said that tickets for the affair will be placed on sale today at Kresge's and Cole's drug stores in East Stroudsburg, and at the East Stroudsburg National bank.

Subscription will be $2.50 per person, and will include swimming in the afternoon, the dinner at 7 p. m., and dancing later in the evening.

RCA Denies It's Abandoning TV Color System

New York (AP) — A Columbia Broadcasting system official said yesterday the Radio Corp. of America appeared to be abandoning its color television system, but RCA denied it.

Adrian Murphy, vice president of CBS whose color method has been adopted as the national standard, made his comment in connection with a proposed composite system in which several firms are cooperating.

He pointed to the fact that the composition system was outlined in a report by a subcommittee of the National Television System committee, of which Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom of RCA laboratories is a member. He said that indicated RCA apparently was abandoning its own system, which it had fought for months to have adopted by the Federal Communications commission. The FCC chose the CBS system instead.

An RCA spokesman, however, flatly denied it was giving up its own system but issued a statement saying it was cooperating with the industry committee whose report "is a constructive contribution to the subject."

Sugar Loaf Man Jailed On Charges

George Homan, 26-year-old Sugar Loaf, Pa., farmer, was committed to Monroe county jail for 10 days at 9:20 last night, after hearings on two charges before Justice of the Peace William N. Walton.

Homan, who was arrested by Mount Pocono State police making a highway weight check, was charged with overweight load and with operating a motor vehicle without a license.

Justice Walton gave the trucker without a license five days for the overweight violation, then added another five on the no operator's license charge.

Russia To Have 30,000 Planes In Another Year

London (AP) — In another 12 months Russia will be able to put more than 30,000 warplanes in the air, a Royal Air Force Review estimated yesterday.

The Russians now have about 19,000 planes, about half of them fighters, said the official publication.

The Review said Russian construction efforts are being concentrated on the MIG-15, the jet fighter tried out in Korea. A speedier jet fighter, the Lavochkin 17, and a twin-jet bomber.

"The MIG-15 becomes a back number with the recent advent of the Lavochkin, a tube-like, single engined fighter," the publication said.

The new bomber is said to be patterned after the Canberra, a 600-mile-an-hour light bomber which the British Air Force is putting into service soon.

East Borough Playground To Open June 13

East Stroudsburg playground will open for the summer Wednesday, June 13, according to the east borough board of recreation.

Secretary Carl T. Secor said equipment is being put in shape for the season and the board hopes to have a full staff by that time.

Four lifeguards will be stationed at the pool and they will give swimming instructions during the morning free of charge.

Lewis R. Hastie will again be playground director. He will have one assistant.

Mr. Secor said many new things are planned for the summer. They include an intensive activity program, new basketball court, new regulation baseball diamond, which was recently completed; a new backstop.

He noted there are still some vacancies left on the playground staff. Applications can be filled with him at East Stroudsburg High school.

The board, composed of Horace G. Walters, president; Leon Koster, vice president; James Kopenhaver, treasurer, and Mr. Secor, met last night in the East Stroudsburg municipal building.

375,000 Apply To Take Tests

Princeton, N.J. (AP) — Some 375,000 college students throughout the nation have made application to take the draft aptitude tests.

The Education Testing service here, which is administering the exams, announced the estimated figure yesterday.

Meanwhile, Selective Service gave students who failed to keep their date for the May 26 test another chance June 16 or June 30.

A spokesman at the testing service said 121,911 students already are scheduled to take the next test June 16 at 1,036 exam centers.

The tests are being given to determine whether students will continue in college or be subject to draft into the armed forces.

The big job of correcting the May 26 exam already is under way here with the aid of electronic machines. Grades will be forwarded to individual draft boards.

Sgt. Carl Dorsey, Bangor, Missing After Air Mission Over 'Friendly Territory'

Bangor—Sgt. Carl Dorsey, 27-year-old World War Two naval aviation ground crew member who enlisted in the U. S. Army Air Force two years ago, has been listed as "missing in action" over Korea.

His wife, Mrs. Mary Dorsey, of Pen Argyl, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dorsey, of 602 Pennsylvania Ave., Bangor, were notified yesterday by the Department of Defense.

Sergeant Dorsey, a member of the 16th Troop Carrier squadron, participated in more than 100 missions over Korea. His family heard from him several days ago when they received a letter he had written May 29, the day on which he returned from his one hundredth successful mission.

Fact that two C-119 "flying boxcar' cargo planes were shot down by Allied artillery in Korea on Sunday gave rise to the report that the missing Bangor man might have been aboard one of those planes.

The Defense department telegram received here said the sergeant is missing in action "over friendly territory."

Dorsey was employed by the Bangor Daily News after his discharge from the U. S. Navy in 1946. He left the newspaper for the Air Force in 1949, and in June 24, 1950, he married Mrs. Dorsey, the former Miss Mary Emerick, Pen Argyl.

Franks Denies British Selling To Chinese Reds

New York (AP) — Sir Oliver S. Franks, British ambassador to the United States, said yesterday "no arms or munitions of war have ever been sold to the Chinese Communists from any British territory —Hong Kong, Malaya or anywhere else."

Writing in Look magazine, the diplomat replied to charges heard recently in Washington during the debate on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's dismissal.

"No gasoline, no diesel oil or lubricants have gone to China for the 10 months since July, 1950," Sir Oliver said. "A list of 200 items of industrial equipment has been totally prohibited.

"It is true in the first quarter of this year the Chinese imported more rubber than was necessary for their civilian needs. The British government has, therefore, taken steps to ensure that, whatever other sources might be available to the Chinese, they would get no more rubber from any British source."

Great Britain, he said, cannot cut off all trade with China because of the position of Hong Kong.

Aides Must Clear Future Speeches With Acheson

Washington (AP)— Secretary of State Acheson has advised his assistant secretaries to clear all their future speeches on controversial subjects with him personally.

In response to questions, the department yesterday confirmed such an order has been issued.

Acheson "suggested" this at a staff meeting a few days after a furore was touched off by a speech by Assistant Secretary of State Dean Rusk in New York May 17.

Rusk's address was interpreted by many administration critics as a sign the State department was adopting General MacArthur's suggested policy toward the Far East.

At a news conference last week Acheson insisted Rusk's remarks were not intended to herald any change in American policy. He refused to say, however, whether he was pleased at Rusk's choice of words.

Mrs. Younkin Dies At Home, Milford Road

Mrs. Laura Augusta Younkin, 64, died yesterday at 9 p.m. at her home on Milford Rd., Smithfield township. She was the former owner of the Mt. Tom restaurant.

Mrs. Younkin had been in failing health since last January 1. On several occasions she underwent treatment at Monroe County General hospital.

She was the widow of Capt. Chester H. Younkin, former commanding officer of Company G, Pennsylvania National Guard.

A native of Jersey City, N.J., she was a resident of Monroe county for over 35 years. At one time she operated a millinery shop in East Stroudsburg and later she operated the Mt. Tom restaurant, located across from her home on Route 209 east of East Stroudsburg, for ten years.

Mrs. Younkin was a member of East Stroudsburg Presbyterian church.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Jessie Schoonover, Mrs. George Johnston, both at home; a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at the Lanterman funeral home. Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, will officiate.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. Interment will be in the family plot in Prospect cemetery.

Canada Plans To Go Ahead With Seaway

Toronto (AP) — Canada definitely has decided to go ahead with the St. Lawrence seaway whether the United States assists or not, Robert H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power commission, said yesterday.

"There is now no question about it," he said in an interview.

Saunders refused to say on what governmental authority he made his statement.

Choral Groups To Hold Outing

Members of East Stroudsburg High school choruses today will hold their annual spring outing and picnic at Saylors Lake.

Seniors at the east borough school will hold their class outing Wednesday at Mountain Lake House, Marshalls Creek. Their class day exercises will be held in the school auditorium Friday at 9 a.m.

DPA Petitions To Have Sons Support Father

A petition requiring children of an aged parent, who has been receiving relief from the Pennsylvania Department of Public Assistance, to contribute to the support of the parent, was presented in Monroe county court here yesterday by District Attorney Detleff A. Hansen.

The department, in its petition, seeks to have the court declare three adult sons responsible for contributory support of Broad Adams, of 49 Fulmer Ave. Stroudsburg. Adams is in his sixties.

The petition was presented yesterday before Associate Judge Homer A. Shupp, who presided over the afternoon session.

Judge Fred W. Davis was unable to preside here yesterday because of conflicting court work in Doylestown, Buck county. Judge Davis had been especially presiding over a Bucks county case last week and returned to Doylestown again yesterday to conclude that case.

In his absence, Associate Judges Shupp and Theodore S. Metzgar conducted the morning session here yesterday, then Judge Shupp presided alone in the afternoon as Judge Metzgar was called to an important meeting.

After hearing the petition presented by the district attorney, Judge Shupp adjourned court until 10 a. m., daylight saving time, next Monday.

Previously Atty. George T. Robinson had presented an executor's petition, and Atty. James T. Kitson had offered a move to continue a mortgage foreclosure action in the only business before the court yesterday.

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Elam Gray and family will once again take up residence in the Gap.

At a brief corporation meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian Church of the Mountain held Sunday following the regular church service, Pascall Webb was elected a trustee of that church. The resignation of Elam Gray, as a trustee, was rejected, thus retaining him as a member of the board of trustees.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buzzard were: Mr. and Mrs. Mario J. Marcelli and children, of South Cairo, N. Y., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Carol Rocco, of Catskill. Other guests were. Mrs. Harry E. Mills and children, of Farmingdale, N. J., and Mrs. Richard Manhart, of Catskill, N. Y.

Mrs. Richard Manhart, mother of Mrs. Herbert Buzzard, spent a few days visiting with her daughter. While here, Mrs. Buzzard and her mother motored to Newfoundland, Pa., where they visited John P. Manhart, grandfather of Mrs. Buzzard, who was celebrating his 85th birthday anniversary. Memorial Day, Mr. and Mrs. Buzzard and daughter, Camille, and Mrs. Manhart visited Mr. and Mrs. Mario Marcelli, celebrating the fifteenth wedding anniversary of the Buzzards. Enroute home they called on Mr. and Mrs. L. Black, of Jefferson Heights. Mr. Black is the son of Harry Black, this place.

OLD FASHIONED flavor

Remember When? . . . The horse-drawn vehicle was still the best mode of transportation . . . An automobile Runabout (folding seat and top extra) sold for $500 . . . Orville Wright made a new world's record for a passenger airplane, remaining in the air over one hour . . . a few years later the automobile self-starter became the sensation of the day . . . but the horse was still going strong.

It was during this era when Spaulding salesmen, in horse-drawn wagons first distributed the famous Spaulding Butter Krust Bread.

Today, by popular demand, Spaulding Butter Krust with all of its old-fashioned flavor is back again! It's rushed to your grocer by swift modern trucks and on your dinner table only a few hours after baking. Yes, now you can enjoy old-fashioned goodness at the height of flavor perfection!

Spaulding Butter Krust bread is baked exactly by the same recipe used years ago . . . an old-fashioned split top loaf with slices firm and well baked. Enjoy Spaulding Butter Krust Bread today . . . Look for the attractive red and yellow wrapper at your grocers.

SPAULDING Butter Krust

P. S. To young housewives: Ask mother and dad about Spaulding Butter Krust Bread.

Five Persons Escape Injury In Two-Car Collision At Stroudsburg Intersection

Five persons narrowly escaped injury in a two-car accident at the intersection of N. Seventh and Thomas Sts., Stroudsburg, at 3:12 p. m., yesterday.

A northbound sedan on N. Seventh St., owned and operated by Jim Riley, sports editor of The Daily Record, was struck in the left front by another sedan driven by Miss June Vail, of White Bog, N. J.

Impact of the collision knocked the Riley car over the Seventh St. curbing on the northeast side of the intersection. Before it was stopped, the vehicle struck and damaged a young tree between the curb and the sidewalk, narrowly missing a service pole on the other side of the car.

Riley, who was accompanied by his wife and 16-months-old daughter, was unhurt, although the door on the driver's side was smashed. Mrs. Riley was well shaken, while the impact caused the baby to bleed profusely from the nose for a short time.

Miss Vail, driver of the other car, likewise was not injured, although she and Elizabeth C. White, of White Bog, were also shaken. Mrs. White, owner of the car operated by Miss Vail, was a passenger with the younger woman at the time of the accident.

Chief James McConnell, of Stroudsburg borough police, said Miss Vail was driving toward N. Fifth St., on Thomas St. A high standing laundry truck parked near the intersection on Thomas St., obscured the stop street sign from the woman's vision, the chief said.

She passed the truck and continued on into the intersection where the New Jersey vehicle crashed into the Riley machine as it proceeded into the crossing at a point on N. Seventh also obscured by the parked van.

Left front section and the side and frame of Riley's sedan were smashed, while entire front end of the White machine was damaged. Both cars were 1948 models.

Police investigation will be continued today, the chief added.

Mrs. White's car was moved to Mikels' garage on Route 611, while the Riley car was taken to a Scotrun garage.

Right front fender, radiator and grille, bumper and lighting system on Mrs. White's medium model were smashed, while the hood and front end panels were crumpled so that the hood stood high over the engine.

In addition to the left front fender, door and frame, the universal mechanism on the Riley car, and other parts of the motor were damaged. The car's left rear door, the running board under both left side doors, hubcap and wheel disc on the left front and the accelerator rod were also found to be badly dented or inoperative.

Chief McConnell said Miss Vail formerly lived in the Franklin Hill section near East Stroudsburg, although her present residence is at White Bog near Fort Dix, N. J.

Coal Truckers Pay Fines On Weight Charge

Two coal transport drivers, arrested at Delaware Water Gap on overweight load charges early yesterday morning, were committed to Monroe county jail after a hearing, but the pair was released two hours later on payment of fines and costs amounting to more than $160.

Justice of the Peace J. T. Hauser, of Delaware Water Gap, fined William Donald Treon, 31, Woodlawn Ave., Mount Pocono, a total of $107, and Asher J. Biemer, 42, of Moscow RD 3, $53.50.

Both were stopped at Delaware Water Gap on Route 611 by Pfc. Peter E. Sabinsky, of Stroudsburg State police.

After the hearing before Justice Hauser, both drivers were found at least temporarily in default of payment, and were ordered held at county jail pending arrival of the fine monies.

June Rush Starts At Court House

June is still the month of brides and bridegrooms, according to the office of Prothonotary Claude E. Metzgar, where many prospective couples in Monroe county obtain their marriage licenses.

After a comparatively slow month of May, during which only 21 couples applied here, June blossomed with a flurry of applications, and yesterday Prothonotary Metzgar said five have already been received on the four-day-old month.

Those applying were James Venezia, Passaic, N. J., and Charlotte Toth, Bloomfield, N. J.; Enos H. Locke and Muriel Elizabeth Shaffer, both of Philadelphia; Woodrow W. Keiper and Geraldine L. Warner, both of Scotrun.

Also, Cpl. Chester C. Hinton Jr., Stroudsburg, and Freda M. Handelong, Bangor; Elmer D. Taylor, Six Mile Run, Pa., and Harriet C. May, East Stroudsburg.

Summer Classes Open At College

Classes will begin this morning for the first six-week summer session at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Registration for the first half was held on campus yesterday. The second six-week session will begin July 16.

Couple Buys House In Pocono Twp.

One real estate transfer was placed on file here yesterday at the Monroe county court house office of Register and Recorder Floyd Butz.

Bernard and Elizabeth E. Hoffman, of Narberth, Pa., purchased a dwelling and four tracts of land in Pocono township from Clinton Mader, of that township.

According to the deed description, one of the tracts comprises more than 56 acres, another more than 126 acres, a third section of 66 acres, and approximately 12 acres in a fourth strip.

All four tracts comprise property which Susan S. Klink, executrix under the last will and testament of Charles Groner, transferred to Clinton Mader by deed dated April 25, 1921.

Boy Takes 'Oath' As Grand Juror

Pittsburgh (AP) — Mrs. Mary Pater brought her seven-year-old son, Anthony, to court yesterday when she was ordered to serve on the grand jury.

When Anthony saw his mother raise her right hand to be sworn in he did the same thing.

Mrs. Pater told the court she had no one to care for Anthony and if she was to serve on the jury he would have to stay. The court promptly excused her.

Postmasters To Honor J. J. Kinane

Scotrun — Monroe County Association of Postmasters will meet at Rhodes' restaurant and hotel here at 7 p. m. today. During the meeting Joseph J. Kinane, U. S. postal inspector here for a number of years will be guest of honor.

Mr. Kinane, a resident of Chipperfield drive in Stroud township has been promoted to an inspectorship at Wilkes-Barre. There will be a presentation made to Mr. Kinane on behalf of all postmasters of the county.

Major Thomas E. Morrison, U. S. Signal Corps liaison officer, will be the speaker. Major Morrison will report on latest developments on plans for the $30,000,000 Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna.

Turtzo Makes Further Study Of Petition

Bangor—Ernest Turtzo, Bangor councilman and Republican party member seeking the GOP nomination for justice of the peace in Bangor, yesterday announced that he is further studying a photostatic copy of a nominating petition filed by Fred McFall, Bangor resident who is seeking the Democratic nomination for the same office.

Turtzo claimed the signed photostat of the original shows that the petition was signed on May 21 by a Freemansburg justice of the peace. The original was submitted shortly before the deadline for filing on May 21.

Turtzo said his action was prompted because McFall was reportedly admitted to St. Luke's hospital at Fountain Hill on May 15. He further stated that the photostat shows that some of the signatures were obtained on May 18 and 19, dates on which McFall was still reported hospitalized.

Defense From Destruction Held Available

Boston—Complete defense from disaster and destruction is immediately available to every individual and nation through spiritual understanding of God, the Christian Science Board of Directors declared yesterday.

Taking note of the world crisis they affirmed that the deepest laws of the universe are spiritual protection and preservation of human freedom.

Their special message was read at the annual meeting of the Mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, to nearly 7500 Christian Scientists assembled from all over the world.

In their message the directors called for individual spiritual courage in meeting critical global problems. They said Christian righteousness has never been defeated, and forecast "great spiritual progress" ahead.

New president of the Mother church for the coming year, it was announced, is Mrs. Lora C. Rathvon of Boston. In a ringing address Mrs. Rathvon said that never was the need more urgent to look beyond the material sense of life, to "see man as God's spiritual idea." Forecasting greater spiritual achievements, she said "We are standing on the brink of a new era."

This theme was emphasized also by Walter S. Cross of Fitchburg, Mass., retiring president, who said the world is undergoing "the most profound and stirring revolution of all time."

"Materialism is being overturned. A profound ferment is at work," he said. He spoke of an open-minded, inquiring attitude in human thought toward religion "which presages a new era in Christianity."

Healings of cancer, lameness, deafness, and blindness, through spiritual means, were reported by the Christian Science Board of Lectureship in a report read by Adair Hickman of New York City. Mr. Hickman also reported the return of Christian Science lectures to the Orient after a war-enforced lapse of 11 years.

George Channing, manager of Christian Science Committees on Publication, reported new progress in gaining legal recognition of the concept that the right of religious freedom includes the right to seek physical healing, in good faith, by spiritual means.

Seven-Pound Son Born To Hardings

Raymond P. Harding, Spruce St., Stroud township, next month will begin his new duties as principal of the Clearview school.

Meanwhile, he and his wife, Margie, are busy at home taking care of a new member of the family — and a prospective member of Clearview's first grade, class of 1957.

Their first child, a boy, was born in St. Luke's hospital, Bethlehem, May 24. He weighed an even seven pounds and is named Steven Turner Harding.

Mrs. Harding is a native of Manchester, England, where her husband was stationed with U. S. forces during the last war. At present Mr. Harding is finishing up the school year at Stroudsburg High school.

Lightning Knocks Farmer Unconscious, Kills Cows

McMichaels — Paul Bond, who operates a farm here, yesterday was telling friends about an experience he will probably never want repeated . . . and with good reason.

This near-fatal encounter jolted him into unconsciousness and left him with a painfully stiff back.

The cause: A bolt of lightning, which sought him out as a tiger does its prey.

When the sudden, violent thunderstorm struck over this region Sunday night Bond was in his barn doing the daily milking.

A zigzagged streak of lightning pierced the semi-darkness. It struck a pipe and followed it into the barn.

Here it entered an automatic milker, smashed it into pieces, killed two cows, knocked ten others unconscious and struck Bond in the center of the back.

He was unconscious for 20 minutes and found by his young son, Gerald.

He was immediately administered medical treatment, but yesterday he still had the memories of a frightening experience and a very stiff back.

Glen Lyon Sergeant Tells How American Platoon Mowed Down 300 Chinese

Somewhere in Korea, (AP)—Sgt. Maurice Mosher, an ex-coal miner from Glen Lyon, near Nanticoke, Pa., leader of a machine-gun platoon in the 24th Division, described a Chinese Communist ambush.

"They just kept on coming and I kept on firing the machine-gun," he said.

"You could see them coming. And from the way they acted I knew they were after our vehicles and not just bent on killing us," he said.

It happened a little more than a month ago when Mosher's unit was ambushed by the Reds. In 15 minutes 300 Chinese were dead and many more were wounded.

Mosher set up a machine gun on a baggage truck and laid down a withering fire on a column of Chinese moving through a pass to the front. Other soldiers sprayed the Communist from the flanks. The Communists were comouflaged and were wearing U. S. type field jackets, Mosher said. They had fixed their bayonets and were moving in on the trapped Americans.

"Only one could come through the pass at a time," Mosher said, "and that was where my gun was mowing them down. As one Red would go down another would take his place and meet the same end."

Pretty soon the bodies began to stack up high.

Finally the Chinese began to overrun the Yank positions. A withdrawal was ordered. Mosher continued firing until all the vehicles were destroyed and his men were on their way back.

A wounded soldier lay in his path.

"We stopped to give aid and made a stretcher with his field jacket and some rifles," Mosher said.

"And then we carried him along with us."

The Americans walked until midnight before reaching friendly lines. Mosher then counted his men.

"We went in with 14 and came out with 14," he said proudly.

Next day, officers recommended that Mosher, a three time Bronze star winner, be awarded the Distinguished Service cross.

Deputy Shot; Four Airmen Face Charge

Canadaigua, N.Y. (AP) — Four soldiers from Sampson Air Force base near Geneva were charged with armed robbery yesterday in connection with a holdup and running gun battle in which an Ontario county deputy sheriff was critically wounded.

The deputy, Jack Fennell, 41, was reported in critical condition at Thompson Memorial hospital. He was shot in the neck and abdomen and paralyzed from the waist down.

Thomas Croucher, Ontario county district attorney said that if Fennell died the four airmen would be charged with first-degree murder.

Three of the airmen—Sgt. Peter Gannon, 19, of Woodstock, N.Y.; Cpl. Joseph McCretton, 22 of North Attleboro, Mass.; and Pfc. Anthony Napoli, 20, of Philadelphia—waived examination before City Judge Edward J. Colmey. No bail was set and they were taken to Ontario county jail.

The fourth, Sgt. Stephen Cohn, 21, of New York City, was under armed guard at Geneva hospital suffering from a wound he received when the airmen were captured by police in Geneva. He was listed in fair condition after an operation.

The airmen are charged with the armed robbery of Converse McMillan, 63, an attendant at a service station.

Truck Rams Into Rear Of Vehicle

Saylorsburg — A station wagon owned by Weston H. Fenner, of Brodheadsville, was smashed in the rear in a truck-vehicle accident which occurred just below the intersection on Route 115 here Sunday night, according to Brodheadsville State police.

Miss Shirley Ann Fenner, 18, daughter of the station wagon owner, was driving that vehicle on Route 115 when she pulled up and stopped at the end of a line of traffic held up by a car which was waiting to make a left turn off the highway.

A 1950 model truck, driven by George Dawson, 28, of Philadelphia, came upon the line of motionless vehicles. Police said Dawson did not realize the cars ahead were not moving until he was upon the station wagon.

The heavy truck smashed into the rear of the wagon, damaging the rear panel and parts of the body. Loss was estimated at $250. Minor damage to the truck, owned by Bob Geissinger, Inc., Cortland, N. Y., was set at $10.

The troopers said there were no other occupants in the vehicles, other than the drivers, both of whom escaped injury. There were no charges preferred.

Time of the mishap was 9:40 p. m., police said.

AVC Calls Upon United Nations To Seek Peace

New York (AP) — The American Veterans committee, claiming a membership of 48,000 veterans of World War Two has called upon the United Nations to make "every effort" to end the Korean fighting by negotiating with the Red Chinese.

A resolution adopted at the final session of the AVC's fifth annual convention said the "ultimate goal" must remain a unified and free Korea."

But, it declared:

"In the meantime the United Nations must make every effort to reach a peaceful settlement in Korea by seeking negotiations with the Chinese Communist regime.

"Until the Communist Chinese government has ceased to wage war upon the forces of the United Nations in Korea and has indicated its clear intention to become a peaceful nation, we cannot recognize it or support its seating in the United Nations."

FirePower
ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTES . . . because there aren't any!

Chrysler's new FirePower engine has rocked the automobile business right down to its roots.

Quietly, behind all the laboratory talk of "engines of tomorrow" . . . Chrysler has built a revolutionary engine for you to drive today!

It can give you 180 horsepower, to surpass any other engine in any other car. It develops its power in its own new kind of way!

But you don't have to "baby" it . . . or give it fancy quality gasoline to get that 180 horsepower performance!

FirePower takes any regular grade gasoline you care to buy . . . and adds its own new "mechanical octanes" to the power-giving octanes of the gasoline itself.

The result is something new and startling in responsiveness . . . and in safety, too. You get quicker and smoother control of when and how you move than you have ever felt before.

It's the engine of tomorrow . . . on the road for you today . . . and your Chrysler dealer invites you now to try it, in the all-around most astonishing new car you ever drove!

180 HORSEPOWER
Here's the new Hemispherical Combustion Chamber that's the heart of Chrysler FirePower. Its new, designed-in "mechanical octanes" make regular grade gas do what best premium grades can't do in any other engine you can drive today!

Chrysler FirePower — Finest engine ever put in an automobile

Aid Society Plans Bazaar On July 27

Cherry Valley — The Ladies' Aid of Keller's Reformed church, Cherry Valley, was entertained at the home of Mrs. Burton Mervine of Stroudsburg on Tuesday night for their monthly meeting.

During the business meeting, plans were made to hold a festival and bazaar on the church lawn on Friday night, July 27. The proceeds of the festival will be used toward the upkeep of the cemetary adjoining the church. Homemade ice cream, cake, baked goods, homemade articles, will be on sale. Anyone interested in the welfare of the cemetary and wishing to make a donation or contribution can contact any member.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess to the following: Mrs. Clarence Walter, Miss Margaret Keller, Mrs. Mary Baker, Mrs. Anna Mansfield, Miss Alice Keller, Mrs. Chester Cramer, Helen Keller and Mrs. Mervine.

The June meeting will be in the form of a birthday party and will be held at the home of Miss Margaret Keller on June 27.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Good growing weather, these hot days and rainy nights, but not good working weather at all. Either it's too hot or too late. But anyway somebody's got ambition — Shirley Cummings has her executive board all appointed for the Junior Woman's club next year, and moreover they're going to meet tonight.

But what made her particularly joyful was the fact that not one whom she asked refused. Certainly augers well for a bang-up year.

But wait a minute, we haven't had summer yet. Or graduations, either. Which reminds me that one grandmother admits that I was right when I said today's youngsters were more precocious. Just heard from her son Lt. John Van Etten at Camp Meade that her grandson, Victor, has just been graduated from kindergarten—diploma and all.

But if you think college, high school, or kindergarten graduations are exciting, you should be living through an eighth grade graduation. If we all have our heads on by Wednesday night we'll be lucky.

WSCS Groups Join Forces For Anniversary

Tannersville — The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Tannersville Methodist church joined with the WSCS of McMichaels Methodist church on Thursday night to observe the tenth anniversary observance of the organization. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Edward Bonser in McMichaels.

Mrs. Claude Possinger, president, led the meeting, using the topic "Compassion that Counts" with the discussion based on the story of the Good Samaritan, in which all members took part.

The visiting group presented a birthday cake with ten lighted candles and one large candle to grow on through the year in the field of Christian service. The cake was presented by Mrs. Beatrice Dailey, president of the Tannersville WSCS, with her greetings. Mrs. Ruth Howell, treasurer and Mrs. Elsie Dailey, secretary, also extended the wishes of the Tannersville group.

Mrs. Estelle Granacher read a letter from Dr. H. Virginia Blakeslee from Kerecho, Kenya, Africa, and from Miss Helen Harvey from the China Inland Mission, and described the scope of the WSCS. There are 336 groups in the Philadelphia conference, she said, with a membership of 21,000.

At the close of the meeting a luncheon was served by the hostess society which included Mrs. Edward Bonser, Mrs. William Martin, Mrs. John Kresge, Mrs. Wilson Smith, Mrs. John Everitt, Mrs. James Martin, Mrs. Claude Possinger.

Grange Plans Two Special June Meetings

Cherry Valley—The Cherry Valley Grange, No. 1821, listed two important meetings in the near future at their meeting held ta the grange hall in Stormville on May 31.

An open meeting will be held on June 12 when District Forester E. Clyde Pyle will speak and show moving pictures. The community is invited to join the grangers to hear him.

The Floral Tribute program will be held on June 28 when the Hamilton grange will bring the floral tribute to Cherry Valley.

The meeting last Thursday was opened with singing with Mrs. Sheldon Schobert as pianist. Miss Marie Rinker was given the third and fourth degrees, and plans were made for a strawberry festival in the near future.

At the close of the meeting a birthday party was held in honor of those whose birthdays were in April, May or June. Mrs. Robert Clayton, Mrs. Claude Cyphers, Mrs. Samuel Getz and Frank P. Majestic were honored.

Mrs. Sheldon Schobert, assistant lecturer, presided at the games which included the distribution of paper bags containing articles which their recipients had to wear including an odd assortment from one string bean, a sprig of parsley, to a man's shirt and half a sun suit.

A covered dish supper was climaxed by a four-tiered cake made and served by Mrs. Emery Stout.

Sixth Grade Honors Teacher At Smithfield

SIXTH GRADE 18 RISLEY

The sixth grade of Smithfield school last week honored their teacher, Mrs. Jonas T. May, who has taught them in both sixth and fifth grades, at a farewell supper at the school, before they enter junior high school.

It came as a complete surprise to Mrs. May who was called back to the school on Thursday night to find the entire sixth grade assembled there with the other members of the school faculty and their husbands as honored guests.

A baked ham supper was served at tables decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. May was presented with a corsage of white roses, while the other teachers received iris corsages. Gracie Treible, Georgianna Rohlfing and Carol Mushko were moving figures in the party although all the children and their parents contributed to its success.

Auxiliary To Present Play

Shawnee-on-Delaware — The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Shawnee Presbyterian Church will be held on Wednesday night, June 6 at eight o'clock at the home of Mrs. Spencer Cramer with Mrs. Irvin Walter as co-hostess. Members desiring transportation are asked to meet at Worthington Hall promptly at 7:45.

A play entitled "We Are Evangels" will be presented by a group of members consisting of Mrs. Ross Fuller, Mrs. John Heller, Mrs. Walter T. Hope, Mrs. Paul Crawn and Miss Jeannette Mickey.

Members are requested to bring all the articles for the summer bazaar to this meeting.

Local Gardner Quoted On Garden Page; Poconos Laurel Trail Wins Wide Recognition

A bit of Monroe county transplated to the Bowman's Hill State Wildflower Preserve by the Monroe County Garden club has brought the Poconos and its laurel into prominence in more ways than one.

The Poconos Laurel Trail at the preserve at Washington Crossing Park, south of New Hope, is in itself a great attraction to the visitors particularly now with the laurel in full bloom. Massed plantings along the rocky trail have been added to native stands, and mixed with them the local club has added trailing arbutus, creeping wintergreen, lambkill or sheep laurel, rhododendron, high bush and low bush huckleberry, rattlesnake plantain and arrowleaf violet.

In connection with the Pocono Laurel Trail, the botany study group of the local garden club of which Mrs. Elwood Grant is chairman has prepared a pamphlet describing the items on the trail.

This pamphlet, together with a new planting made two weeks ago by the botany study group led Patricia Spollen, Garden editor of the Philadelphia Bulletin, to devote her whole column on Sunday, May 28, to an interview with Mrs. Grant on how laurel can be grown around homes.

In quoting Mrs. Grant, the article says "the most important thing is to give it an acid soil. Fibrous leafmold is a good mulch, especially oak leaves or pine needles, which will keep the soil acid."

"It also likes air, drainage and shelter from strong winds, but shade isn't absolutely essential. It grows well in the light shade of a building and on hillsides. Deep-rooting trees such as oaks, tulip trees and magnolias suit it better than shallow - rooted maples, lindens or elms.

"You can grow laurel from seed if you want to wait that long. And something else many people don't realize is that you can improve the bloom by pruning. It's pleasant to cut the blossoms for bouquet and if you do you'll automatically prune enough to encourage better bloom," she said.

In their most recent gift to the Flower Preserve, the local botany group contributed a Clintonia borealis, the only one now in the preserve. Norman Fisher, botanist of the Preserve, was delighted with the plants. A leatherleaf had been requested by Mrs. Lynn Holmes for their new bog, and since it is not available at commercial nurseries she asked the local group, which she knew actually gathered their own plant material.

Mrs. Grant and Mrs. David Shiffer located the plantings here and took with them about 30 plants for the preserve.

Mrs. Grant, who celebrated her birthday on May 31, received as an appropriate gift a pair of "green thumb" gardening gloves. However her "green thumb" doesn't come off with the gloves since she has been able to bring practically all of the wild flowers into cultivation near the Grant home at Analomink Lake.

Daniel Wilkins Baptized At Grace Church

Daniel Tad Wilkins, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus C. Wilkins, of 100 Normal St., East Stroudsburg, was received into the baptized membership of the church by the sacrament of holy baptism on Monday afternoon at 4:15 at the baptismal font in the sanctuary of Grace Lutheran church. Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor, administered the sacrament before the candle-lit altar.

Daniel Tad was born at the Monroe County General hospital on March 7, 1951. His paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Wilkins of Woodpecker Lake, Pike county and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Biggs of Stroudsburg, served as sponsors with his parents. Also witnessing the baptism were his brother, James, and his sister Kathleen; and Amy and Sally Wunder.

Former Resident Is Married To College Teacher

Miss June M. Ramsberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ramsberger of Middletown, Pa., formerly of Mountainhome, and Edward H. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cook Sr., of New Cumberland, Pa., were married on Saturday, May 26 in the rectory of St. Mary's church, Middletown with Rev. Gunville performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, John Baker, and was dressed all in white with a bridal bouquet of red rosebuds. The bride's sister, Joan, was maid of honor and wore navy and white with pink and white rosebud corsage.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Howard Johnson restaurant in Middletown given by the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Baker.

After a wedding trip to the Poconos, Mr. and Mrs. Cook will make their home at 222 Beaver Ave., State College, where Mr. Cook is a teacher of chemistry in the college. He will receive a Fellowship from the college in August.

He is a graduate of Elizabethtown College and of Pennsylvania State College. The bride was a student at Elizabethtown College.

Two TV Stars For Fireman's Dance June 9

Marshalls Creek — The Marshalls Creek Firemen's Dance on Saturday night, June 9, will be marked by the appearance of two professional entertainers, who are expected to draw a large crowd not only from the immediate vicinity but also from the county at large.

"Two-Gun" Fonty, one of the leading square dance teacher-callers of the country will be present to call for the square dances. He has made several short-feature pictures in Hollywood and has appeared on television shows and in leading New York night clubs.

He appeared in Monroe County this winter with the East Stroudsburg Community Square dance sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association.

The second featured entertainer for the dance will be Billy Albert, 21-year-old winner on a recent Arthur Godfrey Talent show. He is a vocal guitarist and sings popular Western and American Folk song. He was chosen New York City champion and awarded the $1,000 prize for winning the Talent Search on TV. He at present has his own television show each Monday and Thursday.

The public is invited to attend the dance which is being arranged by a committee of fireman with Thomas J. Blewitt as chairman of the dance committee.

Closing Days At Long Pond Schoolhouse

Long Pond — The school children of Long Pond gave an excellent program on Friday night in their school for their parents and friends. Singing, plays, skits, drills and recitations were presented under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Herbert Altemose.

Climax of the program was the Daughters of the American Revolution award by the school board and school to David Serfoss and Norman Gardner.

The school closed on Monday with a picnic for the pupils.

Scholarship For Local College Grad

Portland — A scholarship has been awarded to Miss Velia Lenora Fiori, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fiori of Portland, who was graduated last week from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College with a bachelor of science degree.

The scholarship is for graduate work in French during the summer session at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio.

A graduate of Bangor High school, Miss Fiori majored in French at ESSTC with a minor in biological science. She was secretary - treasurer and vice president of the Day Students association; secretary-treasurer of the Women's Executive Council, president of the French Club and treasurer of Sigma Zeta, honorary science fraternity.

Bible Study Class Has Birthday Party At Effort Hall

Effort — The Bible study class of Effort Methodist Sunday school held its semi-annual birthday party on Tuesday night in the social hall.

Following the devotions and study, roll call was answered with a Bible verse using the word "peace."

Games and a quiz directed by Ida Sweet, chairman of arrangements were followed by the party with two tables, one for the birthday celebrants and one for their hosts. They were decorated in green and yellow and loaded with refreshments.

Each guest was asked to tell of something unusual that had happened in their own life or the life of one of the members present, which brought a flood of reminiscences. There were 42 members present.

The next regular meeting will be held on June 12.

Yearbooks Ready For Distribution

Stroudsburg High school yearbooks have been printed and are ready for delivery, according to Miss Lillian R. Stark, yearbook adviser.

The 1951 editions will be presented seniors Wednesday after class night exercises. Underclassmen will receive theirs Thursday after report cards are given out.

This year's yearbook is dedicated to Mahlon R. Serfass; French, Spanish and German teacher, faculty athletic manager and president-elect of the Stroudsburg Teachers association.

One page of the book has also been devoted to the late Vere J. Banks, who taught geography at the high school. Mr. Banks died suddenly after a brief illness in the early part of the present school year.

Miss Stark noted several copies are still available and they may be secured at the high school.

Vinson Refuses Stay Of Execution For Seven Nazis

Washington (AP) — Chief Justice Vinson of the Supreme court last night refused a further stay of execution for seven Nazi war criminals whose present reprieve runs out this morning.

Warren Magee, counsel for the seven, said Vinson had declined to grant a further stay pending filing of a formal petition for a hearing before the high court.

Earlier in the day a three-judge court of appeals had likewise refused to extend the stay of execution.

The appeals court had affirmed the judgment of the U. S. district court here that Germans are still enemy aliens to whom United States courts are closed.

The convicted men are due to hang.

Elect Clay Director

New York (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former military commander of occupied Germany, yesterday was elected a director of General Motors Corp.

Jackson Township School Holds Graduation Exercises

Reeders—Graduation exercises were held last night for eighth graders at Jackson Township Consolidated Elementary school.

The commencement address was given by Walter H. Sebring, assistant superintendent of Monroe county schools. He told students "what you are today you made yesterday; what you are tomorrow you make today."

The class motto was "We build a ladder by which we climb." Gwyneth Johnson gave a recitation, "Forgotten Boyhood." A reading, "The Story of Rubber" was given by Nelson Possinger. Hilda Hardenstine gave a recitation entitled "When the Minister Calls."

Janet Rustine sang a vocal solo entitled "On a Simmery, Summery Day," and a reading, "The Story of Drama" was given by Diane Wolfe.

Lorretta Schneider gave a valedictory address.

Diplomas were presented by Mr. Sebring.

Building Principal James L. Butz presided at the graduation. He was assisted by Miss Gladys E. George and Miss Carrie L. Shupp.

Malik Agrees To Give Talk On 'Price Of Peace'

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Russia's Jacob A. Malik agreed yesterday to speak over the United Nations radio June 23 on the "price of peace."

This will be just two days before the anniversary of the beginning of the Korean conflict.

Malik was invited along with other leading delegates to speak on the "price of peace" series. U.N. observers were surprised by his acceptance in view that the Russions have confined their statements to U.N. meeting halls, except on three occasions when Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky held news conferences.

Ten U.N. members already have spoken on the peace series.

Mann Held For Court

Dr. Jack Mann, 30-year-old veterinarian from Pompton Lakes, N. J., state of Florida, and more recently from Delaware Water Gap, was still held at Monroe county jail late yesterday in default of $300 bail.

Dr. Mann, charged with attempting to defraud an innkeeper, was first committed last Tuesday after a warrant was sworn out for his arrest by Cass A. Hassinger, operator of the Beaver House at Arlington Heights.

The defendant was ordered held for September term of county court at a hearing conducted before Justice of the Peace Marshall H. Neyhart, of East Stroudsburg, on Friday.

The Dartmouth College Library has acquired an important collection of letters and manuscripts of Daniel Webster. Another outstanding addition to the Library is a Stephen Crane collection, donated by George Matthew Adams, New York bibliophile.

Class Night Staged At Pocono High

Tannersville — Pocono Township High school seniors last night staged an advance commencement. But since it was their class night program, the diplomas and the characters were strictly fictional.

The skit, "Graduatin' at Gooseville" was written by May Brown, directed by Mrs. Marguerite M. Walton and Carmen C. Cavuto, and produced—with appropriate changes—by the Pocono seniors.

Members of the fictitious Gooseville class were Arthur Youngken, who played the part of Begonia Apple; Joan Riley, Gladiola Turnip; Caryl Nidlund, Daffodil Radish; Betty Werkheiser, Sweet Peas; Avon Doll, Gardenia Beet; Eleanor Romanski, Nasturtium Carrot.

Members of the "faculty" were Lillian Mader, who played Miss Petunia Rhubarb, the school principal; Wilmer Metzgar, Mr. Bell Chimes, the music teacher; Marjorie Cron, Miss Ione Shakespeare, the public speaking teacher; George Parker, Mr. Chrona Ology, history teacher; Phyllis Keltz, Miss Maggie Zeen, literature teacher.

Harriet Learn portrayed "Geranium," the pianist, and Robert Kresge the school janitor.

Trustees of the Gooseville institution of learning were Jack Walters, who portrayed A. Blackberry; Forrest Sebring, Noah Raspberry; Pauline Sebring, Ima Peach, and Ethel Smith, Sucha Lemon.

Squirrel Lovers Have Last Word

Tallahassee, Fla. (AP) — Orders went out yesterday to rid the state capital grounds of squirrels. Poison was put out.

Apparently, however, squirrel lovers had not been consulted. Their objections came fast, and as quickly the orders were rescinded.

Secretary of State T. A. Gray, capitol custodian, said:

The squirrels "are damaging the shrubbery and trees, but it's all right. They can have free run of the grounds."

Chisox Sweep Pair FromCrimsonHose

Chicago, (AP) — The phenomenal Chicago White Sox last night moved three and one half games ahead in the American League race with Saul Rogovin hurling a 2-0 victory over Boston after Billy Pierce beat the Red Sox, 6-5 for his fifth straight victory before a twilight-night twin bill crowd of 42,718, Comiskey Park's biggest of the season.

White Sox Complete Another Trade

Chicago (AP)— Chicago's White Sox management keeps fixing it so you can't tell the players without a scoreboard—today's scoreboard.

Baseball's swappingest club made a complex three-club trade yesterday and came up with just what was needed.

The league leading White Sox got Don Lenhardt, versatile, long-hitting outfielder from the St. Louis Browns. Third baseman "Hank" Majeski went back to the Philadelphia Athletics on the deal. And the A's infielder, Kermit Wahl, became a socker only long enough to be signed over to the Browns.

Outfielder Paul Lehner and an unannounced sum of cash went with Wahl to St. Louis in exchange for Lenhardt.

"We didn't out-trade anyone," general manager Frank Lane said. "We just got the man we wanted. We're happy, and I'm sure the other clubs are."

Lenhardt hit .273 last year. He scored 81 runs, 22 of them homers. He's hefty, measures six feet three inches, and moves fast.

"We didn't have anyone to cover first base in the event anything happened to Eddie Robinson," Lane said. "Lenhardt is good at first. He can play third, too, and he's a fine fielder.

"Then, too, we've been short of right handed hitters. Lenhardt bats right handed. And he's a long-ball hitter. There's a lot of value in that ability."

Lane said he thinks the fast and furious negotiating for new blood has had something to do with the White Sox ascendancy this year to their present two-game lead in the American league standings. The Sox finished in sixth place last season.

"Every trade has been made with a view to building a consistently winning ball club," he said.

There's only a handful of old timers on the Chicago roster — Floyd Baker, Randy Gumpert, Howie Judson, Marv Rotblatt and Jim Busby.

Some of the deals involved the shifting of several players to salt down a specialist in a White Sox position. Take the deal that brought Robinson to first base in the Comiskey brotherhood, for instance.

With Robinson from Washington on Memorial Day, 1950, came Ray Scarborough and Al Kogar, both of whom have since left in subsequent trades. And in that swap, the Senators got Cass Michales, Bob Kuzava and veteran outfielder John Ostrowski.

IAM Moves Into Number One Position

IAM moved into first place in the Monroe County Softball league last night, with a 4-2 victory over the Eagles in a game played on the East Stroudsburg Junior High school field. The contest was halted after six innings of play by rain.

The IAM contingent was at ba when the rains came and had scored three more tallies in the seventh, but the contest reverted to the sixth frame, with IAM winning by a margin of two runs.

Pitchers

Dick Smoke hurled the two-hit victory for IAM, while "Hank" Goldy suffered the loss for the Eagles.

The second half of last night's schedule found Union Printers defeating Kulp's Foundry, 13-7, at the East Stroudsburg Playground. Bill Weber was the winning pitcher while Bob Held was charged with the loss.

Reds Run Wild To Nip Braves

Boston (AP) — Held in check on five hits through the first seven innings the Cincinnati Reds broke loose for a 10-7 triumph over the Boston Braves yesterday as they scored seven times in the ninth.

A Ladies Day crowd of only 2,954 saw Connie Ryan, a former Tribesman, blast what appeared to be a harmless three run homer in the eighth.

Run Wild

Dick Donovan replaced him and walked in the fourth Cinci run of the game and the Reds were off. Sid Schact replaced Donovan and Grady Hatton then doubled home the tying runs.

Three more Cincinnati runs clattered across the plate before George Estock could get the side out.

Detroit Rallies In Ninth To Take Measure Of Senators, 6-5

By Harry Stapler

Detroit, (AP)—Johnny Groth punched a single to right field with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning to grab a 6 to 5 win for the Detroit Tigers over the Washington Senators yesterday.

The Tigers, trailing 5 to 4 going into the ninth, tied it up on George Kell's single that scored Joe Ginsberg from second. Hal Newhouser, who gave up 11 hits, won his fifth game against four losses.

Relief Pitcher Sandalio Consuegra, the victim of the uprising, lost his fourth game against three wins.

Only 2,235 paid fans, second smallest Detroit crowd this year, saw the Tigers hand the Senators their thirteenth loss in the last 15 games. The game was played in chilly, 58-degree weather.

Tie Score

Ginsberg, pinchhitting for Newhouser in the ninth, walked and moved to second on Johnny Lipon's sacrifice bunt. With two out, Kell singled to left to tie the score.

Consuegra then walked Vic Wertz and Pat Mullin to load the bases. Groth's game-winning hit was a lazy fly that fell safely into short right field.

Detroit scored four runs in the first inning off Starter "Hank" Wyse who allowed the first eight batters to reach base. Dick Kryhoskie's single drove in two of the first-inning runs.

The Senators scored two runs in the first and three in the second with Mickey Vernon and Sam Mele driving in four of the runs.

Rain Halts Action In Little League

Rain halted last night's action in the Stroudsburg Little League at the end of four innings, with Stroudsburg Security Trust and Penn-Stroud Hotel tied at 3-3. The game was declared no contest and will be replayed on Friday, on the same field.

"Super" Phillips, currently the talk of the league, was on the mound for the Security Trust team.

Schedule

Rained out games must be made up the same week as scheduled if at all possible.

Tonight's schedule calls for People's Coal Co. to meet the First Stroudsburg National Bank, at the Stroudsburg Playground, at 6:30.

Rain Halts Contest

Brooklyn (AP) — A cloudburst in the third inning last night spoiled the return of Clarence Podbielan, Brooklyn Dodger right hander, recently recalled from Montreal.

Robinson Paces Pack In Hit Parade

New York (AP) — Jackie Robinson has taken over the National League batting lead with a .403 average while his Brooklyn teammate Cal Abrams skidded 118 points from first to seventh in a horrible slump.

Abrams, leading at .451 a week ago, hit safely only twice in 31 at bats during the week. His average, including Sunday's doubleheader, is .333.

Robinson slipped nine points but moved from second to first.

Stan Musial, the defending champ, was the big man of the week with 12 hits in 25 tips, moving from seventh to second at .370. "The man" from St. Louis added 23 points to his average.

Race

With about a fourth of the season gone, it now shapes up as a two-man race between Robinson and Musial.

"Pee Wee" Reese of Brooklyn is third at .357 or 13 points behind Musial. Then comes Richie Ashburn of the Phils, who boosted himself nine points to .251. Bob Elliott of Boston is a strong fifth at .350 although he dropped off 23 points.

Frank Baumholtz, of Chicago, a newcomer in the top ten, is sixth at .338, followed in order by Abrams, .333, Al Dark of New York, .331, "Red" Schoendienst of St. Louis, .330 and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn, .327.

The Brooklyn Bombers dominate the slugging departments too. Gil Hodges now has 17 homers and "Duke" Snider leads in runs batted in and runs scored with 40 of each. Robinson moved into a tie with Boston's Sam Jethroe at seven stolen bases. To make it almost unanimous, the Dodgers have the top pitcher in Preacher Roe with his 7-0 record.

Other scattered departments boast non-Dodgers leaders. Ashburn has most hits, 66, Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati 13 doubles, Musial five triples and Boston's Warren Spahn most strikeouts, 49.

East Bangor To Meet West Bangor

Bangor — One contest is on tap for the Blue Mountain league tonight, featuring East Bangor and West Bangor at Memorial Park. The contest is scheduled to get underway at 6:15.

Positions

East Bangor is currently tied for first place with Roseto A.A., each team sporting a record of six victories and a single loss.

West Bangor is in fourth place with four victories and three setbacks.

Boxing Card Postponed

Newark, N. J., (AP) — The boxing card at Meadowbrook Bowl was rained out last night and will be held tonight. Tex Gonzales of East Orange and Joey Klein of New York meet in the feature six round welterweight bout.

All Games To Be Played In Eastburg

Second half action in the Monroe County Softball League got underway last night, with games at the East Stroudsburg Playground and Junior High school fields. All games during this round will begin at 6:15 p.m.

Eagles held the upper hand at the end of the first half, but IAM moved into the number one spot at the end of last night's action by gaining a verdict over the same Eagles, at the Junior High field.

Full Schedule

A total of 28 games are listed on the agenda for the second round, with 26 more to be played before this portion of the schedule passes into history.

The Eagles and Worthington Mower were twice rained out of a contest and it will be made up at a later date.

A complete list of second round games follows, with (JH) donating East Stroudsburg Junior High school field and (PG) standing for East Stroudsburg Playground.

Proximity Retired

Goshen, N.Y. (AP) — Proximity, the great queen of the trotters, was retired yesterday one year after becoming the greatest money-winning harness horse in history.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Reports of present and former players who have made their mark in baseball in Monroe county are for the most part good this morning, which is great news to all followers of the diamond sport in this area. Thes first on the agenda is Harry Warner, Reeders product, who owned an 11-game hitting streak for Evansville, Ind., of the Three I league, going into the Memorial Day doubleheader. The latest reports indicate that Warner is sporting a batting average of .305.

Warner is located fifth in the batting order and has gained almost a hundred points in his average in slightly more than a month. The big first sacker is now hitting the ball like we know he can. However, even more noteworthy is the fact that the local product is having a great year around the bag, flagging everything that comes his direction.

Ray Steele, Bushkill resident and a student at East Stroudsburg High school, is rated better than Curt Simmons at a similar age by Sam Balliet, Coplay American Legion coach who started Simmons on the road to stardom. Balliet apparently knows what he is talking about as the lanky Steele shut out Coopersburg on two hits on Sunday. Steele is definitely a major league prospect if nothing happens to the boy before he obtains a couple more years of experience.

Major league scouts will beat a path to Steele's door next year this time, when his class graduates from East Stroudsburg High school. Officially ivory hunters aren't allowed to approach a boy before he or his class completes 12 years of school, or its equivalent. The scouts are watching Steele's every move at the present time, but next year this time they will begin their contract talks for keeps, with no holds barred.

Stan Pawloski, third baseman for the Stroudsburg Poconos, is picking up a reputation as a "groaner" in the Three I league. Pawloski is currently holding down third base and batting fourth for Grand Rapids and has opposed Warner on several occasions. Stan Palys, pitcher with the Carbondale Pioneer Blues last year, is currently hurling and winning for Terre Haute, also of the Three I league, as is Stan Mrozinski, who pitched for Carbondale in 1949. Mrozinski is from White Haven.

Alden "Red" Fetherman, playing the outfield for Coplay American Legion on Sunday, accounted for one hit. Fetherman is a basketball, football and baseball star at Stroudsburg High. The righthander divides his time between the outfield and pitching mound. Betty Sebring, Swiftwater, just found out that all "southpaw" pitchers don't come from south of the Mason-Dixon Line—and her brother is one of the top baseball stars to ever come out of Pocono High.

Bob Staph, Newfoundland correspondent for The Daily Record, dropped this column two bits of verse yesterday, in which I think everyone would be interested. However, my fine friend from the Greene-Dreher area fails to point out that the Yankees are now faltering and falling further off the pace, having dropped seven of their last eight outings, with the Red Sox and Cleveland doing the damage. But here goes with the verse—

"We hope you've noticed, my dear friend,
The happenings of late;
The fizzling Phils you picked to win,
Now trail the Bums by eight."
(as of last Thursday)

"That guy Garver, he's the tops,
'Specially when he's washing Sox;
The Crimson Hose, that's who we mean,
That Pullmanitis-suffering team."

Mr. Staph I will have to bow to your poetic venture, but they don't pay off the World Series checks until October, and until the first of that month this hopeful fan will keep limping along with all fingers and toes crossed, hoping that some day I too will have my innings. When such Yankee followers as Clint and Charley Besecker find time to stop laughing and look at the story below, I believe that they too will find the situation anything but favorable at this time.

Frank "Hank" Pozda, basketball star at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College for the past four years, is attending summer school on Normal Hill, despite the fact that he completed his regular course with last week's graduation ceremonies. Pozda will probably join the Scranton Miners, of the American Basketball league, next season.

Black Cat, Rabbits' Feet Help Indians Win

Cleveland, (AP)—Clevelands Indians, with an assist from a black cat and 15,000 rabbits feet, finally broke through the Ed Lopat jinx last night to beat the New York Yankees 8-2 for their ninth straight victory.

Lopat, who had won 30 out of 36 games against the Tribe and the last 11 in a row, was replaced by Tommy Byrne at the start of the third after allowing six runs and giving up seven hits.

Fifth Victory

Mike Garcia winning his fifth victory against three losses, allowed two hits, but shut out the Yankees after their two-run first inning.

The rabbit's feet were given to the first 15,000 of the 20,217 fans who entered the stadium last night. The Tribe management ordered the good-luck charms from New York—of all places—after a fan suggested it in a newspaper "Beat Lopat Ideas" contest.

Another fan tried to break Lopat's hoodoo by running out to him with a black cat as the hurler tossed warmup pitches in the last of the first inning.

Fain Rates As Top American League Batter

Chicago (AP) — The New York Yankees, owners of a fearful reputation with the bat, have faded out of the American league's list of hitting leaders.

Larry Doby of Cleveland put together a .317 average through games of Sunday and took over tenth place among the batting leaders from Gerry Coleman, who held down that position a week ago. It was the first time since April 29 that the Yanks were unrepresented.

Ferris Fain of Philadelphia continued in the number one spot with a .366 but was being pressed by Nelly Fox of the league leading Chicago White Sox. Fox had .362 and was followed in third place by a teammate, Orestes Minoso, with .359.

Select Groups

Others in the select circle were Verne Stephens, Boston, .375; Eddie Robinson, Chicago, .345; Dom DiMaggio, Boston, .344; Jim Busby, Chicago, .333; and Ray Coleman of St. Louis and Gil Coan of Washington, tied for ninth place with .331.

In the special departments, Minoso and Boston's Ted Williams occupied two firsts apiece. Minoso had the most runs, 39, and the most triples, 7. Williams had the most homers, 11, and the most runs batted in, 42.

Dom DiMaggio had the most hits, 63; Fain the most doubles, 15, and Busby the most stolen bases, 10.

Musial Leads Cards To Win

New York, (AP)—Stan Musial bashed two homers and boosted his batting average to .380 yesterday while St. Louis checked New York's second-place challenge with a 7-2 win behind rookie Joe Presko.

Solid Support

Presko had solid support from Musial and Billy Johnson who banged four hits, including a triple. The 22-year-old righthander lost his shutout bid in the seventh.

Golf Tournament At Shawnee

New Jersey Women To Match Strokes

Shawnee-on-Delaware — A field of 55 or 60 starters is expected to tee off here this afternoon in the Women's New Jersey Golf Association Tournament, an affair that will cover 36 holes and will come to an end tomorrow. The large turnout will be shooting for the Neilson Spring Tournament trophy, awarded to the golfer with the lowest net score at the end of 36 holes.

There will also be two other prizes for the top three low net and gross scores at the tournament's end, as well as similar prizes for each day of action.

Top Golfers

Some of the top women golfers from New Jersey will tour the local 18-hole layout this afternoon and tomorrow morning, with the outcome to be judged on medal play.

Among the best known golfers in the field will be Helen Hochengos, Mrs. A. J. Bryan, Peg Dorment, Charlotte Decoser and Katherine Parks.

This afternoon's action will take place at anytime those taking part wish to play, but a starting time will be assigned for the final round tomorrow morning.

Indianapolis Hero Satisfactory

Reading (AP) — Lee Wallard, who on Memorial Day smilingly accepted all the glory that goes with winning the big Indianapolis 500 mile race, was swathed in bandages yesterday in Reading Hospital.

Wallard, competing in his first event since the 500, suffered first and second degree burns and shock Sunday when his car caught fire in the stretch of a 15 mile dirt track race at the Reading Fairgrounds.

Two Weeks

Physicians said the 40-year-old Altamont, N. Y., driver probably would be in the hospital two weeks. His condition was reported as "satisfactory."

Northampton American Legion Baseball Loop Announces Schedule For 1951 Campaign

Roseto — Ten games have been listed for the six clubs in the northern division of the Northampton County American Legion Baseball League, it was announced last night by Joe Martocci, manager of the Martocci-Capoblanco Post team, of this locality.

Each of the games will be played on as many different dates and each club will meet the opposition on an equal number of occasions.

Opening Date

The American Legion season is scheduled to begin on Thursday, June 14 and continue through Friday, July 20.

In addition to the Roseto entry, teams from Pen Argyl, Nazareth, Bath, Wind Gap and Wilson Borough will take part in the flag race during the next two months.

Roseto opens the campaign on Friday, June 15, when the Martoccimen play host to Wind Gap, at Roseto Park.

The clubs alternate their home and away games, with Roseto finishing the campaign at Nazareth.

Pirates Pile Up Score While Beating Phillies

Philadelphia, (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates broke an eight game losing streak yesterday by trouncing the Philadelphia Phillies, 12-4. The Pirate victory also halted a four-game Phils winning skein.

Gus Bell paced the 17-hit Pirate attack against four Phillies pitchers with a single, double, triple and home run. Bell drove in four runs and scored two himself. Wally Westlake socked his fourteenth homer in the third. Granny Hamner and Richie Ashburn homered for the Phils.

Hit Hard

The Pirates drove starter Russ Meyer to cover in quick order, tagging him for seven hits and five runs in two and a third innings.

Ralph Kiner's outfield fly scored "Hank" Schenz with the first Pittsburgh run and Bell's triple scored "Rocky" Nelson in the first inning.

Bell's fifth home run of the season was hit off reliefer Milo Candini in the fifth.

The Pirates added five more in the eighth inning off Bob Miller. Nelson drove home three runs with a bases-clearing triple.

The Phils drove starter Bob Friend to cover with a seventh inning rally, scoring three runs.

Tigers Sign Infielder

Detroit (AP)— The Detroit Tigers announced yesterday the signing of Frank Bolling, 19-year-old second base prospect from Mobile, Ala., to a baseball contract.

Terming the Spring Hill (Ala.) College sophomore "one of the most sought-after prospects of the south," a Tiger spokesman said he was signed by scout Bill Pierre after "spirited bidding."

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

TUESDAY, JUNE 5, 1951

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Fresh bright outlook. Tune yourself for big effort. First analyze, make plans, then keep them. Forget personal desires, concentrate on what you think is tops. You'll win.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Influences fine for wise endeavor. Ask those who know if in doubt. Don't mind if others get some of your credit, there is enough to go around and you will increase your prestige.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—If you don't go off balance or take too much for granted you can put in fine day's work. Check angles, don't risk it to chance. Heart interests need delicate handling by both sides.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—No time to go overboard spending, making promises that's would be costly if not completed. Know your capacity, what is good for you, hold conscientiously to your part of the bargain.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Generous rays to assist you energetic, hard workers on honest side of ledger. Direct your activities that you may have some time to relax, spend enjoyable period with friends.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—The green light in business and professional matters in general. Real estate, investments well checked, needed building, merchandising foods, useful salables among top favored.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—The keen, if gracious, will put over the big deals successfully today. Aspects favor sharp, clever management, science, construction work, traveling. Social work highly rated.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—[illegible] for new ideas well planned, duly sanctioned good investments, some venture some deals. Keep in touch with current affairs, but don't try everything alone. Pray for guidance.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Some mixed conditions call for thoughtful, analytical action. Don't be skeptical, just be on guard sensibly. Be an interested part of your civic and state government.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Disregard little discrepancies of others, blue talk, fear, rumors. Remain calm, make sure of motives before acting. Use God given gifts rightly, be kind to those less fortunate.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Couple your best qualities with others' and you will experience strong gains, will make fewer mistakes. Watch undercurrents from unexpected sources. Be awake to deals around you.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Smooth, systematic method will bring good returns under fairly benefic aspects. Overcome obstacles by consistency, sturdy action. Avoid useless legal or personal differences.

YOU BORN TODAY are of the Sign Gemini, ruled by Mercury. Intellectual, wide-awake type. But you must combine with education and hold to your religion; keep dairos in line. You are versatile, can handle most any work or profession when you become really interested. Gemini native's biggest problem is himself. When you recognize your faults and curb them you can accomplish great things. Use your best traits and mental faculties rightly and reach top of success ladder. Be honorable always. Birthdate: Adam Smith, noted economist.

Real Estate Boards Fight Rent Controls

Washington (AP)—Federal rent controls came in for sharp attack and defense yesterday in the battle over President Truman's request for a two-year extension of government control powers generally.

Calvin K. Snyder, speaking for the National Association of Real Estate Boards, told the Senate Banking committee that the government should keep hands off rents.

But in Akron, O., Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods said he is fighting for a stronger rent control law because every American family is vitally affected.

"Rent is a major item in the family budget," Woods said in a talk before the Akron Real Estate board. "There can be no stabilization of the cost of living and hence no overall stabilization unless rents are stabilized."

On Capitol Hill, Snyder argued that state and local authorities—not the Federal government—should handle rent questions, and he told senators:

"We can expect more justice close to home than we can at the hands of far away political manipulators."

In other developments:

First. President Walter P. Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers told the Senate committee that labor is willing to accept wage stabilization only if it is geared to "a thoroughgoing program of equality of sacrifice."

Second. Stanley H. Huttenberg, CIO director of education and research, told the Senate committee that the defense production act, as now written, has failed to serve as a weapon against inflation.

"Its loopholes must be plugged," Ruttenberg said. "Its inadequacies must be replaced with authority for firm action."

Third. Chairman George W. Taylor of the Wage Stabilization board urged the Senate committee to extend the authority for wage and price controls as an aid to the nation's mobilization program.

Slate Belt Area Students To Graduate At Lafayette

The following students from the Slate Belt will be graduated from Lafayette College at commencement exercises on Friday:

Robert Cotton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Cotton, 426 S. Main St., Bangor, will receive the degree of bachelor of arts. He was on the dean's list.

Durwood R. Kressler, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Russell Kressler, of 32 N. Fourth St., Bangor, will receive the degree of bachelor of science in electrical engineering. He was a member of the college choir.

Earl H. Lehr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Lehr, of 438 S. Third St., Bangor, will receive the degree of bachelor of arts. He was a member of the German club, Debate council, International Relations society, and vice president of Kirby society.

Ralph D. Stampone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Stampone, of 537 Brown Ave., Bangor, will receive the degree of bachelor of arts. He is a member of Theta Xi fraternity and the Cosmopolitan club.

John T. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip T. Miller, formerly of Pen Argyl, now of Bloomsbury, N. J., will receive the degree of bachelor of arts. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, was on the dean's list, a member of Markle society, Geology club, college choir and Banjo club.

William H. Saltern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Saltern, of 513 George St., Pen Argyl, will receive the degree of bachelor of arts. He is a member of Kappa Phi Kappa fraternity, was student director of the college band and was a member of the concert and dance band. He played in the All-State college band.

Donald F. Smale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smale, of 631 George St., Pen Argyl, will receive the degree of bachelor of arts. He is a member of Kappa Phi Kappa fraternity.

Thomas Sandercock, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sandercock, N. Broadway, Wind Gap, will receive the degree of bachelor of science in administrative engineering.

Big Giraffe To Accompany Circus Here

For the first time in many years, a large giraffe will be a visitor in the twin boroughs on Thursday of next week. The big fellow is in the menagerie of King Brothers Three-Ring Circus, which will give two performances on Thursday, June 14 at the old Stroud Ball park, Day St., East Stroudsburg.

The circus makes the claim that this is the largest giraffe in captivity.

King Brothers are coming here under the auspices of the local Lions club and the club stands to provide by a commission up to 50 per cent on all sales made in advance of circus day. On sales made at the circus ticket wagon, reserved seats etc., the club receives a smaller commission.

The famous Christianis are part of the circus ensemble, their act including the famous Lucio, one of the greatest of bareback comedians.

Tickets are now on sale at various places in the boroughs and from members of the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg Lions club.

Shawnee

Mrs. Reginald D. Smith spent Saturday night in New York visiting Mrs. Ralph Sleicher, formerly of Shawnee.

Binniekill lodge, owned by Tommy Cullen, opened for the season on Memorial day.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Flather and daughter, Linda, spent Saturday night at the Shawnee inn en route from St. Augustine, Fla. to Winter Harbor, Maine, where they will open the Grindstone inn, which Mr. Flather recently purchased on June 25 for the summer season.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bixler Jr. and baby moved on Sunday from Stroudsburg to their home at Hialeah Park.

Lenox Reid returned home on Friday night after attending the auto races at the Indianapolis Speedway on Decoration Day.

Mrs. Richard Lee celebrated her birthday on Monday, which was also Mrs. John Heller's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald D. Smith are celebrating their thirty-third wedding anniversary today.

Mr. and Mrs. William U. Roulette drove to New York on Friday to attend the wedding and reception the next day of the daughter of the latter's cousin, Mrs. Jean Lebailly.

Heat Puts Crimp In Commencement

Athens, Ga. (AP) — Twelve persons fainted and some 200 others were forced to leave Sanford stadium and seek shade during graduation exercises for 1,200 students at the University of Georgia yesterday.

A physician said his thermometer registered 110 degrees inside the stadium though the official temperature was only 89.

City health personnel and an ambulance driver circulated through the stands with smelling salts to revive those who felt faint.

Court Upholds NLRB Ban On Picketing

Washington (AP) —The Supreme court held yesterday the Taft-Hartley act's ban on secondary boycotts forbids picketing aimed at forcing a general contractor to drop a subcontractor who employs non-union workers.

The 6-3 ruling upheld a National Labor board contention that such picketing, specifically affecting the building of a large structure in Denver, amounted to a secondary boycott.

A secondary boycott is an effort by a union to win a labor dispute by trying to force a disinterested party not to do business with the employer directly involved in the dispute.

In a similar case, the court ruled that the Taft-Hartley law also bans union picketing and work stoppages on small house repair and wiring jobs.

Another 6-3 decision however, upheld picketing at a Louisiana rice mill. The mill pickets tried to induce employes of a neutral firm not to cross a picket line. In this case, the court said the Taft-Hartley law was not violated because there was no "concerted" activity by pickets within the meaning of the act.

King Cancels Appointments; Plans Full Rest

London, (AP) — King George VI, suffering from a lung inflammation, has cancelled all public engagements for at least four weeks.

An announcement from Buckingham palace last night said the King had been advised to take a complete rest by his doctors and had "reluctantly" agreed.

Princess Elizabeth, heiress to the throne, will take over most of the King's engagements.

The King, 55, frequently has been ill in recent years. Last night's announcement said "the catarrhal inflammation in the King's lung has not entirely disappeared, though His Majesty's general condition has improved."

The Sino-Japanese war was in 1894 and 1895.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Additional Girls Enter Competition

Four more princesses have entered the contest for Laurel Blossom Time coronation ball at Shawnee Inn June 20—a brilliant affair complete with fashion show and an outstanding screen, stage, radio and TV personality as the 1951 Laurel Blossom Queen.

Details of the fashion show, completely professional with latest American and foreign fashions, were virtually settled yesterday.

Opening today, Laurel Blossom Time will run to June 25. The coronation ball at $5 per person will also feature Tommy Tucker's band of the year for dancing.

This year's ball is part of a plan to create a permanent Laurel Blossom Time fund. Committee directing the affair said yesterday ticket sales are starting to more rapidly. Joe Vogt, Barrett township, purchased a block of six tickets.

The committee said people will be buying more than just a ticket to a brilliantly color spectacle and ball. They will be investing in the future of the Pocono region.

Mr. Vogt said yesterday, when he purchased tickets, that he would like to help promote the affair by distributing posters since Laurel Time publicity — based on past performance — is the best medium for influencing travel and vacation-wise people to the Pocono Mountains region.

Laurel Blossom Time observances ended in 1936. Prior to that for several years this region held festivals outdoing the Shenandoah Valley Apple Blossom festivals in Virginia and many others.

Publicity reaped from those affairs reached to the National Geographic Magazine, one of the most conservative but widely read and quoted authorities in magazine class in the world.

Judge Chester H. Rhodes, president of Pennsylvania's Superior court, then a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature, had the laurel blossom adopted as the State flower.

Revival of these tremendous events, but on a more modern scale, is the basic aim of this year's affair. Plan is to build up a fund sufficient to get next year's observance going early and on an extravaganza scale which will attract many thousands of persons and provide basis for a tremendous amount of free publicity for this region.

Princess contestants who entered snapshots yesterday for display in the E.A. Bell window and later judging for princess rolls with high school princesses of the Poconos region are:

Catherine Laccaro, office girl at Patterson-Kelley. She's 18, five feet five, 123 pounds, brunette, brown eyes.

Ellin Anne Coleman, office girl Patterson-Kelley Co., 18, five feet five, 123 pounds, brunette, brown eyes.

Mary O'Donnell, Hughes Printing Co., who resides at 117 Centre St., East Stroudsburg, was Miss Stardust representing Pennsylvania in 1950. Miss O'Donnell has blue eyes, light brown hair and is 19.

Nina Weber, 20, who just completed her Junior year at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Miss Weber now works at Shawnee inn. She has light brown hair, hazel eyes and is five feet six inches tall.

MOMENTARY HAPPINESS—Cancer-doomed Betty Thompson, 18, is carried by her sailor fiance, Tom Amburn, 19, from a hospital in Atlanta, Ga. The bluejacket was granted special leave by the Navy to visit Betty, whose disease was not halted after amputation of her right leg. Wedding plans were postponed when Amburn's leave was cancelled because he went on to South Dakota to visit his mother who became ill when advised of his plans to wed Betty.

Amburn, Suffering Case Of Nerves, Enters Hospital; Wedding Plans Postponed

Norfolk, Va., (AP)—A heartsick sailor, confused by the misfiring of his plans to wed an incurably ill cancer victim, was admitted to a naval hospital for treatment yesterday.

He was put to bed at the air station dispensary on his return from emergency leave. The Navy declined to comment on his condition other than to call it "a case of nerves."

The sailor, Thomas E. Amburn, 19, of Sioux Falls, S. D., had been given a 30-day leave last week to go to the bedside of the girl physicians give only four months to live —18-year-old Betty Thompson of Atlanta, Ga.

Tom saw Betty at Atlanta. Then he flew to Sioux Falls, to clear things with his parents. And the Navy cancelled his leave. This was done, the Navy said, because Amburn went to Sioux Falls after giving East Point, Ga., as his emergency address.

On his way back to the naval station Sunday night the sailor said during a stopover at Omaha, Neb., that plans for the wedding had been postponed indefinitely.

In Atlanta, Miss Thompson's family said she was calm about developments and still has her chin up.

She has lost a leg due to cancer. Now it has attacked a lung.

Two Slayings Close Mines

Logan, W. Va. (AP)—An estimated 3,600 men stayed out of work yesterday as the aftermath of a dispute among United Mine Workers in which two were killed and another wounded.

The men had voted Sunday to work, but changed their minds without explanation after showing up early yesterday. They all are employed by the Island Creek Coal Co.

The dispute was over coal hauling by an employe, Elmer Farley, 38, on his days off.

Farley, who is charged with murder, told Prosecutor Chauncey Browning he shot three men Saturday in self-defense when they approached him while he was loading coal.

Charles Wells, 45-year-old local union president, and Robert Whorley, 40, were killed. Major Thompson, 28, is in a hospital with an abdominal wound.

Farley is being held in the nearby Cabell county jail "for several days because it seems like a good idea," the police authorities said.

Sicily Gives Bare Majority To DeGasperi

Palermo, Sicily (AP) — Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrat party appeared early today to have squeezed out a hairline victory over a Communist-Socialist bloc in Sicily's stormy regional assembly election.

An unofficial tabulation reported by the Ministry of Interior's board of election from all the island's 3,827 precincts showed:

Christian Democrats, 668,12.

Communist-Socialist bloc, 644,652.

The results were in sharp contrast with town and provincial elections in a third of Italy a week ago, when the Christian Democrats polled 41.1 per cent of the vote to 21.9 per cent for the Communist-Socialist grouping.

The outcome in Sicily was in doubt until almost the very end of tabulations. Most of the way through the 2,189,866 count the Red bloc held the lead. They dominated in small towns and rural areas and were squeezed out only by the showing of the Christian Democrats in the major cities of Palermo, Messina and Catania.

Even so, the Communist alliance had a clear gain over their 1948 general election showing in Sicily, when they polled only 465,088 to 961,824 for the Christian Democrats.

Civil Defense Fund Requested

Harrisburg (AP) — A bill appropriating $20,000,000 for operation of Pennsylvania's new civil defense organization was introduced in the House yesterday.

The bill, submitted by Rep. Norman Wood (R-Lancaster) would earmark $1,200,000 for administrative purposes and the remainder for reserve contingencies in event of an emergency.

Collapse Of Chiang Traced To Ineptness

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson denied yesterday the United States was guilty of "undermining and undercutting" Nationalist China in the Yalta agreement which brought Russia into the war against Japan.

The reason the Chiang Kai-shek government collapsed, he argued, was not the 1945 Yalta agreement but its own "inept political and military leadership."

Acheson told senators in the MacArthur ouster inquiry there never has been any taint of Communist influence in deciding U.S. policy toward China. He said this was true today as well as in the past.

"I do not believe there was or is any Communist influence any way affecting the determination of Chinese policy, either then nor now," he said.

Acheson wound up his third day of testimony at 5:10 p.m. He will return at 10 a.m. today.

In the Yalta agreement in January, 1945, Russia agreed to enter the war against Japan in return for certain concessions in Asia.

Acheson said the agreement was made mainly as a guarantee that Russian troops would engage almost 2,000,000 Japanese troops in Asia andi prevent them from returning to Japan which Gen. Douglas MacArthur was then planning to invade. He said it was supported by Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill, as well as President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Premier Stalin.

Questioned by Senator Morse (R-Ore), Acheson agreed the Japanese on the Asia mainland surrendered to the Russians as a matter of military necessity "even though in hindsight we wish that we had other forces to whom the surrender might have been made."

Morse asked Acheson if he agreed with the implications that because Chiang was not present for that surrender "the United States was therefore guilty of undermining and undercutting an ally?"

Acheson replied: "I do not agree with that version."

Senator Smith (R-NJ) asked if the Yalta agreement didn't play into Russia's hands.

"Wasn't that what Russia was driving it," he said, "to get into it at the eleventh hour, so that she could take part in the peace settlement and get a bite of China?"

Acheson: "I do not think that that was the principal point. Our efforts were to get the Russians into the war so that she could occupy the (Japanese) troops on the mainland and not have those troops free to engage in the battle for Japan which was impending."

Smith: "You think that is a justification for our having made a secret agreement that in effect legalized the theft of parts of China and interests in China from the Chinese without their knowing anything about it or without their being represented and keeping it from them until the Russians had moved into Manchuria so that nothing could be done about it very much, even if they had wanted to?"

Acheson: "That was the reason why it was done. Looking at it in the light of what was known at that time, I doubt very much whether anyone in this room would have disagreed with it."

Smith: "I can't help but feel that it would have been very difficult for me to have undercut an ally in that way, and then keep the matter secret from the ally."

Acheson: "If you heard the full military story and the losses that this government was going to take, I think you would have thought differently, Senator Smith."

Acheson said he knows of no Chinese forces—either on Formosa or on the mainland — strong enough to overthrow the Red regime in China.

He declared U. S. policy is based firmly on the principle of "deep interest and friendship for the Chinese people."

Introduce Measure

Harrisburg (AP) — A new bill to extend occupational disease benefits to police and firemen who contract heart disease or tuberculosis while on duty—was introduced in the Senate last night.

Daily Record's Cooking School Ends Wednesday

The last of four free Daily Record cooking school sessions will be held Wednesday in the Sherman Theater, Stroudsburg. Doors will open at 9 a. m. and sessions will start promptly at 9:30.

Scores of fine gifts for the homemaker will be given to those in attendance. In addition, those woh have been faithful in attendance throughout the cooking school series, and who have visited the participating merchants, will be eligible for the grand prizes.

Misses Grace Shankweiler and Katherine Guldin, home economists of the Pennsylvania Power & Light Co., will lecture, demonstrate and cook various foods at the cooking school session.

Admission is free. All expenses are borne by The Daily Record and the participating business places.

OPS To Put Price Lids On 15 Foods

Washington, (AP)— Price Director Michael V. DiSalle announced yesterday that within 30 days he plans to clamp price lids on 15 or 20 food items in a community-by-community program modelled after the wartime OPA.

DiSalle gave no hint as to the items to be controlled.

He outlined his program to the United Labor Policy committee which has been sharply critical of price controls on the ground that they have failed to check inflation.

The government official said prices would have to vary by communities across the country because products could be obtained cheaper in some areas than in others.

That was the way OPA controlled prices during World War Two, instead of having a nationwide ceiling.

DiSalle told newsmen that ceiling prices on beef will be listed in butcher shops beginning June 18 as the first move in his fight to hold down food costs. He noted that food makes up at least 34 per cent of the family budget in the Federal cost-of-living index.

DiSalle indicated that veal would be another of the meat items to be placed under ceiling lists, but said pork is now selling below parity prices.

Under the 1950 defense production act, farm products are exempt from ceilings if they are selling below parity or below pre-Korean war levels.

Parity is the government's guarantee to farmers that they will receive a fair return on their crops in relation to the prices of goods they buy. The formula changes from month to month as prices rise or fall.

DiSalle told reporters that the cost of living is "pretty close to being stabilized right now."

Costly Blaze Hits Passaic

Passaic, N.J. (AP) — Fire raged out of control for five hours in the heart of downtown Passaic yesterday, gutting a big electrical appliance store and damaging dozens of others.

Fire Lt. Louis Greenberg estimated damage at a "very conservative half a million dollars," but said that heavy smoke damage to the city's best downtown stores would send the cost much higher.

Only a ruined shell was left of the two-story Arrow Electric Co., where the fire started. One of the largest of its kind in the state, the store sold television sets, refrigerators, records and phonographs and hundreds of other appliances.

A thick pall of acrid black smoke hung over this city of 60,000 and drifted over much of a neighboring county.

Bridge Bill Passes

Harrisburg (AP) — The Senate last night passed a bill authorizing the Commonwealth to enter a compact with the state of New Jersey to construct a bridge across the Delaware river for the Pennsylvania turnpike. The measure went to the House.

Allies Beat Off Enemy Counterblows

Tokyo, Tuesday (AP)—Allied forces battled slowly northward along a rain-drenched valley corridor in North Korea yesterday after beating off a furious Chinese counterattack 10 miles south of the big Communist base of Chorwon.

Three other Communist counterblows were repulsed on the west-central front alone. Lesser blows were countered elsewhere on the 125-mile long battle line.

Allied gains ranged up to two and one-fifth miles — the U. S. Eighth Army communique announced.

United Nations infantrymen, armor and artillery were drilling close to the sensitive nerve center of the main Chinese defense network along the western and central fronts, field dispatches said.

Massed artillery, the most effective U. N. ground weapon, roared in ever-increasing volume but at some points proved ineffective. Chinese entrenched in five-year-old bunkers and concealed by fresh spring foliage had to be dug out by flame-thrower, hand grenade and rifle.

The Communists struck back so fiercely on the central front, northwest of Hwachon, that frontline officers said they believed segments of the main Red Chinese line had been hit.

The Reds counterattacked northwest of Hwachon, at Chail, Yonchon and Yongong—all key points on the west-central and central fronts. They control the approaches to the so-called Communist "iron triangle" formed by the bases of Chorwon, Kumhwa and Pyongyang. Chorwon is 17 miles north of 38 and Kumhwa 20 miles north of the old boundary.

Allied tanks and foot troops ran into a hornets nest at Chail, 10 miles southeast of Chorwon and two miles north of newly-captured Yonchon.

Chail is the gateway to two valleys leading directly to both Chorwon and Kumhwa.

The Reds massed in undetermined numbers on ridges near there and attacked the Allied spearhead but were beaten off. Then they surged back at midday to keep the force under heavy pressure, the Eighth Army said.

DiSalle Claims Beef Supply Up; Workers Laid Off

Washington (AP) — Price Director Michael V. DiSalle said last night a survey of 160 cities in all sections of the country shows that the supply of beef available now is as great or greater than a month ago.

DiSalle thus replied to predictions by western cattle raisers that his recent controversial order for a rollback on beef prices would lead to shortages and a revival of World War Two black market conditions.

But even as DiSalle told newsmen of the survey's findings, the big meat-packing firm of John Morrell and Co. disclosed in Ottumwa, Ia., that it has directed all its salesmen to quit selling beef until further notice.

The company reported substantial layoffs in beef killing gangs at its plants in Ottumwa, Sioux Falls, S. D., and Topeka, Kans.

A spokesman said the firm had been unable to buy cattle in compliance with DiSalle's rollback order on prices.

Ask The Senator!

(An Editorial)

The Associated Press last night carried a disturbing "report" that Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe (R-Monroe) and Sen. George M. Wage (R-Cumberland) were ready to withdraw their opposition to Gov. John S. Fine's vicious one-half of one per cent personal income tax proposal.

We say disturbing—although we are not given to swallowing rumors—simply because both Senator Crowe and Senator Wade refused to confirm or deny the "report."

While loss of these two votes by those opposed to the tax is not sufficient to give the Fine administration the voting edge it needs to pass the income tax or even a sales tax, we would remind every citizen of Monroe county that on two occasions Senator Crowe has had statewide publicity for his opposition against an income tax, a sales tax and for his exact proposals for economies in the State budget.

We don't think he's forgotten those two major public statements. We do think, however, a wave of wires—labor particularly has an important opportunity—should remind the senator that he made them and that he must make a prompt denial of the Associated Press report.

Fine Presses For Support Of Income Tax As Reports Hint Crowe May Shift Vote

Harrisburg, (AP)—The Fine administration fought an uphill battle last night for Senate approval of the House-passed one-half of one per cent income tax.

Its work was confined principally to behind-the-scenes pressure to bring into line Republican senators who turned in last month against Gov. John S. Fine's controversial $119,000,000 levy.

Two of the GOP senators—George N. Wade (Cumberland) and Montgomery F. Crowe (Monroe)—were reportedly ready to withdraw their opposition. Both, however, refused to confirm or deny the report.

But the administration would still have to woo another half dozen GOP senators into its camp to assure passage of the income levy. The 20-vote Democratic bloc is solidly against it. Votes of 26 of the 30 Republican senators are needed for passage.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, declared his colleagues will vote against all new tax bills "until facts and figures on the Commonwealth's budget are given to the Legislature."

The income tax bill has been bottled up in the Senate Finance committee since eleven Republicans refused to support it.

Spot developments in the assembly were scanty as the lawmakers returned to work for the 23rd week of the 1951 session after a week's recess due to the Memorial day holiday.

The Senate gave initial approval to a proposed amendment to the State Constitution permitting county treasurers to succeed themselves. It went to the House.

The Senate also passed finally a House bill increasing the State allocations to local highway units from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 a year. It went to the Governor.

The bill increases the motor fund allocations from local road work from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 and provides an extra $3,000,000 for distribution on a matching basis to cities, towns, boroughs and townships.

In another action, a Senate-passed bill requiring public employes in Pennsylvania to take a loyalty oath went back to committee for further study.

The bill, in addition to requiring loyalty oaths by public employes, would also require such vows by elected officials.

West Regards Soviet Note As Rejection

Paris (AP) — Russia agreed yesterday to hold a foreign ministers meeting in Washington — but added an "if" so big that western diplomats said it amounted to a rejection.

A Soviet note, handed to deputy foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France in Paris, said Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky would go to Washington "without delay" for a Big Four meeting on the condition that the ministers discuss the North Atlantic pact and U. S. bases in Europe.

The four deputies have been meeting here for 13 weeks trying to write an agenda for the foreign ministers. They have agreed on several items but have been deadlocked on whether the agenda should include western defense preparations.

The note presented to the West yesterday by Soviet Deputy Andrei Gromyko made it clear that Russia is not backing down on her insistence that these questions be included.

Western delegates promptly told Gromyko they would forward his note to their governments, but that it "amounts to a refusal of the Soviet government" to attend the foreign ministers conference.

Butler's Campaign Manager Fined $5,000

Baltimore, (AP) — Violating Maryland election laws cost Jon M. Jonkel, 35-year-old former Chicago public relations man, $5,000 in fines yesterday.

Jonkel got $1,250 a month for acting as campaign manager for Senator Butler (R-MD) during the 1950 primary and general elections.

Jonkel entered guilty pleas to six counts charging him with violating the Maryland election laws by:

One — Acting as Butler's political agent without having been formally designated as such and without being a citizen or resident of the state.

Two—Failing to file a detailed report of campaign receipts and expenditures. as required.

Three—Failing to keep proper books and records of financial matters. Each charge was doubled one for the primary and one for the general election.

Jonkel admitted the violations, but said they were merely "technical violations done without malice or deliberation" and were "inadvertent."

Not so, said Criminal Court Judge Joseph Sherbow.

"These violations are more — much more—than mere technical violations," the judge said.

They involved "serious violations" of the law, he added, and "the fact that they occurred under the pressures of a political campaign, by one not a resident of this state and unfamiliar with our laws and practices, is no excuse."

But the judge said he would take into consideration the background and record of Jonkel, and would not impose any prison sentence. Jonkel could have drawn a maximum of eight years in jail and $6,000 in fines.

The indictments against Jonkel grew out of a Senate subcommittee hearing on complaints by former Democratic Sen. Millard E. Tydings that Butler's campaign funds were handled irregularly and that the Republicans used "unfair tactics," including a composite photograph.

Butler beat Tydings by some 43,000 votes in the general election last fall.

High Court Rules Reds Periled U. S.

Washington (AP) — The Supreme court yesterday upheld the conspiracy convictions of the U.S. Communist party's 11 top leaders, holding that they "intended to overthrow the government of the United States as speedily as the circumstances would permit."

With Justices Douglas and Black dissenting from the history-making decision, and calling it a blow against freedom of speech, the court by the same 6 to 2 vote held the 1940 Smith act constitutional—thus opening the way for prosecution of thousands of rank-and-file Communists.

Attorney General J. Howard McGrath indicated that plans for such a Red roundup may already be in the works. Declaring this "a bad day for the conspirators," McGrath said the Justice department now can "proceed to give additional protection against those who seek to overthrow the government by violence."

McGrath was not specific about his plans, however, and there were indications that the department might confine any roundup to 75 or so state and district leaders prominent in the Communist party. One official pointed out that conspiracy would be easier to prove against a party leader than against a mere member.

For the 11 top leaders, yesterday's decision almost certainly meant prison terms beginning in about 30 days.

The high court, in a decision written by Chief Justice Vinson, ruled that they were "properly and constitutionally convicted" in New York of conspiring to teach and advocate the over throw of the government by force and violence, in violation of the Smith act.

Justices Reed, Burton and Minton joined in Vinson's opinion, which held that the Communist conspiracy "created a 'clear and present danger' of an attempt to overthrow the government by force and violence."

Justices Jackson and Frankfurter filed separate concurring opinions, in which they nevertheless expressed misgivings at the possible effect of the decision on freedom of expression. Justice Clark took no part in the case. The Communist officials were indicted while he was head of the Justice department.

The Red leaders involved are Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the U. S. Communist party, and these other members of the so-called "American Politburo": Benjamin J. Davis Jr., Gilbert Green, Robert G. Thompson, John Gates, John B. Williamson, Carl Winter, Gus Hall, Jacob Stachel, Henry Winston and Irving Potash.

All but Thompson were sentenced in October, 1949, at the end of their turbulent New York trial, to five years in prison. Thompson got a lighter sentence, three years, in view of his Pacific war service in the U. S. Army. Each of the 11 was fined $10,000.

Ten of the defendants have remained free in a total of $260,000 bail. The 11th, Dennis, was sent to jail for a year on a contempt of Congress charge not directly related to the conspiracy proceeding. He completed his sentence and was released on March 12.

While yesterday's decision lops off the leadership of the Communist party in America, in effect, it does not outlaw the party. The government is proceeding in another action to force registration of the party as a foreign-dominated agency, under the subversives control law passed last year.

Harold R. Medina was the judge at the Reds' trial. He accused the Communists of waging a calculated campaign to drive him from the bench.

Communist Party Attacks Decision

New York (AP) — The Communist party said last night the Supreme court, in upholding the Red conspiracy convictions, substituted the "Smith thought-control act for the Constitution's First amendment."

The Smith act, under which the 11 Communist leaders were convicted, makes it a crime to teach or advocate the forcible overthrow of the government.

The statement, issued by party general secretary Eugene Dennis, said "the sole 'guilt' of the Communist leaders is their advocacy of peace and social progress — their opposition to war and fascism."

Dennis, one of the convicted Communists, still is free in bail.

Chances Good For Amicable Negotiations In Iran Dispute

Tehran, Iran, (AP)—The chances for amicable negotiations in Iran's explosive oil dispute with Britain were better yesterday despite a strange mixup in President Truman's letters to the premiers of the two nations.

There were strong indications that Premier Mohammed Mossadegh was pleased to get the promise Sunday from the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. (AICO) to send a delegation from London to undertake "full and frank discussions."

One reason, it was reported, is that the premier is worried over Iran's finances since his oil royalties from the billion dollar company have been cut off. He has declined to discuss the question of receiving advance payments on prospective profits because that would imply the continued existence of AIOC, a company which the nationalization law declares is abolished.

Important observers said there was an air of satisfaction and relief among some Iranian leaders that conversations are about to begin.

Informants close to U. S. ambassador Henry F. Grady said there are indications that Mossadegh is depending on the ambassador as a sort of informal mediator.

Iranian chiefs took the view that the company had surrendered to nationalization. It was noted, however that AIOC reserved "its legal rights" and in fact fixed its own terms of reference by proposing "full and frank discussions."

British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison told the House of Commons that Britain is sticking to the view that the oil dispute involves the British government and is not just a private affair between Iran and the oil company. More than half its stock is owned by the British government, but Mossadegh has refused to dicker with the British government.

Mossadegh and Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi were reported amused at the mistake by which Grady delivered to the premier on Friday a letter from President Truman that was intended for Prime Minister Attlee of Britain.

Grady told reporters he saw "no serious consequences" from the "error in telegraphic transmission," but he did not look lightly on the unique bobble.

He had been informed that a letter to Massadegh was coming. When the message arrived Friday, he assumed it was the one, only to learn a day late, on Saturday, that it was the letter for Attlee. Attlee, he said, "got the right one." A copy of the letter to Mossadegh also went to London for the information of officials there.

The two missives were similar in content. In both, the president urged the parties to negotiate.

Spreading Price War Gains Momentum; Crowd Pushes Shoppers Through Window

New York (AP) — Bargain hunters renewed their assault on New York City's department stores yesterday as a spreading price war gathered momentum.

Other cities got into the act.

Cash registers jingled a merry tune. New York department stores noted that the first four days of the price war had boosted last week's sales close to recent scare-buying levels.

Sales for the week ended June 2 were up 25 per cent over the same week a year ago, a Federal Reserve bank survey showed.

By contrast, Philadelphia department stores showed a marked drop. Some merchants theorized Philadelphia shoppers were holding back, waiting for a price war to break out in that city.

Brand new price wars flared in Baltimore, Md.; Newark, N.J., and Omaha, Neb.

New items appeared on bargain counters in New York, some as replacements for cut-rate merchandise which had been sold out in last week's scramble. New price cuts went into effect. Prices of some items fell progressively during the day as merchants strove to meet competition.

Two New York shoppers were severely cut when a crowd fighting to get into a Bronx store pushed them through a plate glass window.

Macy's, which last week sold out its $46.50 Sunbeam Mixmasters at $29.64, switched to another nationally advertised brand. A favorite among bargain-seekers in the big Herald Square store yesterday was the Dormeyer Mixer, price fixed at $46.50 and reduced to $28.67.

Shoppers with headaches bought Bayer Aspirin at the cut rate price of 17 cents a hundred tablets in some New York stores. The fair traded price is 59 cents.

The price war had its freakish aspects—some men's suits, including coat and pants, selling for less than the jacket alone. Macy's cut the price of its $27.50 Sir Preme lightweight suits to $15.24. The price of the jacket sold separately was cut from $21 to $19.74—so the jacket alone costs $4.50 more than the coat-and-trousers combination. The cut rate suits went fast and as the day wore on only odd sizes could be had. There were plenty of suits at regular prices.

For the ladies. Macy's offered nylon slips at $4.09, reduced from $4.64. Folding baby carriages and 9-by-12-foot rugs were added to the bargain list. When the store ran out of Toastmasters, it offered Westinghouse automatic toasters in their stead—at $13.11, reduced from $22.95. Gimbel's sold RCA's $12.95 35-rpm record playing attachment for $8.24. Bloomingdales tied a $21.65 price tag to its $29.95 Coffeematic percolator. Abraham & Straus knocked $20 off the price of Regina floor polishers, fair traded at $59.95.

Rules For Good Plastering Job

The first coat of plaster should be applied with considerable force in order to squeeze the material into the spaces between the laths and up against the lath so the plaster will hold firmly. Good troweling uses up more material than poor work, and this should be allowed for.

All coats of plaster should be well trowled and the last coat should be evenly applied over the entire surface. If plaster is uneven the carpenters cannot apply window casings, baseboards, etc., tightly because of the uneven surface.

House Determines Type Of Spouts

Down spouts may be made of copper, zinc, sheet lead or galvanized iron. Copper and galvanized iron are used most frequently in the United States. Both these materials should be corrugated (having a wrinkled surface) to permit ice which may form inside to expand with consequent expansion of the metal without injury. Square down spouts are also preferable to round ones, although many of the latter shape are found on dwellings. The style of the house determines the shape of the down spout.

Cabbage is grown in most parts of the world, but chiefly in temperate areas.

"QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS"

Blessed Anaesthesia

Two Pittsburgh physicians have made extensive clinical tests by which they believe the United States can be independent of foreign supplies of poppies from which morphine is derived.

If their tests are as conclusive as the doctors believe, then their synthetic new drug made from coal tar will not only be a more effective pain-killer than morphine but will insure a constant supply should this country be isolated from its normal supply of an essential anaesthetic.

What they have discovered in their tests of dromoran, used by them in more than 300 after-surgery cases, is that the new drug gives complete relief from pain in a considerably larger percentage of cases than did morphine, and that nausea is materially decreased.

The United States and the world at large will welcome the discovery of these doctors, and honor them for their successful research should the initial tests prove out in general practice. From the earliest use of drugs to deaden pain, replacing the terrible suffering of earlier days when surgery was undergone without anaesthesia of any kind, the world of medicine has been studying and searching for better drugs to relieve the horror of pain.

May experience prove that the new discovery is one that will bring relief from pain and nausea to unnumbered thousands.

Smock Strike

There may have been more obscure reasons for throwing 10,000 men out of work than refusal of a few of them to wear the kind of work clothes issued by a factory, but offhand we can think of none.

Yet that is what happened at a Detroit automobile plant, where a recalcitrant 66 workers threw the whole works out on strike because they felt it was undignified for them to wear the smocks given them by the company in place of the more conventional overalls.

Somehow or other, the whole thing sounds silly. What the difference may be between a smock and a sort of linen duster worn by some motor mechanics is difficult to understand, but maybe there is a difference.

Of course, the inalienable right of every citizen to refuse to wear something like a smock might be explained by the Bill of Rights, but it still appears a minor point on which to close a big plant and lose a lot of pay for the workers who were not in on the smock distribution.

Fond Relatives

Large estates have a decided tendency to create strong posthumous regard for relatives that contrasts decidely with that shown during lifetime. A Philadelphia judge must have had this in mind the other day.

Mrs. Mary Fuller Frazier, who died August 6, 1948, left $1,865,953 to the western Pennsylvania mining town of Perryopolis. Relatives promptly began a contest of the will.

At a Philadelphia Orphans Court hearing, Judge Mark Lefever interrupted to point out that the six contesting cousins hadn't been mentioned in eight or ten earlier wills of Mrs. Frazier. His comment was that, assuming the relationship to be valid, he felt the law required that they show they would have an interest in the estate if they won the action they had instituted.

So if you want to share that rich uncle's estate, it might be well to establish yourself in his good graces while he lives, Judge Lefever seems to advise.

Looking Back These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

10 Years Ago

Retires — Adam Knierim, of East Stroudsburg, has retired after working for the DL&W Railroad for fifty-eight years.

Anniversary — Officers and teachers of St. John's Lutheran Church school are planning a celebration of the 74th Anniversary of its organization. Mrs. Harold Dreher is chairman.

Entertained — Miss Elizabeth Hubbard, of Bushkill, entertained the St. Mary's Guild of Christ Episcopal church and made plans for a card party.

Graduation — Three hundred persons attended Commencement exercises at Coolbaugh Township High school, Tobyhanna. Miss Jean Saxe, Tobyhanna, and Miss Anne Mazurik, Gouudsboro, were valedictorian and salutatorian.

20 Years Ago

Firemen Save block — A fire yesterday which threatened to envelope a whole block of buildings on Main Street, Stroudsburg, was knocked down by efficient firemen. Buildings owned by the Mary J. Pipher estate and Theodore Dreher estate were ablaze, threatening to destroy the Overfield grocery and meat store, Salathe Delicatessen and bakery, with apartments overhead occupied by James Shadel, Mrs. Mary Danforth, Mrs. Dorothy Haney, Mrs. Mary Drake and Jennie Enniver. The blaze spread fanwise to the two wooden buildings. Fire Chief Horace Heller and Assistant Chief Henry Ruster and their efficient firemen succeeded in stopping the blaze after about $10,000 damage had occurred. The fire started early in the morning while the apartment dwellers were asleep.

Playgrounds — The Stroudsburg Playground directors decided to open the centers for the kiddies on June 22. Two new supervisors were elected, Miss Gertrude E. Muller and Samuel S. Everett.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Humor from abroad: In Israel, a citizen made a fortune selling prefabricated houses, but discovered he had to pay most of it in taxes. He signed his check with a deep sigh and remarked, "Over two thousand years we wait for a Jewish home state—and it has to happen to me."

In the Breton village of Cancale, Roger Vercel watched the traditional ceremony of the regional bishop blessing the fishermen before they set out for their annual two-month expedition on the high seas in their tiny vessels. Vercel said to the bishop, "They all revere you deeply, yet they all vote Communist. Can't you do anything about that?" "It's difficult," sighed the bishop. "They know that God controls the storms and tides, but the Communists, alas, control the price of fish."

And from Prague, word leaked out that the Propaganda Department had been the victim of a daring theft. Somebody walked off with the complete results of next year's elections.

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—"Mr. Imperium" is the tedious pursuit of 31-year-old Lana Turner by 59-year-old Ezio Pinza.

The color photography is nice—a few genuine long-shots of Italy, with the rugged Monterey, California, coast doubling in closer views. Pinza, the former Metropolitan Opera and "South Pacific" basso, sings beautifully—though mostly soft love ballads rather than full-throated stuff on which you'd like to hear him open up.

But the whole May-November romantic situation is, to adapt one of cute little Debbie Reynolds' words in the dialogue, "squidgy." Uncomfortable. Unpleasant. The graying, still regally handsome Pinza may have been able to charm the ladies from across the "South Pacific" footlights. But in more revealing movie close-ups—well, 28 years is too much difference in a screen romance.

Pinza plays the playboy prince of one of those presumably Balkan countries whose name we never hear. Lana is a showgirl touring Europe with her cowboy vocalists and singing, M-G-M insists, in her own voice. Pinza's preliminary passes get him nowhere — she'd rather have a cheese sandwich and a glass of milk on her balcony than spoon under the Mediterranean moon.

The mean old prime minister (Sir Cedric Hardwicke) separates them. Twelve years later they meet again in a Palm Springs, California, motel with interconnecting door and drawn drapes. Miss Turner, now a big Hollywood movie star, still palpitates for the prince. And he for her. But the mean old prime minister breaks things up again.

The doings perk up whenever Marjorie Main and Debbie Reynolds are around. Miss Main plays the motel proprietor, Debbie her niece.

Sokolsky

David Lawrence has altogether correctly called attention to a falsification of the impression, if not actually of the news, in the instance of a Pentagon press release to the effect that the Joint Chiefs of Staff had initiated the General MacArthur dismissal. This was aimed to counter MacArthur's speech before Congress.

We now know from the testimony of Generals Bradley, Collins and Vandenberg that the joint chiefs not only had not initiated the dismissal but that they were not consulted until after the decision was taken. The conference on the decision consisted of President Truman, General Marshall, Dean Acheson, Averell Harriman and General Bradley. Absent from the conference were the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Collins, Admiral Sherman and General Vandenberg. General Bradley is an impartial chairman of this body without vote and without actual chief of staff functions.

No member of the chiefs of staff will say that he gave out the false statement or that he knows who did. It was done by a Pentagon spokesman.

This is a device of American journalism that should be abandoned because it increases the possibility of falsehood in the news. What is a Pentagon spokesman, or a White House spokesman or any other kind of spokesman? He is a person with a name, address, birth certificate and probably a driver's license. He can be identified. He is known to the reporters who accept from his hand a mimeographed statement. He should be identified to the readers by name.

Men who have to stand by what they say tend to be more careful of the facts, although this generalization includes numerous exceptions, politicians, in particular, being assured by experience that the public memory is short. On the other hand, the record is long and available and men are often confronted by their errors of judgment and commission at the wrong time in their careers. The record should be kept straight, particularly as regards public issues.

The President and the Secretary of State have established the rule that they may not be quoted directly without their consent. This is an unfortunate rule because the paraphrased reports of what they do say at press conferences are often confusing and contradictory.

I have never attended a press conference because I have no desire to hear from officials in office anything which I cannot use, giving full responsibility to the provider of the information. Sometimes I am told that the quotations in this column are too long and too numerous. Yet, I feel that a quotation is better journalism that a paraphrase because it is more accurate. Also there are other men who are as wise as this columnist and their ideas might be even better phrased and often are.

Similarly when a press agent sends a yarn, I like to give his name. He is the source. If I choose to use such a source, I feel that the reader should know it. The reader alone ought to count in the journalism of free people. Protecting politicians by the device of the "spokesman" is not providing the reader with an essential and accurate fact, the source of the news.

As David Lawrence wrote:

"Sometimes it takes a month or more to catch up with official propaganda and demonstrate some of its untruth. By that time impressions and prejudices have been formed and the propaganda has taken effect. Yet, in the interest of truthful reporting, the inaccuracies and misleading statements have to be exposed, no matter when the facts become available."

Sometimes it takes years to catch up. For instance, the State Department propaganda that the Chinese Communists were not Communists but were Agrarian Reformers was a lie perpetrated from sometime around the end of 1943 to about 1949 (the terminals cannot be pinpointed). Yet General Marshall testified that he knew they were Communists in 1946 because they told him so. I knew they were Communists in 1922. I wrote the chapters in the "China Year Book" in the 1920's concerning their progress. I helped to write and I read reports American officials in China wrote from 1923 to 1931 on this subject, which should be in the files of the State Department.

Yet, I know well-disposed men who have accepted the State Department view because it came from such a source. This inevitable acceptance of authority places upon public officials the responsibility for what they say. But a "spokesman" is not responsible. He is often a press agent who does not even understand the purport of what he hands out.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington — Russian aristocrats, who run the Communist party in the Soviet Union, are aped by their American comrades in their style of living. The 14 members of the Politburo in Moscow live in mansions, and are chauffeur-driven from home to the Kremlin—when they're not vacationing at Black Sea winter resorts.

The Communist leaders in Russia and those in the U. S. A. do not spend much time worrying about the poor proletariat. There are no down-trodden workers or starving farmers among Politburo members.

In the U. S., Communist leader William Z. Foster tours from party headquarters to various courtrooms in the back seat of a limousine. With other party aristocrats he vacations in Florida or rests in country homes.

Until the American Legion magazine investigated, however, I never knew just how lush the comrades in America live. In fact, if they keep on at the present rate, some of the Moscow bosses are likely to grow envious, and that isn't good for an ambitious Communist.

Take, for instance, the home of George Marshall at Sands Point, Long Island. Marshall is a long-time Communist party liner who was charged with putting up $240,000 bail for Kremlin agent Gerhart Eisler. Even at depression prices, Marshall's colonial style home would be worth a quick $75,000.

Albert Maltz, recently a guest of the U. S. Government for contempt of Congress, has a spacious Spanish-style "hut" in Los Angeles suitable for aristocratic bleeders-for-the-proletariat. This little number, on a shaded street, with big picture windows, couldn't be put up for less than $40,000 today.

John Howard Lawson, who was also a guest of the government, and who acts and talks like a commissar, has settled down in California's San Fernando valley. For a vine-covered retreat, with comfortable chairs under spreading palms, Lawson's abode can't be beaten. When he got caught with a Communist party card in his back pocket, he made a lot of noise about the virtues of the Communist way of life. Any real estate salesman would be glad to put his proletarian dwelling on the market for $50,000.

Harry Sacher, of New Rochelle, New York, relaxes in a real mansion between court bouts defending Communists. In the pre-White House balcony days, Sacher's residence would have passed for a smaller edition of the home for presidents. You wouldn't even start talking to Sacher about a sales price under $75,000.

For a real spread, however, you have to go back to California, near Lebec. Here Dalton Trumbo, another one-time Hollywood jailbird who sassed Congress, has a sprawling ranch home for a hideout. Without taking time for accurate measurements, it appears to run about 600 feet across the front. It sits at the foot of a mountain ridge, where comrades can remain cool while pitying the proletariat. It would take $200,000 to duplicate the dwelling without the mountain as a backdrop.

Alex Bittleman, a fast man with a Communist dollar, is an alien who lives in the exclusive Mt. Airy section of Croton, New York. He is the boss thinker for the U. S. aristocrats who run the Communists here. His mansion is shrouded with white birch trees and conifers. It couldn't have cost less than $40,000.

Ring Lardner, Jr., a Hollywood writer who wound up in jail for making nasty sounds before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has never let his pity for the proletariat interfere with good living. He has a modernistic dwelling in Hollywood, with a white picket fence for atmosphere.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

When Robert Vogeler was released from prison by the Hungarian Reds he was just a shadow of his former self.

His wife, his friends, his doctors feared that he might never fully recuperate in mind and body.

In spite of the best of care given to him he seemed to have lost interest in life.

The memories of the tortures inflicted on him, and of the agonies he suffered, were too much.

Then he was sent to the Naval Hospital in Bethesda, Md., for complete rest and whatever treatments might help him.

And now, at last, Bob Vogeler is on the way to complete recovery.

A few days ago he was visited by a reporter.

His loyal wife, who had stood by him during his long confinement and moved heaven and earth to get him released, was happy for the first time in many months.

Now she knew that he would be well again. Now she was completely confident that he would again be her Bob Vogeler of old.

How did she know?

"He WILL be all right," she told the reporter. "Bob's learning to laugh again."

Yes, that's the secret: He is learning to laugh again!

And that applies not only to Bob Vogeler. It applies to all human beings.

Of all the medicines in the world few are as powerful as LAUGHTER.

Only happy people laugh, and what greater blessing is there than happiness?

Look at the pictures in your newspapers and magazines.

Do you ever see Stalin laugh? Or Mao? Or Malik?

Do you ever see the Communists with grins on their faces? Grimaces, sneers, yes—but never any real laughs of happiness, of humor, of joy.

Then look at the pictures taken here in America and in other free countries.

Laughs galore—even when we laugh at ourselves!

I wish that old folks would laugh more than they do.

I asked a man of seventy why he laughed so little.

"What is there to laugh about?" he answered. "Every day the time is getting shorter. Every day the pains become more insufferable."

Another man, almost seventy-eight, who was just going out to a banquet of his lodge, laughed at that remark.

"How silly," he said. "The older I get the more I find to laugh about. I laugh at the worrying I did that I didn't have to do at all. I laugh because at my age I am still able to enjoy the sunshine, the flowers, the friends I have left.

"I laugh at Father Time who tries every day to lick me with his aches and pains, but who hasn't been able to do it yet."

Mrs. Vogeler may never have heard of C. W. Hufeland, the great German physician of the 18th century, author of "The Art of Prolonging Life."

But he certainly would have agreed with her. For he wrote, more than 150 years ago:

"Laughter is a most helpful exertion; it is one of the greatest helps to digestion with which I am acquainted. And the custom prevalent among our forefathers, of exciting it at table by jesters and buffoons, was founded on true medical principles."

Let us laugh and stay young, healthy—and free!

Conclusions On Color Video

The Supreme Court has okayed CBS color video, handing down its decision in black and white, with the usual variation of color in viewpoints. It is now legal for Arthur Godfrey and the Allens (Mel and Fred) to come through in natural red and you will ultimately see all video artists in full plumage, with or without a pallor, flush or morning-after greenish hue. Five o'clock shadow is on the way out.

What thrills this department is the commercial angle. Imagine all those beer cans in natural colors! And the tooth pastes in genuine coloration! The Supreme Court decision was split, some of the jurists dissenting on the ground wrestlers looked bad enough in black and white and that there was no telling what liberties Groucho Marx would take with his guests if allowed to do his stuff in all the colors of the spectrum. (Republicans will fight the decision. They can't stand the idea of Mrs. Roosevelt in colors.)

Questions and answers:

Q.: Are the 12,250,000 sets now in use made obsolete?

A.: No; they are merely in about the same position the Pickfords were in when they first heard about talkies.

Q.: How soon will there be color programs?

A.: As soon as the public develops a craving for low necklines in more than two shades.

Q.: What will I have to do to get a telecast in color?

A.: You will need additional equipment, supplementing the screwdriver, chisel, hammer, wrench, pliers and hacksaw you sometimes need now to get a telecast in black and white.

Q.: Will I be able to get Lewis and Martin in summer feathers and switch to Ed Wynn with his body in black and white and only his hats in color, using the same set?

A.: You had better settle for Berle in optional colors, with a special rainbow finale for the kiddies.

Q.: How can I convert my set to color?

A.: We were afraid you would ask that. A notary risk—beg pardon—a rotary disc is supplied containing filters. These filters, (unless they should falter) will filter the image, straining the primary colors which are, red, blue and one other, the name of which can be obtained by sending us $100 in stamps. The disk is spun, sending the performer through, as in hamburger. As Howdy Doody passes through the filter he emerges in full colors, except ochre and yak-butter yellow.

Q.: Will it be possible to get Kate Smith through a filter?

A.: It may be necessary to take half of Kate in color and the other half in black and white for a while. (RCA is for holding out for a set which will permit Kate and Paul Whiteman to get through the filter at the same time, maybe in polka dots.)

Q.: Why did Justice Frankfurter dissent in the recent decision?

A.: He had just bought a new black and white set. He is also highly disturbed by the thought of what would happen to the Fair Deal if we get color video and the GOP nominates a ticket composed of Jinx Falkenburg and Nellie McMaggis. (Our converter isn't working. It should have come out Maggi McNellis.)

Medical Society Presents Rush Award To Federation Of Clubs

Contributions To Health Win Recognition

Monroe County Federation of Social & Fraternal Organizations last night received the Benjamin Rush award from the Medical Society of Monroe county for its outstanding contributions as a lay organization to public health.

Dr. Evan C. Reese, chairman of public relations for the Medical society, presented the award at a federation meeting held in Monroe Lodge of Elks, Third St., Stroudsburg, a member club of the federation.

Established by the Medical Society of Pennsylvania, the Benjamin Rush award is named for a Philadelphia physician of the Revolutionary days who set the first pattern for public health in the state and nation. Dr. Rush was also one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Award is made at the county level to the outstanding lay organization and lay individual. These awards make recipients automatically nominees for the award on a State level. Last year, Stroudsburg Lions and Leroy Mikels were county award winners and Mr. Mikels' outstanding record won the State award.

Fred Hoffman, president of the federation, received the bronze medallion award from Dr. Reese last night. In presenting the medal, Dr. Reese said:

"Your contributions to public health have been many. Some have been publicly announced. Others have been what you call "pet" projects which your individual member clubs have fostered for many years. Collectively, however, they represent a great contribution to public health."

Noting that these "pet" project contributions were over and above health and welfare work extended by clubs to their members Dr. Reese said special projects of the clubs included funds for tonsil and adenoid operations, dental work, eye-glasses, numerous emergency special treatment funds for underprivileged individuals; an emergency fund for State Health nurse to transfer TB patients to centers of treatment; special Salvation Army fund to send underprivileged children to healthy, summer, recreational and youth guidance camps.

"We like to recall the pledge your federation made to General Hospital building fund, Dr. Reese said. "It was not only generous but a pace-setting first from an organization. That gift plus your contributions to the Community Chest . . . also generous and again pace-setter . . . and those you have made to Red Cross, Cancer Fund, and your cooperation with and participation in the Red Cross blood donor program, all were considered in selection of your Federation for this award.

"Dollar-wise your gifts to public health and welfare have been great. Results they achieved, however, cannot be measured in dollars, but because they approach the high standards set by the Medical Society for the Benjamin Rush award for outstanding services to public health."

Clubs were asked to close out their drive for funds among membership to send underprivileged children to Salvation Army camp late this month. Eagles reported contributions of $80 from their members, double the quota set per club.

George Price, chairman of the legislative committee, filed a report on current legislative activities in Harrisburg.

Bangor To Try Cooperative Plan In Place Of Present Parking Meter Fine System

Bangor—The borough council of Bangor last night voted to suspend its present parking meter fine system for three months and to replace it with a cooperative reimbursement system fostered by the Bangor Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce had proposed to provide nickels which meter policemen may insert in parking meters for overparked cars.

Under the cooperative plan, the policeman placing the Chamber's five cents in the meter would also place a ticket on the car, but along with the ticket will be an envelope with legend explaining that the Bangor Chamber of Commerce has supplied the nickel for additional parking time.

The legend will point out that the ticket may be forwarded to the office of the chief burgess with no fine, and that the envelope may be used to submit coins for replenishing the chamber's parking meter fund.

The plan was adopted on a temporary basis last night after recommendation of Councilman Clair H. Peifly. The move was generally haled as one which has the support of merchants in the community.

Borough council also voted to authorize repairs to the borough's 119 parking meters last night. In moving in this action, the council followed a plan of the Koontz Equipment Co., of Pittsburgh, which installed the meters here originally.

The Pittsburgh firm agreed to repair each meter at a per meter cost of $30, payable in amounts of $238 per month.

The third and final reading of the ordinance authorizing the $40,000 N. Main St. reconstruction project was read and approved last night, although actual ground work on the repair program was initiated last Friday.

Bids for construction of sidewalks from Eighth St. to Bangor Park on Market St. were rejected last night after council decreed that all bids had been improperly presented.

Donald Young, Easton area representative of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, appeared before council and requested that the borough provide office space for the Bangor PSES office.

PSES now has an office in a Bangor office building but on August 1, the organization will have to operate from other quarters, Young said. He pointed out that dwindling PSES allocations make it impossible for the state organization to pay office rent after July.

For that reason, he continued, the Bangor headquarters would appreciate a rent-free office possibly in the municipal building. No action on the matter was taken last night.

John Farleigh, council president, was in charge of the meeting, and all members but Councilman Pat Cinelli attended.

ESHS Alumni Group Plans For Banquet

East Stroudsburg High School Alumni association will sponsor a banquet at the Mountain Lake house, Marshalls Creek, on Thursday, June 14, according to an announcement last night by Atty. Charles R. Bensinger, president of the association.

Speaking for association officers and the banquet committee, Bensinger said that tickets for the affair will be placed on sale today at Kresge's and Cole's drug stores in East Stroudsburg, and at the East Stroudsburg National bank.

Subscription will be $2.50 per person, and will include swimming in the afternoon, the dinner at 7 p. m., and dancing later in the evening.

RCA Denies It's Abandoning TV Color System

New York (AP) — A Columbia Broadcasting system official said yesterday the Radio Corp. of America appeared to be abandoning its color television system, but RCA denied it.

Adrian Murphy, vice president of CBS whose color method has been adopted as the national standard, made his comment in connection with a proposed composite system in which several firms are cooperating.

He pointed to the fact that the composition system was outlined in a report by a subcommittee of the National Television System committee, of which Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom of RCA laboratories is a member. He said that indicated RCA apparently was abandoning its own system, which it had fought for months to have adopted by the Federal Communications commission. The FCC chose the CBS system instead.

An RCA spokesman, however, flatly denied it was giving up its own system but issued a statement saying it was cooperating with the industry committee whose report "is a constructive contribution to the subject."

Sugar Loaf Man Jailed On Charges

George Homan, 26-year-old Sugar Loaf, Pa., farmer, was committed to Monroe county jail for 10 days at 9:20 last night, after hearings on two charges before Justice of the Peace William N. Walton.

Homan, who was arrested by Mount Pocono State police making a highway weight check, was charged with overweight load and with operating a motor vehicle without a license.

Justice Walton gave the trucker without a license five days for the overweight violation, then added another five on the no operator's license charge.

Russia To Have 30,000 Planes In Another Year

London (AP) — In another 12 months Russia will be able to put more than 30,000 warplanes in the air, a Royal Air Force Review estimated yesterday.

The Russians now have about 19,000 planes, about half of them fighters, said the official publication.

The Review said Russian construction efforts are being concentrated on the MIG-15, the jet fighter tried out in Korea. A speedier jet fighter, the Lavochkin 17, and a twin-jet bomber.

"The MIG-15 becomes a back number with the recent advent of the Lavochkin, a tube-like, single engined fighter," the publication said.

The new bomber is said to be patterned after the Canberra, a 600-mile-an-hour light bomber which the British Air Force is putting into service soon.

East Borough Playground To Open June 13

East Stroudsburg playground will open for the summer Wednesday, June 13, according to the east borough board of recreation.

Secretary Carl T. Secor said equipment is being put in shape for the season and the board hopes to have a full staff by that time.

Four lifeguards will be stationed at the pool and they will give swimming instructions during the morning free of charge.

Lewis R. Hastie will again be playground director. He will have one assistant.

Mr. Secor said many new things are planned for the summer. They include an intensive activity program, new basketball court, new regulation baseball diamond, which was recently completed; a new backstop.

He noted there are still some vacancies left on the playground staff. Applications can be filled with him at East Stroudsburg High school.

The board, composed of Horace G. Walters, president; Leon Koster, vice president; James Kopenhaver, treasurer, and Mr. Secor, met last night in the East Stroudsburg municipal building.

375,000 Apply To Take Tests

Princeton, N.J. (AP) — Some 375,000 college students throughout the nation have made application to take the draft aptitude tests.

The Education Testing service here, which is administering the exams, announced the estimated figure yesterday.

Meanwhile, Selective Service gave students who failed to keep thir date for the May 26 test another chance June 16 or June 30.

A spokesman at the testing service said 121,911 students already are scheduled to take the next test June 16 at 1,036 exam centers.

The tests are being given to determine whether students will continue in college or be subject to draft into the armed forces.

The big job of correcting the May 26 exam already is under way here with the aid of electronic machines. Grades will be forwarded to individual draft boards.

Sgt. Carl Dorsey, Bangor, Missing After Air Mission Over 'Friendly Territory'

Bangor—Sgt. Carl Dorsey, 27-year-old World War Two naval aviation ground crew member who enlisted in the U. S. Army Air Force two years ago, has been listed as "missing in action" over Korea.

His wife, Mrs. Mary Dorsey, of Pen Argyl, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dorsey, of 602 Pennsylvania Ave., Bangor, were notified yesterday by the Department of Defense.

Sergeant Dorsey, a member of the 16th Troop Carrier squadron, participated in more than 100 missions over Korea. His family heard from him several days ago when they received a letter he had written May 29, the day on which he returned from his one hundredth successful mission.

Fact that two C-119 "flying boxcar' cargo planes were shot down by Allied artillery in Korea on Sunday gave rise to the report that the missing Bangor man might have been aboard one of those planes.

The Defense department telegram received here said the sergeant is missing in action "over friendly territory.

Dorsey was employed by the Bangor Daily News after his discharge from the U. S. Navy in 1946. He left the newspaper for the Air Force in 1949, and in June 24, 1950, he married Mrs. Dorsey, the former Miss Mary Emerick, Pen Argyl.

Franks Denies British Selling To Chinese Reds

New York (AP) — Sir Oliver S. Franks, British ambassador to the United States, said yesterday "no arms or munitions of war have ever been sold to the Chinese Communists from any British territory —Hong Kong, Malaya or anywhere else."

Writing in Look magazine, the diplomat replied to charges heard recently in Washington during the debate on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's dismissal.

"No gasoline, no diesel oil or lubricants have gone to China for the 10 months since July, 1950," Sir Oliver said. "A list of 200 items of industrial equipment has been totally prohibited.

"It is true in the first quarter of this year the Chinese imported more rubber than was necessary for their civilian needs. The British government has, therefore, taken steps to ensure that, whatever other sources might be available to the Chinese, they would get no more rubber from any British source."

Great Britain, he said, cannot cut off all trade with China because of the position of Hong Kong.

F. Kovarick Tops Class At Annapolis

Frank Kovarick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kovarick Sr., Dreher Ave., Stroudsburg, has completed his junior year at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

He finished first in a class of more than 800 middies and is now on an eight-week cruise in European waters.

He is expected to visit Scotland, the British Isles and Holland.

Commencement exercises for ninth graders at Smithfield Township school. Minisink Hills will be held today at 8 p.m.

Another commencement for eighth graders will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m.

The second commencement was arranged recently when the board of education voted to discontinue the ninth grade at the school next year.

Aides Must Clear Future Speeches With Acheson

Washington (AP)— Secretary of State Acheson has advised his assistant secretaries to clear all their future speeches on controversial subjects with him personally.

In response to questions, the department yesterday confirmed such an order has been issued.

Acheson "suggested" this at a staff meeting a few days after a furore was touched off by a speech by Assistant Secretary of State Dean Rusk in New York May 17.

Rusk's address was interpreted by many administration critics as a sign the State department was adopting General MacArthur's suggested policy toward the Far East.

At a news conference last week Acheson insisted Rusk's remarks were not intended to herald any change in American policy. He refused to say, however, whether he was pleased at Rusk's choice of words.

Mrs. Younkin Dies At Home, Milford Road

Mrs. Laura Augusta Younkin, 6e, died yesterday at 9 p.m. at her home on Milford Rd., Smithfield township. She was the former owner of the Mt. Tom restaurant.

Mrs. Younkin had been in failing health since last January 1. On several occasions she underwent treatment at Monroe County General hospital.

She was the widow of Capt. Chester H. Younkin, former commanding officer of Company G, Pennsylvania National Guard.

A native of Jersey City, N.J., she was a resident of Monroe county for over 35 years. At one time she operated a millinery shop in East Stroudsburg and later she operated the Mt. Tom restaurant, located across from her home on Route 209 east of East Stroudsburg, for ten years.

Mrs. Younkin was a member of East Stroudsburg Presbyterian church.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Jessie Schoonover, Mrs. George Johnston, both at home; a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at the Lanterman funeral home. Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, will officiate.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. Interment will be in the family plot in Prospect cemetery.

Canada Plans To Go Ahead With Seaway

Toronto (AP) — Canada definitely has decided to go ahead with the St. Lawrence seaway whether the United States assists or not, Robert H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power commission, said yesterday.

"There is now no question about it," he said in an interview.

Saunders refused to say on what governmental authority he made his statement.

DPA Petitions To Have Sons Support Father

A petition requiring children of an aged parent, who has been receiving relief from the Pennsylvania Department of Public Assistance, to contribute to the support of the parent, was presented in Monroe county court here yesterday by District Attorney Detleff A. Hansen.

The department, in its petition, seeks to have the court declare three adult sons responsible for contributory support of Broad Adams, of 49 Fulmer Ave. Stroudsburg. Adams is in his sixties.

The petition was presented yesterday before Associate Judge Homer A. Shupp, who presided over the afternoon session.

Judge Fred W. Davis was unable to preside here yesterday because of conflicting court work in Doylestown, Buck county. Judge Davis had been especially presiding over a Bucks county case last week and returned to Doylestown again yesterday to conclude that case.

In his absence, Associate Judges Shupp and Theodore S. Metzgar conducted the morning session here yesterday, then Judge Shupp presided alone in the afternoon as Judge Metzgar was called to an important meeting.

After hearing the petition presented by the district attorney, Judge Shupp adjourned court until 10 a. m., daylight saving time, next Monday.

Previously Atty. George T. Robinson had presented an executor's petition, and Atty. James T. Kitson had offered a move to continue a mortgage foreclosure action in the only business before the court yesterday.

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Elam Gray and family will once again take up residence in the Gap.

At a brief corporation meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian Church of the Mountain held Sunday following the regular church service, Pascall Webb was elected a trustee of that church. The resignation of Elam Gray, as a trustee, was rejected, thus retaining him as a member of the board of trustees.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buzzard were: Mr. and Mrs. Mario J. Marcelli and children, of South Cairo, N. Y., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Carol Rocco, of Catskill. Other guests were, Mrs. Harry E. Mills and children, of Farmingdale, N. J., and Mrs. Richard Manhart, of Catskill, N. Y.

Mrs. Richard Manhart, mother of Mrs. Herbert Buzzard, spent a few days visiting with her daughter. While here, Mrs. Buzzard and her mother motored to Newfoundland, Pa., where they visited John P. Manhart, grandfather of Mrs. Buzzard, who was celebrating his 85th birthday anniversary. Memorial Day, Mr. and Mrs. Buzzard and daughter, Camille, and Mrs. Manhart visited Mr. and Mrs. Mario Marcelli, celebrating the fifteenth wedding anniversary of the Buzzards. Enroute home they called on Mr. and Mrs. L. Black, of Jefferson Heights. Mr. Black is the son of Harry Black, this place.

Five Persons Escape Injury In Two-Car Collision At Stroudsburg Intersection

Five persons narrowly escaped injury in a two-car accident at the intersection of N. Seventh and Thomas Sts., Stroudsburg, at 3:12 p. m., yesterday.

A northbound sedan on N. Seventh St., owned and operated by Jim Riley, sports editor of The Daily Record, was struck in the left front by another sedan driven by Miss June Vail, of White Bog, N. J.

Impact of the collision knocked the Riley car over the Seventh St. curbing on the northeast side of the intersection. Before it was stopped, the vehicle struck and damaged a young tree between the curb and the sidewalk, narrowly missing a service pole on the other side of the car.

Riley, who was accompanied by his wife and 16-months-old daughter, was unhurt, although the door on the driver's side was smashed. Mrs. Riley was well shaken, while the impact caused the baby to bleed profusely from the nose for a short time.

Miss Vail, driver of the other car, likewise was not injured, although she and Elizabeth C. White, of White Bog, were also shaken. Mrs. White, owner of the car operated by Miss Vail, was a passenger with the younger woman at the time of the accident.

Chief James McConnell, of Stroudsburg borough police, said Miss Vail was driving toward N. Fifth St., on Thomas St. A high standing laundry truck parked near the intersection on Thomas St., obscured the stop street sign from the woman's vision, the chief said.

She passed the truck and continued on into the intersection where the New Jersey vehicle crashed into the Riley machine as it proceeded into the crossing at a point on N. Seventh also obscured by the parked van.

Left front section and the side and frame of Riley's sedan were smashed, while entire front end of the White machine was damaged. Both cars were 1948 models.

Police investigation will be continued today, the chief added.

Mrs. White's car was moved to Mikels' garage on Route 611, while the Riley car was taken to a Scotrun garage.

Right front fender, radiator and grille, bumper and lighting system on Mrs. White's medium model were smashed, while the hood and front end panels were crumpled so that the hood stood high over the engine.

In addition to the left front fender, door and frame, the universal mechanism on the Riley car, and other parts of the motor were damaged. The car's left rear door, the running board under both left side doors, hubcap and wheel disc on the left front and the accelerator rod were also found to be badly dented or inoperative.

Chief McConnell said Miss Vail formerly lived in the Franklin Hill section near East Stroudsburg, although her present residence is at White Bog near Fort Dix, N. J.

Coal Truckers Pay Fines On Weight Charge

Two coal transport drivers, arrested at Delaware Water Gap on overweight load charges early yesterday morning, were committed to Monroe county jail after a hearing, but the pair was released two hours later on payment of fines and costs amounting to more than $160.

Justice of the Peace J. T. Hauser, of Delaware Water Gap, fined William Donald Treon, 31, Woodlawn Ave., Mount Pocono, a total of $107, and Asher J. Biemer, 42, of Moscow RD 3, $53.50.

Both were stopped at Delaware Water Gap on Route 611 by Pfc. Peter E. Sabinsky, of Stroudsburg State police.

After the hearing before Justice Hauser, both drivers were found at least temporarily in default of payment, and were ordered held at county jail pending arrival of the fine monies.

House Approves Gold Star Button

Washington (AP) — The House passed yesterday a bill providing for gold star lapel buttons for members of families of servicemen killed in World War Two or in Korea.

The measure now goes to the Senate.

It provides for the Department of Defense to give the buttons to widows and parents. Other members of the families will be permitted to buy them at a nominal charge.

June Rush Starts At Court House

June is still the month of brides and bridegrooms, according to the office of Prothonotary Claude E. Metzgar, where many prospective couples in Monroe county obtain their marriage licenses.

After a comparatively slow month of May, during which only 21 couples applied here, June blossomed with a flurry of applications, and yesterday Prothonotary Metzgar said five have already been received on the four-day-old month.

Those applying were James Venezia, Passaic, N. J., and Charlotte Toth, Bloomfield, N. J.; Enos H. Locke and Muriel Elizabeth Shaffer, both of Philadelphia; Woodrow W. Keiper and Geraldine L. Warner, both of Scotrun.

Also, Cpl. Chester C. Hinton Jr., Stroudsburg, and Freda M. Handelong, Bangor; Elmer D. Taylor, Six Mile Run, Pa., and Harriet C. May, East Stroudsburg.

Summer Classes Open At College

Classes will begin this morning for the first six-week summer session at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Registration for the first half was held on campus yesterday. The second six-week session will begin July 16.

Couple Buys House In Pocono Twp.

One real estate transfer was placed on file here yesterday at the Monroe county court house office of Register and Recorder Floyd Butz.

Bernard and Elizabeth E. Hoffman, of Narberth, Pa., purchased a dwelling and four tracts of land in Pocono township from Clinton Mader, of that township.

According to the deed description, one of the tracts comprises more than 56 acres, another more than 126 acres, a third section of 66 acres, and approximately 12 acres in a fourth strip.

All four tracts comprise property which Susan S. Klink, executrix under the last will and testament of Charles Groner, transferred to Clinton Mader by deed dated April 25, 1921.

Boy Takes 'Oath' As Grand Juror

Pittsburgh (AP) — Mrs. Mary Pater brought her seven-year-old son, Anthony, to court yesterday when she was ordered to serve on the grand jury.

When Anthony saw his mother raise her right hand to be sworn in he did the same thing.

Mrs. Pater told the court she had no one to care for Anthony and if she was to serve on the jury he would have to stay. The court promptly excused her.

Postmasters To Honor J. J. Kinane

Scotrun — Monroe County Association of Postmasters will meet at Rhodes' restaurant and hotel here at 7 p. m. today. During the meeting Joseph J. Kinane, U. S. postal inspector here for a number of years will be guest of honor.

Mr. Kinane, a resident of Chipperfield drive in Stroud township has been promoted to an inspectorship at Wilkes-Barre. There will be a presentation made to Mr. Kinane on behalf of all postmasters of the county.

Major Thomas E. Morrison, U. S. Signal Corps liaison officer, will be the speaker. Major Morrison will report on latest developments on plans for the $30,000,000 Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna.

Turtzo Makes Further Study Of Petition

Bangor—Ernest Turtzo, Bangor councilman and Republican party member seeking the GOP nomination for justice of the peace in Bangor, yesterday announced that he is further studying a photostatic copy of a nominating petition filed by Fred McFall, Bangor resident who is seeking the Democratic nomination for the same office.

Turtzo claimed the signed photostat of the original shows that the petition was signed on May 21 by a Freemansburg justice of the peace. The original was submitted shortly before the deadline for filing on May 21.

Turtzo said his action was prompted because McFall was reportedly admitted to St. Luke's Hospital at Fountain Hill on May 15. He further stated that the photostat shows that some of the signatures were obtained on May 18 and 19, dates on which McFall was still reported hospitalized.

Defense From Destruction Held Available

Boston—Complete defense from disaster and destruction is immediately available to every individual and nation through spiritual understanding of God, the Christian Science Board of Directors declared yesterday.

Taking note of the world crisis they affirmed that the deepest laws of the universe are spiritual protection and preservation of human freedom.

Their special message was read at the annual meeting of the Mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, to nearly 7500 Christian Scientists assembled from all over the world.

In their message the directors called for individual spiritual courage in meeting critical global problems. They said Christian righteousness has never been defeated, and forecast "great spiritual progress" ahead.

New president of the Mother church for the coming year, it was announced, is Mrs. Lora C. Rathvon of Boston. In a ringing address Mrs. Rathvon said that never was the need more urgent to look beyond the material sense of life, to "see man as God's spiritual idea." Forecasting greater spiritual achievements, she said "We are standing on the brink of a new era."

This theme was emphasized also by Walter S. Cross of Fitchburg, Mass., retiring president, who said the world is undergoing "the most profound and stirring revolution of all time."

"Materialism is being overturned. A profound ferment is at work," he said. He spoke of an open-minded, inquiring attitude in human thought toward religion "which presages a new era in Christianity."

Healings of cancer, lameness, deafness, and blindness, through spiritual means, were reported by the Christian Science Board of Lectureship in a report read by Adair Hickman of New York City. Mr. Hickman also reported the return of Christian Science lectures to the Orient after a war-enforced lapse of 11 years.

George Channing, manager of Christian Science Committees on Publication, reported new progress in gaining legal recognition of the concept that the right of religious freedom includes the right to seek physical healing, in good faith, by spiritual means.

Seven-Pound Son Born To Hardings

Raymond P. Harding, Spruce St., Stroud township, next month will begin his new duties as principal of the Clearview school.

Meanwhile, he and his wife, Margie, are busy at home taking care of a new member of the family — and a prospective member of Clearview's first grade, class of 1957.

Their first child, a boy, was born in St. Luke's hospital, Bethlehem, May 24. He weighed an even seven pounds and is named Steven Turner Harding.

Mrs. Harding is a native of Manchester, England, where her husband was stationed with U. S. forces during the last war. At present Mr. Harding is finishing up the school year at Stroudsburg High school.

Lightning Knocks Farmer Unconscious, Kills Cows

McMichaels — Paul Bond, who operates a farm here, yesterday was telling friends about an experience he will probably never want repeated . . . and with good reason.

This near-fatal encounter jolted him into unconsciousness and left him with a painfully stiff back.

The cause: A bolt of lightning, which sought him out as a tiger does its prey.

When the sudden, violent thunderstorm struck over this region Sunday night Bond was in his barn doing the daily milking.

A zigzagged streak of lightning pierced the semi-darkness. It struck a pipe and followed it into the barn.

Here it entered an automatic milker, smashed it into pieces, killed two cows, knocked ten others unconscious and struck Bond in the center of the back.

He was unconscious for 20 minutes and found by his young son, Gerald.

He was immediately administered medical treatment, but yesterday he still had the memories of a frightening experience and a very stiff back.

Glen Lyon Sergeant Tells How American Platoon Mowed Down 300 Chinese

Somewhere in Korea, (AP)—Sgt. Maurice Mosher, an ex-coal miner from Glen Lyon, near Nanticoke, Pa., leader of a machine-gun platoon in the 24th Division, described a Chinese Communist ambush.

"They just kept on coming and I kept on firing the machine-gun," he said.

"You could see them coming. And from the way they acted I knew they were after our vehicles and not just bent on killing us," he said.

It happened a little more than a month ago when Mosher's unit was ambushed by the Reds. In 15 minutes 300 Chinese were dead and many more were wounded.

Mosher set up a machine gun on a baggage truck and laid down a withering fire on a column of Chinese moving through a pass to the front. Other soldiers sprayed the Communist from the flanks. The Communists were comouflaged and were wearing U. S. type field jackets, Mosher said. They had fixed their bayonets and were moving in on the trapped Americans.

"Only one could come through the pass at a time," Mosher said, "and that was where my gun was mowing them down. As one Red would go down another would take his place and meet the same end."

Pretty soon the bodies began to stack up high.

Finally the Chinese began to overrun the Yank positions. A withdrawal was ordered. Mosher continued firing until all the vehicles were destroyed and his men were on their way back.

A wounded soldier lay in his path.

"We stopped to give aid and made a stretcher with his field jacket and some rifles," Mosher said.

"And then we carried him along with us."

The Americans walked until midnight before reaching friendly lines. Mosher then counted his men.

"We went in with 14 and came out with 14," he said proudly.

Next day, officers recommended that Mosher, a three time Bronze star winner, be awarded the Distinguished Service cross.

Deputy Shot; Four Airmen Face Charge

Canadaigua, N.Y. (AP) — Four soldiers from Sampson Air Force base near Geneva were charged with armed robbery yesterday in connection with a holdup and running gun battle in which an Ontario county deputy sheriff was critically wounded.

The deputy, Jack Fennell, 41, was reported in critical condition at Thompson Memorial hospital. He was shot in the neck and abdomen and paralyzed from the waist down.

Thomas Croucher, Ontario county district attorney said that if Fennell died the four airmen would be charged with first-degree murder.

Three of the airmen—Sgt. Peter Gannon, 19, of Woodstock, N.Y.; Cpl. Joseph McCretton, 22 of North Attleboro, Mass.; and Pfc. Anthony Napoli, 20, of Philadelphia—waived examination before City Judge Edward J. Colmey. No bail was set and they were taken to Ontario county jail.

The fourth, Sgt. Stephen Cohn, 21, of New York City, was under armed guard at Geneva hospital suffering from a wound he received when the airmen were captured by police in Geneva. He was listed in fair condition after an operation.

The airmen are charged with the armed robbery of Converse McMillan, 63, an attendant at a service station.

Truck Rams Into Rear Of Vehicle

Saylorsburg — A station wagon owned by Weston H. Fenner, of Brodheadsville, was smashed in the rear in a truck-vehicle accident which occurred just below the intersection on Route 115 here Sunday night, according to Brodheadsville State police.

Miss Shirley Ann Fenner, 18, daughter of the station wagon owner, was driving that vehicle on Route 115 when she pulled up and stopped at the end of a line of traffic held up by a car which was waiting to make a left turn off the highway.

A 1950 model truck, driven by George Dawson, 28, of Philadelphia, came upon the line of motionless vehicles. Police said Dawson did not realize the cars ahead were not moving until he was upon the station wagon.

The heavy truck smashed into the rear of the wagon, damaging the rear panel and parts of the body. Loss was estimated at $250. Minor damage to the truck, owned by Bob Geissinger, Inc., Cortland, N. Y., was set at $10.

The troopers said there were no other occupants in the vehicles, other than the drivers, both of whom escaped injury. There were no charges preferred.

Time of the mishap was 9:40 p. m., police said.

AVC Calls Upon United Nations To Seek Peace

New York (AP) — The American Veterans committee, claiming a membership of 48,000 veterans of World War Two has called upon the United Nations to make "every effort" to end the Korean fighting by negotiating with the Red Chinese.

A resolution adopted at the final session of the AVC's fifth annual convention said the "ultimate goal" must remain a unified and free Korea."

But, it declared:

"In the meantime the United Nations must make every effort to reach a peaceful settlement in Korea by seeking negotiations with the Chinese Communist regime.

"Until the Communist Chinese government has ceased to wage war upon the forces of the United Nations in Korea and has indicated its clear intention to become a peaceful nation, we cannot recognize it or support its seating in the United Nations."

FirePower
ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTES . . . because there aren't any!

Chrysler's new FirePower engine has rocked the automobile business right down to its roots.

Quietly, behind all the laboratory talk of "engines of tomorrow" . . . Chrysler has built a revolutionary engine for you to drive today!

It can give you 180 horsepower, to surpass any other engine in any other car. It develops its power in its own new kind of way!

But you don't have to "baby" it . . . or give it fancy quality gasoline to get that 180 horsepower performance!

FirePower takes any regular grade gasoline you care to buy . . . and adds its own new "mechanical octanes" to the power-giving octanes of the gasoline itself.

The result is something new and startling in responsiveness . . . and in safety, too. You get quicker and smoother control of when and how you move than you have ever felt before.

It's the engine of tomorrow . . . on the road for you today . . . and your Chrysler dealer invites you now to try it, in the all-around most astonishing new car you ever drove!

180 HORSEPOWER
Here's the new Hemispherical Combustion Chamber that's the heart of Chrysler FirePower. Its new, designed-in "mechanical octanes" make regular grade gas do what best premium grades can't do in any other engine you can drive today!

WSCS Groups Join Forces For Anniversary

Tannersville — The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Tannersville Methodist church joined with the WSCS of McMichaels Methodist church on Thursday night to observe the tenth anniversary observance of the organization. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Edward Bonser in McMichaels.

Mrs. Claude Possinger, president, led the meeting, using the topic "Compassion that Counts" with the discussion based on the story of the Good Samaritan, in which all members took part.

The visiting group presented a birthday cake with ten lighted candles and one large candle to grow on through the year in the field of Christian service. The cake was presented by Mrs. Beatrice Dailey, president of the Tannersville WSCS, with her greetings. Mrs. Ruth Howell, treasurer and Mrs. Elsie Dailey, secretary, also extended the wishes of the Tannersville group.

Mrs. Estelle Granacher read a letter from Dr. H. Virginia Blakeslee from Kerecho, Kenya, Africa, and from Miss Helen Harvey from the China Inland Mission, and described the scope of the WSCS. There are 336 groups in the Philadelphia conference, she said, with a membership of 21,000.

At the close of the meeting a luncheon was served by the hostess society which included Mrs. Edward Bonser, Mrs. William Martin, Mrs. John Kresge, Mrs. Wilson Smith, Mrs. John Everitt, Mrs. James Martin, Mrs. Claude Possinger.

Local Gardner Quoted On Garden Page; Poconos Laurel Trail Wins Wide Recognition

A bit of Monroe county transplated to the Bowman's Hill State Wildflower Preserve by the Monroe County Garden club has brought the Poconos and its laurel into prominence in more ways than one.

The Poconos Laurel Trail at the preserve at Washington Crossing Park, south of New Hope, is in itself a great attraction to the visitors particularly now with the laurel in full bloom. Massed plantings along the rocky trail have been added to native stands, and mixed with them the local club has added trailing arbutus, creeping wintergreen, lambkill or sheep laurel, rhododendron, high bush and low bush huckleberry, rattlesnake plantain and arrowleaf violet.

In connection with the Pocono Laurel Trail, the botany study group of the local garden club of which Mrs. Elwood Grant is chairman has prepared a pamphlet describing the items on the trail.

This pamphlet, together with a new planting made two weeks ago by the botany study group led Patricia Spollen, Garden editor of the Philadelphia Bulletin, to devote her whole column on Sunday, May 28, to an interview with Mrs. Grant on how laurel can be grown around homes.

In quoting Mrs. Grant, the article says "the most important thing is to give it an acid soil. Fibrous leafmold is a good mulch, especially oak leaves or pine needles, which will keep the soil acid."

"It also likes air, drainage and shelter from strong winds, but shade isn't absolutely essential. It grows well in the light shade of a building and on hillsides. Deep-rooting trees such as oaks, tulip trees and magnolias suit it better than shallow - rooted maples, lindens or elms.

"You can grow laurel from seed if you want to wait that long. And something else many people don't realize is that you can improve the bloom by pruning. It's pleasant to cut the blossoms for bouquet and if you do you'll automatically prune enough to encourage better bloom," she said.

In their most recent gift to the Flower Preserve, the local botany group contributed a Clintonia borealis, the only one now in the preserve. Norman Fisher, botanist of the Preserve, was delighted with the plants. A leatherleaf had been requested by Mrs. Lynn Holmes for their new bog, and since it is not available at commercial nurseries she asked the local group, which she knew actually gathered their own plant material.

Mrs. Elwood Grant

Mrs. Grant and Mrs. David Shiffer located the plantings here and took with them about 30 plants for the preserve.

Mrs. Grant, who celebrated her birthday on May 31, received as an appropriate gift a pair of "green thumb" gardening gloves. However her "green thumb" doesn't come off with the gloves since she has been able to bring practically all of the wild flowers into cultivation near the Grant home at Analomink Lake.

Former Resident Is Married To College Teacher

Miss June M. Ramsberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ramsberger of Middletown, Pa., formerly of Mountainhome, and Edward H. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cook Sr., of New Cumberland, Pa., were married on Saturday, May 26 in the rectory of St. Mary's church, Middletown with Rev. Gunville performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, John Baker, and was dressed all in white with a bridal bouquet of red rosebuds. The bride's sister, Joan, was maid of honor and wore navy and white with pink and white rosebud corsage.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Howard Johnson restaurant in Middletown given by the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Baker.

After a wedding trip to the Poconos, Mr. and Mrs. Cook will make their home at 222 Beaver Ave., State College, where Mr. Cook is a teacher of chemistry in the college. He will receive a Fellowship from the college in August.

He is a graduate of Elizabethtown College and of Pennsylvania State College. The bride was a student at Elizabethtown College.

Scholarship For Local College Grad

Portland — A scholarship has been awarded to Miss Velia Lenora Fiori, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fiori of Portland, who was graduated last week from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College with a bachelor of science degree.

The scholarship is for graduate work in French during the summer session at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio.

A graduate of Bangor High school, Miss Fiori majored in French at ESSTC with a minor in biological science. She was secretary - treasurer and vice president of the Day Students association; secretary-treasurer of the Women's Executive Council, president of the French Club and treasurer of Sigma Zeta, honorary science fraternity.

Bible Study Class Has Birthday Party At Effort Hall

Effort — The Bible study class of Effort Methodist Sunday school held its semi-annual birthday party on Tuesday night in the social hall.

Following the devotions and study, roll call was answered with a Bible verse using the word "peace."

Games and a quiz directed by Ida Sweet, chairman of arrangements were followed by the party with two tables, one for the birthday celebrants and one for their hosts. They were decorated in green and yellow and loaded with refreshments.

Each guest was asked to tell of something unusual that had happened in their own life or the life of one of the members present, which brought a flood of reminiscences. There were 42 members present.

The next regular meeting will be held on June 12.

Aid Society Plans Bazaar On July 27

Cherry Valley — The Ladies' Aid of Keller's Reformed church, Cherry Valley, was entertained at the home of Mrs. Burton Mervine of Stroudsburg on Tuesday night for their monthly meeting.

During the business meeting, plans were made to hold a festival and bazaar on the church lawn on Friday night, July 27. The proceeds of the festival will be used toward the upkeep of the cemetary adjoining the church. Homemade ice cream, cake, baked goods, homemade articles, will be on sale. Anyone interested in the welfare of the cemetary and wishing to make a donation or contribution can contact any member.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess to the following: Mrs. Clarence Walter, Miss Margaret Keller, Mrs. Mary Baker, Mrs. Anna Mansfield, Miss Alice Keller, Mrs. Chester Cramer, Helen Keller and Mrs. Mervine.

The June meeting will be in the form of a birthday party and will be held at the home of Miss Margaret Keller on June 27.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Good growing weather, these hot days and rainy nights, but not good working weather at all. Either it's too hot or too late. But anyway somebody's got ambition — Shirley Cummings has her executive board all appointed for the Junior Woman's club next year, and moreover they're going to meet tonight.

But what made her particularly joyful was the fact that not one whom she asked refused. Certainly augers well for a bang-up year.

But wait a minute, we haven't had summer yet. Or graduations, either. Which reminds me that one grandmother admits that I was right when I said today's youngsters were more precocious. Just heard from her son Lt. John Van Etten at Camp Meade that her grandson, Victor, has just been graduated from kindergarten—diploma and all.

But if you think college, high school, or kindergarten graduations are exciting, you should be living through an eighth grade graduation. If we all have our heads on by Wednesday night we'll be lucky.

Grange Plans Two Special June Meetings

Cherry Valley—The Cherry Valley Grange, No. 1821, listed two important meetings in the near future at their meeting held ta the grange hall in Stormville on May 31.

An open meeting will be held on June 12 when District Forester E. Clyde Pyle will speak and show moving pictures. The community is invited to join the grangers to hear him.

The Floral Tribute program will be held on June 28 when the Hamilton grange will bring the floral tribute to Cherry Valley.

The meeting last Thursday was opened with singing with Mrs. Sheldon Schobert as pianist. Miss Marie Rinker was given the third and fourth degrees, and plans were made for a strawberry festival in the near future.

At the close of the meeting a birthday party was held in honor of those whose birthdays were in April, May or June. Mrs. Robert Clayton, Mrs. Claude Cyphers, Mrs. Samuel Getz and Frank P. Majestic were honored.

Mrs. Sheldon Schobert, assistant lecturer, presided at the games which included the distribution of paper bags containing articles which their recipients had to wear including an odd assortment from one string bean, a sprig of parsley, to a man's shirt and half a sun suit.

A covered dish supper was climaxed by a four-tiered cake made and served by Mrs. Emery Stout.

SIXTH GRADE 18 RISLEY

The sixth grade of Smithfield school last week honored their teacher, Mrs. Jonas T. May, who has taught them in both sixth and fifth grades, at a farewell supper at the school, before they enter junior high school.

It came as a complete surprise to Mrs. May who was called back to the school on Thursday night to find the entire sixth grade assembled there with the other members of the school faculty and their husbands as honored guests.

A baked ham supper was served at tables decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. May was presented with a corsage of white roses, while the other teachers received iris corsages. Gracie Treible, Georgianna Rohlfing and Carol Mushko were moving figures in the party although all the children and their parents contributed to its success.

Daniel Wilkins Baptized At Grace Church

Daniel Tad Wilkins, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus C. Wilkins, of 100 Normal St., East Stroudsburg, was received into the baptized membership of the church by the sacrament of holy baptism on Monday afternoon at 4:15 at the baptismal font in the sanctuary of Grace Lutheran church. Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor, administered the sacrament before the candle-lit altar.

Daniel Tad was born at the Monroe County General hospital on March 7, 1951. His paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Wilkins of Woodpecker Lake, Pike county and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Biggs of Stroudsburg, served as sponsors with his parents. Also witnessing the baptism were his brother, James, and his sister Kathleen; and Amy and Sally Wunder.

Two TV Stars For Fireman's Dance June 9

Marshalls Creek — The Marshalls Creek Firemen's Dance on Saturday night, June 9, will be marked by the appearance of two professional entertainers, who are expected to draw a large crowd not only from the immediate vicinity but also from the county at large.

"Two-Gun" Fonty, one of the leading square dance teacher-callers of the country will be present to call for the square dances. He has made several short-feature pictures in Hollywood and has appeared on television shows and in leading New York night clubs.

He appeared in Monroe County this winter with the East Stroudsburg Community Square dance sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association.

The second featured entertainer for the dance will be Billy Albert, 21-year-old winner on a recent Arthur Godfrey Talent show. He is a vocal guitarist and sings popular Western and American Folk song. He was chosen New York City champion and awarded the $1,000 prize for winning the Talent Search on TV. He at present has his own television show each Monday and Thursday.

The public is invited to attend the dance which is being arranged by a committee of fireman with Thomas J. Blewitt as chairman of the dance committee.

Closing Days At Long Pond Schoolhouse

Long Pond — The school children of Long Pond gave an excellent program on Friday night in their school for their parents and friends. Singing, plays, skits, drills and recitations were presented under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Herbert Altemose.

Climax of the program was the Daughters of the American Revolution award by the school board and school to David Serfoss and Norman Gardner.

The school closed on Monday with a picnic for the pupils.

Yearbooks Ready For Distribution

Stroudsburg High school yearbooks have been printed and are ready for delivery, according to Miss Lillian R. Stark, yearbook adviser.

The 1951 editions will be presented seniors Wednesday after class night exercises. Underclassmen will receive theirs Thursday after report cards are given out.

This year's yearbook is dedicated to Mahlon R. Serfass; French, Spanish and German teacher, faculty athletic manager and president-elect of the Stroudsburg Teachers association.

One page of the book has also been devoted to the late Vere J. Banks, who taught geography at the high school. Mr. Banks died suddenly after a brief illness in the early part of the present school year.

Miss Stark noted several copies are still available and they may be secured at the high school.

Vinson Refuses Stay Of Execution For Seven Nazis

Washington (AP) — Chief Justice Vinson of the Supreme court last night refused a further stay of execution for seven Nazi war criminals whose present reprieve runs out this morning.

Warren Magee, counsel for the seven, said Vinson had declined to grant a further stay pending filing of a formal petition for a hearing before the high court.

Earlier in the day a three-judge court of appeals had likewise refused to extend the stay of execution.

The appeals court had affirmed the judgment of the U. S. district court here that Germans are still enemy aliens to whom United States courts are closed.

The convicted men are due to hang.

Elect Clay Director

New York (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former military commander of occupied Germany, yesterday was elected a director of General Motors Corp.

Jackson Township School Holds Graduation Exercises

Reeders—Graduation exercises were held last night for eighth graders at Jackson Township Consolidated Elementary school.

The commencement address was given by Walter H. Sebring, assistant superintendent of Monroe county schools. He told students "what you are today you made yesterday; what you are tomorrow you make today."

The class motto was "We build a ladder by which we climb." Gwyneth Johnson gave a recitation, "Forgotten Boyhood." A reading, "The Story of Rubber" was given by Nelson Possinger. Hilda Hardenstine gave a recitation entitled "When the Minister Calls."

Janet Rustine sang a vocal solo entitled "On a Simmery, Summery Day," and a reading, "The Story of Drama" was given by Diane Wolfe.

Lorretta Schneider gave a valedictory address.

Diplomas were presented by Mr. Sebring.

Building Principal James L. Butz presided at the graduation. He was assisted by Miss Gladys E. George and Miss Carrie L. Shupp.

Malik Agrees To Give Talk On 'Price Of Peace'

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Russia's Jacob A. Malik agreed yesterday to speak over the United Nations radio June 23 on the "price of peace."

This will be just two days before the anniversary of the beginning of the Korean conflict.

Malik was invited along with other leading delegates to speak on the "price of peace" series. U.N. observers were surprised by his acceptance in view that the Russions have confined their statements to U.N. meeting halls, except on three occasions when Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky held news conferences.

Ten U.N. members already have spoken on the peace series.

Mann Held For Court

Dr. Jack Mann, 30-year-old veterinarian from Pompton Lakes, N. J., state of Florida, and more recently from Delaware Water Gap, was still held at Monroe county jail late yesterday in default of $300 bail.

Dr. Mann, charged with attempting to defraud an innkeeper, was first committed last Tuesday after a warrant was sworn out for his arrest by Cass A. Hassinger, operator of the Beaver House at Arlington Heights.

The defendant was ordered held for September term of county court at a hearing conducted before Justice of the Peace Marshall H. Neyhart, of East Stroudsburg, on Friday.

The Dartmouth College Library has acquired an important collection of letters and manuscripts of Daniel Webster. Another outstanding addition to the Library is a Stephen Crane collection, donated by George Matthew Adams, New York bibliophile.

Class Night Staged At Pocono High

Tannersville — Pocono Township High school seniors last night staged an advance commencement. But since it was their class night program, the diplomas and the characters were strictly fictional.

The skit, "Graduatin' at Gooseville" was written by May Brown, directed by Mrs. Marguerite M. Walton and Carmen C. Cavuto, and produced—with appropriate changes—by the Pocono seniors.

Members of the fictitious Gooseville class were Arthur Youngken, who played the part of Begonia Apple; Joan Riley, Gladiola Turnip; Caryl Nidlund, Daffodil Radish; Betty Werkheiser, Sweet Peas; Avon Doll, Gardenia Beet; Eleanor Romanski, Nasturtium Carrot.

Members of the "faculty" were Lillian Mader, who played Miss Petunia Rhubarb, the school principal; Wilmer Metzgar, Mr. Bell Chimes, the music teacher; Marjorie Cron, Miss Ione Shakespeare, the public speaking teacher; George Parker, Mr. Chrona Ology, history teacher; Phyllis Keltz, Miss Maggie Zeen, literature teacher.

Harriet Learn portrayed "Geranium," the pianist, and Robert Kresge the school janitor.

Squirrel Lovers Have Last Word

Tallahassee, Fla. (AP) — Orders went out yesterday to rid the state capital grounds of squirrels. Poison was put out.

Apparently, however, squirrel lovers had not been consulted. Their objections came fast, and as quickly the orders were rescinded.

Secretary of State T. A. Gray, capitol custodian, said:

The squirrels "are damaging the shrubbery and trees, but it's all right. They can have free run of the grounds."

Chisox Sweep Pair FromCrimsonHose

Chicago, (AP) — The phenomenal Chicago White Sox last night moved three and one half games ahead in the American League race with Saul Rogovin hurling a 2-0 victory over Boston after Billy Pierce beat the Red Sox, 6-5 for his fifth straight victory before a twilight-night twin bill crowd of 42,718, Comiskey Park's biggest of the season.

White Sox Complete Another Trade

Chicago (AP)— Chicago's White Sox management keeps fixing it so you can't tell the players without a scoreboard—today's scoreboard.

Baseball's swappingest club made a complex three-club trade yesterday and came up with just what was needed.

The league leading White Sox got Don Lenhardt, versatile, long-hitting outfielder from the St. Louis Browns. Third baseman "Hank" Majeski went back to the Philadelphia Athletics on the deal. And the A's infielder, Kermit Wahl, became a socker only long enough to be signed over to the Browns.

Outfielder Paul Lehner and an unannounced sum of cash went with Wahl to St. Louis in exchange for Lenhardt.

"We didn't out-trade anyone," general manager Frank Lane said. "We just got the man we wanted. We're happy, and I'm sure the other clubs are."

Lenhardt hit .273 last year. He scored 81 runs, 22 of them homers. He's hefty, measures six feet three inches, and moves fast.

"We didn't have anyone to cover first base in the event anything happened to Eddie Robinson," Lane said. "Lenhardt is good at first. He can play third, too, and he's a fine fielder.

"Then, too, we've been short of right handed hitters. Lenhardt bats right handed. And he's a long-ball hitter. There's a lot of value in that ability."

Lane said he thinks the fast and furious negotiating for new blood has had something to do with the White Sox ascendancy this year to their present two-game lead in the American league standings. The Sox finished in sixth place last season.

"Every trade has been made with a view to building a consistently winning ball club," he said.

There's only a handful of old timers on the Chicago roster — Floyd Baker, Randy Gumpert, Howie Judson, Marv Rotblatt and Jim Busby.

Some of the deals involved the shifting of several players to salt down a specialist in a White Sox position. Take the deal that brought Robinson to first base in the Comiskey brotherhood, for instance.

With Robinson from Washington on Memorial Day, 1950, came Ray Scarborough and Al Kogar, both of whom have since left in subsequent trades. And in that swap, the Senators got Cass Michales, Bob Kuzava and veteran outfielder John Ostrowski.

IAM Moves Into Number One Position

IAM moved into first place in the Monroe County Softball league last night, with a 4-2 victory over the Eagles in a game played on the East Stroudsburg Junior High school field. The contest was halted after six innings of play by rain.

The IAM contingent was at ba when the rains came and had scored three more tallies in the seventh, but the contest reverted to the sixth frame, with IAM winning by a margin of two runs.

Pitchers

Dick Smoke hurled the two-hit victory for IAM, while "Hank" Goldy suffered the loss for the Eagles.

The second half of last night's schedule found Union Printers defeating Kulp's Foundry, 13-7, at the East Stroudsburg Playground. Bill Weber was the winning pitcher while Bob Heid was charged with the loss.

Reds Run Wild To Nip Braves

Boston (AP) — Held in check on five hits through the first seven innings the Cincinnati Reds broke loose for a 10-7 triumph over the Boston Braves yesterday as they scored seven times in the ninth.

A Ladies Day crowd of only 2,954 saw Connie Ryan, a former Tribesman, blast what appeared to be a harmless three run homer in the eighth.

Run Wild

Dick Donovan replaced him and walked in the fourth Cinci run of the game and the Reds were off. Sid Schact replaced Donovan and Grady Hatton then doubled home the tying runs.

Three more Cincinnati runs clattered across the plate before George Estock could get the side out.

Detroit Rallies In Ninth To Take Measure Of Senators, 6-5

By Harry Stapler

Detroit, (AP)—Johnny Groth punched a single to right field with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning to grab a 6 to 5 win for the Detroit Tigers over the Washington Senators yesterday.

The Tigers, trailing 5 to 4 going into the ninth, tied it up on George Kell's single that scored Joe Ginsberg from second. Hal Newhouser, who gave up 11 hits, won his fifth game against four losses.

Relief Pitcher Sandalio Consuegra, the victim of the uprising, lost his fourth game against three wins.

Only 2,235 paid fans, second smallest Detroit crowd this year, saw the Tigers hand the Senators their thirteenth loss in the last 15 games. The game was played in chilly, 58-degree weather.

Tie Score

Ginsberg, pinchhitting for Newhouser in the ninth, walked and moved to second on Johnny Lipon's sacrifice bunt. With two out, Kell singled to left to tie the score.

Consuegra then walked Vic Wertz and Pat Mullin to load the bases. Groth's game-winning hit was a lazy fly that fell safely into short right field.

Detroit scored four runs in the first inning off Starter "Hank" Wyse who allowed the first eight batters to reach base. Dick Kryhoskie's single drove in two of the first-inning runs.

The Senators scored two runs in the first and three in the second with Mickey Vernon and Sam Mele driving in four of the runs.

Rain Halts Action In Little League

Rain halted last night's action in the Stroudsburg Little League at the end of four innings, with Stroudsburg Security Trust and Penn-Stroud Hotel tied at 3-3. The game was declared no contest and will be replayed on Friday, on the same field.

"Super" Phillips, currently the talk of the league, was on the mound for the Security Trust team.

Schedule

Rained out games must be made up the same week as scheduled if at all possible.

Tonight's schedule calls for People's Coal Co. to meet the First Stroudsburg National Bank, at the Stroudsburg Playground, at 6:30.

Rain Halts Contest

Brooklyn (AP) — A cloudburst in the third inning last night spoiled the return of Clarence Podbielan, Brooklyn Dodger right hander, recently recalled from Montreal.

Robinson Paces Pack In Hit Parade

New York (AP) — Jackie Robinson has taken over the National League batting lead with a .403 average while his Brooklyn teammate Cal Abrams skidded 118 points from first to seventh in a horrible slump.

Abrams, leading at .451 a week ago, hit safely only twice in 31 at bats during the week. His average, including Sunday's doubleheader, is .333.

Robinson slipped nine points but moved from second to first.

Stan Musial, the defending champ, was the big man of the week with 12 hits in 25 tips, moving from seventh to second at .370. "The man" from St. Louis added 23 points to his average.

Race

With about a fourth of the season gone, it now shapes up as a two-man race between Robinson and Musial.

"Pee Wee" Reese of Brooklyn is third at .357 or 13 points behind Musial. Then comes Richie Ashburn of the Phils, who boosted himself nine points to .251. Bob Elliott of Boston is a strong fifth at .350 although he dropped off 23 points.

Frank Baumholtz, of Chicago, a newcomer in the top ten, is sixth at .338, followed in order by Abrams, .333, Al Dark of New York, .331, "Red" Schoendienst of St. Louis, .330 and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn, .327.

The Brooklyn Bombers dominate the slugging departments too. Gil Hodges now has 17 homers and "Duke" Snider leads in runs batted in and runs scored with 40 of each. Robinson moved into a tie with Boston's Sam Jethroe at seven stolen bases. To make it almost unanimous, the Dodgers have the top pitcher in Preacher Roe with his 7-0 record.

Other scattered departments boast non-Dodgers leaders. Ashburn has most hits, 66, Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati 13 doubles, Musial five triples and Boston's Warren Spahn most strikeouts, 49.

East Bangor To Meet West Bangor

Bangor — One contest is on tap for the Blue Mountain league tonight, featuring East Bangor and West Bangor at Memorial Park. The contest is scheduled to get underway at 6:15.

Positions

East Bangor is currently tied for first place with Roseto A.A., each team sporting a record of six victories and a single loss.

West Bangor is in fourth place with four victories and three setbacks.

Boxing Card Postponed

Newark, N. J., (AP) — The boxing card at Meadowbrook Bowl was rained out last night and will be held tonight. Tex Gonzales of East Orange and Joey Klein of New York meet in the feature six round welterweight bout.

All Games To Be Played In Eastburg

Second half action in the Monroe County Softball League got underway last night, with games at the East Stroudsburg Playground and Junior High school fields. All games during this round will begin at 6:15 p.m.

Eagles held the upper hand at the end of the first half, but IAM moved into the number one spot at the end of last night's action by gaining a verdict over the same Eagles, at the Junior High field.

Proximity Retired

Goshen, N.Y. (AP) — Proximity, the great queen of the trotters, was retired yesterday one year after becoming the greatest money-winning harness horse in history.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Reports of present and former players who have made their mark in baseball in Monroe county are for the most part good this morning, which is great news to all followers of the diamond sport in this area. Thes first on the agenda is Harry Warner, Reeders product, who owned an 11-game hitting streak for Evansville, Ind., of the Three I league, going into the Memorial Day doubleheader. The latest reports indicate that Warner is sporting a batting average of .305.

Warner is located fifth in the batting order and has gained almost a hundred points in his average in slightly more than a month. The big first sacker is now hitting the ball like we know he can. However, even more noteworthy is the fact that the local product is having a great year around the bag, flagging everything that comes his direction.

Ray Steele, Bushkill resident and a student at East Stroudsburg High school, is rated better than Curt Simmons at a similar age by Sam Balliet, Coplay American Legion coach who started Simmons on the road to stardom. Balliet apparently knows what he is talking about as the lanky Steele shut out Coopersburg on two hits on Sunday. Steele is definitely a major league prospect if nothing happens to the boy before he obtains a couple more years of experience.

Major league scouts will beat a path to Steele's door next year this time, when his class graduates from East Stroudsburg High school. Officially ivory hunters aren't allowed to approach a boy before he or his class completes 12 years of school, or its equivalent. The scouts are watching Steele's every move at the present time, but next year this time they will begin their contract talks for keeps, with no holds barred.

Stan Pawloski, third baseman for the Stroudsburg Poconos, is picking up a reputation as a "groaner" in the Three I league. Pawloski is currently holding down third base and batting fourth for Grand Rapids and has opposed Warner on several occasions. Stan Palys, pitcher with the Carbondale Pioneer Blues last year, is currently hurling and winning for Terre Haute, also of the Three I league, as is Stan Mrozinski, who pitched for Carbondale in 1949. Mrozinski is from White Haven.

Alden "Red" Fetherman, playing the outfield for Coplay American Legion on Sunday, accounted for one hit. Fetherman is a basketball, football and baseball star at Stroudsburg High. The righthander divides his time between the outfield and pitching mound. Betty Sebring, Swiftwater, just found out that all "southpaw" pitchers don't come from south of the Mason-Dixon Line—and her brother is one of the top baseball stars to ever come out of Pocono High.

Bob Staph, Newfoundland correspondent for The Daily Record, dropped this column two bits of verse yesterday, in which I think everyone would be interested. However, my fine friend from the Greene-Dreher area fails to point out that the Yankees are now faltering and falling further off the pace, having dropped seven of their last eight outings, with the Red Sox and Cleveland doing the damage. But here goes with the verse—

"We hope you've noticed, my dear friend,
The happenings of late;
The fizzling Phils you picked to win.
Now trail the Bums by eight."
(as of last Thursday)

"That guy Garver, he's the tops,
'Specially when he's washing Sox;
The Crimson Hose, that's who we mean,
That Pullmanitis-suffering team."

Mr. Staph I will have to bow to your poetic venture, but they don't pay off the World Series checks until October, and until the first of that month this hopeful fan will keep limping along with all fingers and toes crossed, hoping that some day I too will have my innings. When such Yankee followers as Clint and Charley Besecker find time to stop laughing and look at the story below, I believe that they too will find the situation anything but favorable at this time.

Frank "Hank" Pozda, basketball star at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College for the past four years, is attending summer school on Normal Hill, despite the fact that he completed his regular course with last week's graduation ceremonies. Pozda will probably join the Scranton Miners, of the American Basketball league, next season.

Black Cat, Rabbits' Feet Help Indians Win

Cleveland, (AP)—Clevelands Indians, with an assist from a black cat and 15,000 rabbits feet, finally broke through the Ed Lopat jinx last night to beat the New York Yankees 8-2 for their ninth straight victory.

Lopat, who had won 30 out of 36 games against the Tribe and the last 11 in a row, was replaced by Tommy Byrne at the start of the third after allowing six runs and giving up seven hits.

Fifth Victory

Mike Garcia winning his fifth victory against three losses, allowed two hits, but shut out the Yankees after their two-run first inning.

The rabbit's feet were given to the first 15,000 of the 20,217 fans who entered the stadium last night. The Tribe management ordered the good-luck charms from New York—of all places—after a fan suggested it in a newspaper "Beat Lopat Ideas" contest.

Another fan tried to break Lopat's hoodoo by running out to him with a black cat as the hurler tossed warmup pitches in the last of the first inning.

Fain Rates As Top American League Batter

Chicago (AP) — The New York Yankees, owners of a fearful reputation with the bat, have faded out of the American league's list of hitting leaders.

Larry Doby of Cleveland put together a .317 average through games of Sunday and took over tenth place among the batting leaders from Gerry Coleman, who held down that position a week ago. It was the first time since April 29 that the Yanks were unrepresented.

Ferris Fain of Philadelphia continued in the number one spot with a .366 but was being pressed by Nelly Fox of the league leading Chicago White Sox. Fox had .362 and was followed in third place by a teammate, Orestes Minoso, with .359.

Select Groups

Others in the select circle were Verne Stephens, Boston, .375; Eddie Robinson, Chicago, .345; Dom DiMaggio, Boston, .344; Jim Busby, Chicago, .333; and Ray Coleman of St. Louis and Gil Coan of Washington, tied for ninth place with .331.

In the special departments, Minoso and Boston's Ted Williams occupied two firsts apiece. Minoso had the most runs, 39, and the most triples, 7. Williams had the most homers, 11, and the most runs batted in, 42.

Dom DiMaggio had the most hits, 63; Fain the most doubles, 15, and Busby the most stolen bases, 10.

Musial Leads Cards To Win

New York, (AP)—Stan Musial bashed two homers and boosted his batting average to .380 yesterday while St. Louis checked New York's second-place challenge with a 7-2 win behind rookie Joe Presko.

Solid Support

Presko had solid support from Musial and Billy Johnson who banged four hits, including a triple. The 22-year-old righthander lost his shutout bid in the seventh.

Golf Tournament At Shawnee

New Jersey Women To Match Strokes

Shawnee-on-Delaware — A field of 55 or 60 starters is expected to tee off here this afternoon in the Women's New Jersey Golf Association Tournament, an affair that will cover 36 holes and will come to an end tomorrow. The large turnout will be shooting for the Neilson Spring Tournament trophy, awarded to the golfer with the lowest net score at the end of 36 holes.

There will also be two other prizes for the top three low net and gross scores at the tournament's end, as well as similar prizes for each day of action.

Top Golfers

Some of the top women golfers from New Jersey will tour the local 18-hole layout this afternoon and tomorrow morning, with the outcome to be judged on medal play.

Among the best known golfers in the field will be Helen Hochengos, Mrs. A. J. Bryan, Peg Dorment, Charlotte Decoser and Katherine Parks.

This afternoon's action will take place at anytime those taking part wish to play, but a starting time will be assigned for the final round tomorrow morning.

Indianapolis Hero Satisfactory

Reading (AP) — Lee Wallard, who on Memorial Day smilingly accepted all the glory that goes with winning the big Indianapolis 500 mile race, was swathed in bandages yesterday in Reading Hospital.

Wallard, competing in his first event since the 500, suffered first and second degree burns and shock Sunday when his car caught fire in the stretch of a 15 mile dirt track race at the Reading Fairgrounds.

Two Weeks

Physicians said the 40-year-old Altamont, N. Y., driver probably would be in the hospital two weeks. His condition was reported as "satisfactory."

Northampton American Legion Baseball Loop Announces Schedule For 1951 Campaign

Roseto — Ten games have been listed for the six clubs in the northern division of the Northampton County American Legion Baseball League, it was announced last night by Joe Martocci, manager of the Martocci-Capobianco Post team, of this locality.

Each of the games will be played on as many different dates and each club will meet the opposition on an equal number of occasions.

Opening Date

The American Legion season is scheduled to begin on Thursday, June 14 and continue through Friday, July 20.

In addition to the Roseto entry, teams from Pen Argyl, Nazareth, Bath, Wind Gap and Wilson Borough will take part in the flag race during the next two months.

Roseto opens the campaign on Friday, June 15, when the Martoccimen play host to Wind Gap, at Roseto Park.

The clubs alternate their home and away games, with Roseto finishing the campaign at Nazareth.

Pirates Pile Up Score While Beating Phillies

Philadelphia, (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates broke an eight game losing streak yesterday by trouncing the Philadelphia Phillies, 12-4. The Pirate victory also halted a four-game Phils winning skein.

Gus Bell paced the 17-hit Pirate attack against four Phillies pitchers with a single, double, triple and home run. Bell drove in four runs and scored two himself. Wally Westlake socked his fourteenth homer in the third. Granny Hamner and Richie Ashburn homered for the Phils.

Hit Hard

The Pirates drove starter Russ Meyer to cover in quick order, tagging him for seven hits and five runs in two and a third innings.

Ralph Kiner's outfield fly scored "Hank" Schenz with the first Pittsburgh run and Bell's triple scored "Rocky" Nelson in the first inning.

Bell's fifth home run of the season was hit off reliefer Milo Candini in the fifth.

The Pirates added five more in the eighth inning off Bob Miller. Nelson drove home three runs with a bases-clearing triple.

The Phils drove starter Bob Friend to cover with a seventh inning rally, scoring three runs.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

TUESDAY, JUNE 5, 1951

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Fresh bright outlook. Tune yourself for big effort. First analyze, make plans, then keep them. Forget personal desires, concentrate on what you think is tops. You'll win.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Influences fine for wise endeavor. Ask those who know if in doubt. Don't mind if others get some of your credit, there is enough to go around and you will increase your prestige.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—If you don't go off balance or take too much for granted you can put in fine day's work. Check angles, don't risk it to chance. Heart interests need delicate handling by both sides.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—No time to go overboard spending, making promises that would be costly if not completed. Know your capacity, what is good for you, hold conscientiously to your part of the bargain.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Generous rays to assist you energetic, hard workers on honest side of ledger. Direct your activities that you may have some time to relax, spend enjoyable period with friends.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—The green light in business and professional matters in general. Real estate, investments well checked, needed building, merchandizing foods, useful salables among top favored.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—The keen, if gracious, will put over the big deals successfully today. Aspects favor sharp, clever management, science, construction work, traveling. Social work highly rated.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—[illegible]priate for new ideas well planned, duly sanctioned good investments, some venturesome deals. Keep in touch with current affairs, but don't try everything alone. Pray for guidance.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Some mixed conditions call for thoughtful, analytical action. Don't be skeptical, just be on guard sensibly. Be an interested part of your civic and state government.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Disregard little discrepancies of others, idle talk, fear, rumors. Remain calm, make sure of motives before acting. Use God-given gifts rightly, be kind to those less fortunate.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Couple your best qualities with others' and you will experience strong gains, will make fewer mistakes. Watch undercurrents from unexpected sources. Be awake to deals around you.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Smooth, systematic method will bring good returns under fairly benefic aspects. Overcome obstacles by consistency, sturdy action. Avoid useless legal or personal differences.

YOU BORN TODAY are of the Sign Gemini, ruled by Mercury. Intellectual, wide-awake type. But you must continue with education and hold to your religion; keep dairies in line. You are versatile, can handle most any work or profession when you become really interested. Gemini native's biggest problem is himself. When you recognize your faults and curb them you can accomplish great things. Use your best traits and mental faculties rightly and reach top of success ladder. Be honorable always. Birthdate: Adam Smith, noted economist.

Real Estate Boards Fight Rent Controls

Washington (AP)—Federal rent controls came in for sharp attack and defense yesterday in the battle over President Truman's request for a two-year extension of government control powers generally.

Calvin K. Snyder, speaking for the National Association of Real Estate Boards, told the Senate Banking committee that the government should keep hands off rents.

But in Akron, O., Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods said he is fighting for a stronger rent control law because every American family is vitally affected.

"Rent is a major item in the family budget," Woods said in a talk before the Akron Real Estate board. "There can be no stabilization of the cost of living and hence no overall stabilization unless rents are stabilized."

On Capitol Hill, Snyder argued that state and local authorities—not the Federal government — should handle rent questions, and he told senators:

"We can expect more justice close to home than we can at the hands of far away political manipulators."

In other developments:

First. President Walter P. Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers told the Senate committee that labor is willing to accept wage stabilization only if it is geared to "a thoroughgoing program of equality of sacrifice."

Second. Stanley H. Huttenberg, CIO director of education and research, told the Senate committee that the defense production act, as now written, has failed to serve as a weapon against inflation.

"Its loopholes must be plugged," Ruttenberg said. "Its inadequacies must be replaced with authority for firm action."

Third. Chairman George W. Taylor of the Wage Stabilization board urged the Senate committee to extend the authority for wage and price controls as an aid to the nation's mobilization program.

Big Giraffe To Accompany Circus Here

For the first time in many years, a large giraffe will be a visitor in the twin boroughs on Thursday of next week. The big fellow is in the menagerie of King Brothers Three-Ring Circus, which will give two performances on Thursday, June 14 at the old Stroud Ball park, Day St., East Stroudsburg.

The circus makes the claim that this is the largest giraffe in captivity.

King Brothers are coming here under the auspices of the local Lions club and the club stands to provide by a commission up to 50 per cent on all sales made in advance of circus day. On sales made at the circus ticket wagon, reserved seats etc., the club receives a smaller commission.

The famous Christianis are part of the circus ensemble, their act including the famous Lucio, one of the greatest of bareback comedians.

Heat Puts Crimp In Commencement

Athens, Ga., (AP) — Twelve persons fainted and some 200 others were forced to leave Sanford stadium and seek shade during graduation exercises for 1,200 students at the University of Georgia yesterday.

A physician said his thermometer registered 110 degrees inside the stadium though the official temperature was only 89.

City health personnel and an ambulance driver circulated through the stands with smelling salts to revive those who felt faint.

Shawnee

Mrs. Reginald D. Smith spent Saturday night in New York visiting Mrs. Ralph Sleicher, formerly of Shawnee.

Binniekill lodge, owned by Tommy Cullen, opened for the season on Memorial day.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Flather and daughter, Linda, spent Saturday night at the Shawnee inn en route from St. Augustine, Fla. to Winter Harbor, Maine, where they will open the Grindstone inn, which Mr. Flather recently purchased on June 25 for the summer season.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bixler Jr. and baby moved on Sunday from Stroudsburg to their home at Hialeah Park.

Lenox Reid returned home on Friday night after attending the auto races at the Indianapolis Speedway on Decoration Day.

Mrs. Richard Lee celebrated her birthday on Monday, which was also Mrs. John Heller's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald D. Smith are celebrating their thirty-third wedding anniversary today.

Mr. and Mrs. William U. Roulette drove to New York on Friday to attend the wedding and reception the next day of the daughter of the latter's cousin, Mrs. Jean Lebailly.

Court Upholds NLRB Ban On Picketing

Washington (AP) —The Supreme court held yesterday the Taft-Hartley act's ban on secondary boycotts forbids picketing aimed at forcing a general contractor to drop a subcontractor who employs non-union workers.

The 6-3 ruling upheld a National Labor board contention that such picketing, specifically affecting the building of a large structure in Denver, amounted to a secondary boycott.

A secondary boycott is an effort by a union to win a labor dispute by trying to force a disinterested party not to do business with the employer directly involved in the dispute.

In a similar case, the court ruled that the Taft-Hartley law also bans union picketing and work stoppages on small house repair and wiring jobs.

Another 6-3 decision however, upheld picketing at a Louisiana rice mill. The mill pickets tried to induce employes of a neutral firm not to cross a picket line. In this case, the court said the Taft-Hartley law was not violated because there was no "concerted" activity by pickets within the meaning of the act.

King Cancels Appointments; Plans Full Rest

London, (AP) — King George VI, suffering from a lung inflammation, has cancelled all public engagements for at least four weeks.

An announcement from Buckingham palace last night said the King had been advised to take a complete rest by his doctors and had "reluctantly" agreed.

Princess Elizabeth, heiress to the throne, will take over most of the King's engagements.

The King, 55, frequently has been ill in recent years. Last night's announcement said "the catarrhal inflammation in the King's lung has not entirely disappeared, though His Majesty's general condition has improved."

The Sino-Japanese war was in 1894 and 1895.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 6. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Additional Girls Enter Competition

Four more princesses have entered the contest for Laurel Blossom Time coronation ball at Shawnee inn June 20—a brilliant affair complete with fashion show and an outstanding screen, stage, radio and TV personality as the 1951 Laurel Blossom Queen.

Details of the fashion show, completely professional with latest American and foreign fashions, were virtually settled yesterday.

Opening today, Laurel Blossom Time will run to June 25. The coronation ball at $5 per person will also feature Tommy Tucker's band of the year for dancing.

This year's ball is part of a plan to create a permanent Laurel Blossom Time fund. Committee directing the affair said yesterday ticket sales are starting to more rapidly. Joe Vogt, Barrett township, purchased a block of six tickets.

The committee said people will be buying more than just a ticket to a brilliantly color spectacle and ball. They will be investing in the future of the Pocono region.

Mr. Vogt said yesterday, when he purchased tickets, that he would like to help promote the affair by distributing posters since Laurel Time publicity — based on past performance — is the best medium for influencing travel and vacation-wise people to the Pocono Mountains region.

Laurel Blossom Time observances ended in 1936. Prior to that for several years this region held festivals outdoing the Shenandoah Valley Apple Blossom festivals in Virginia and many others.

Publicity reaped from those affairs reached to the National Geographic Magazine, one of the most conservative but widely read and quoted authorities in magazine class in the world.

Judge Chester H. Rhodes, president of Pennsylvania's Superior court, then a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature, had the laurel blossom adopted as the State flower.

Revival of these tremendous events, but on a more modern scale, is the basic aim of this year's affair. Plan is to build up a fund sufficient to get next year's observance going early and on an extravaganza scale which will attract many thousands of persons and provide basis for a tremendous amount of free publicity for this region.

Princess contestants who entered snapshots yesterday for display in the E.A. Bell window and later judging for princess rolls with high school princesses of the Poconos region are:

Catherine Laccaro, office girl at Patterson-Kelley. She's 18, five feet five, 123 pounds, brunette, brown eyes.

Ellin Anne Coleman, office girl Patterson-Kelley Co., 18, five feet five, 123 pounds, brunette, brown eyes.

Mary O'Donnell, Hughes Printing Co., who resides at 117 Centre St., East Stroudsburg, was Miss Stardust representing Pennsylvania in 1950. Miss O'Donnell has blue eyes, light brown hair and is 19.

Nina Weber, 20, who just completed her Junior year at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Miss Weber now works at Shawnee inn. She has light brown hair, hazel eyes and is five feet six inches tall.

Treasury Position

Washington, (AP) — The position of the Treasury May 31: Net budget receipts $113,196,036.23; budget expenditures $780,747,906.14; cash balance $5,782,277,661.57; total debt $255,122,431,299.06; increase over previous day $123,827,905.92.
